HUMBERT TRIAL.

Crawford Brothers Seem to Have Actually Existed, Although no Trace is Found of Any Fortune.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PARIS, Aug. 11.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Humbert trial was resumed today. M. Parmentier, the lawyer who used to represent the Crawford Bros. in their suits, was examined, and said that Henry Crawford engaged him in October, 1895, as his lawyer. Henry told him that one of his relatives died at Nice, leaving the bulk of his fortune to Mme. Humbert, but a second will was discovered changing the disposition of the inheritance. M. Parmentier gave details of the complicated litigation, maintaining his belief that the Crawford Bros. actually existed. Mme. Therese frequently interrupted, denying certain of M. Parmentier's statements.

OTHER TESTIMONY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, Aug. 11.—Several witnesses were called who testified that they had seen the Crawfords. Le Comte, a bailiff, testified that he had served papers upon the two brothers, Henry and Robert, saying that they did not resemble Romain and Emil Daurignac, Mme. Humbert's brothers. He stoutly resisted the view of the court that members of the Humbert family had impersonated the Crawfords.

CIRCUS MAN DEAD.

DETROIT, Aug. 11.—Frank Tilly of Rising Sun, Ind., one of the employés of Wallace Bros.' circus, who was brought here to Harper Hospital after the accident at Durand, last Friday, died today. This is the twenty-fifth death caused by the wreck.

HORRIBLE CALAMITY.

Eighty-four Dead at Paris.

Chief Station-Master Says He Warned Engineer, but He Would not Stop.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PARIS, August 11. By Atlantic Cable.—Eighty-four bodies have been recovered and the death list will probably exceed one hundred in the underground railway disaster which occurred here last night.

PARIS, Aug. 11.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Eugene Ollivier, one of the few survivors, described the terrible panic which occurred in the darkness. The people, he says, rushed and fought with one another, madly seeking to get away. He was sick, but, nerved to desperation by the situation, managed to get through the struggling mass. As he went, he passed over the bodies of those who had fallen exhausted, but it was impossible to render them aid.

The names and occupations of the victims give pathetic evidence of their humble condition. The names are characteristic of the French working classes, and the occupations are given as painter, mason, plumber, tailor, seamstress, locksmith, etc. Outside of the workmen, about every third name is that of a woman.

Pitiful scenes were enacted at the morgue throughout the day as the relatives gathered seeking to identify the bodies, which were ranged in long lines on white marble slabs. The clothing of many of the victims is torn, showing the fierceness of the struggle.

Another survivor named Jules Bouat describes the struggle during the panic in the tunnel as terrible. Women were screaming "Save me, save me!" An old man fell suffocated at his feet. The women screamed until they fell asphyxiated.

M. Bienvenue, the chief engineer of the Metropolitan Railroad, says that from the technical view, every precaution to avoid danger had been taken. The chief misfortune was that the employés did not organize assistance with sufficient rapidity to permit of the passengers being quickly drawn out. A large force of mounted guards is at the mouth of the tunnel.

SCENES AT THE TUNNEL.

VOLUNTEERS HALF SUFFOCATED

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PARIS, Aug. 11.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Metropolitan Electric Railway disaster assumed the proportions of an awful catastrophe during the early hours today, when more than fourscore bodies of the burned and suffocated victims were removed from the subterranean passage. The scenes at the mouth of the tunnel where the victims were brought forth were of the most heart-rending description—crowds of weeping men, women and children, struggling forward in an effort to recognize their missing relatives and friends. Most of the victims are from the middle and working classes, as the trains were carrying them home from their work. Although the accident occurred at 8 o'clock last evening, the officials and firemen were unable to descend into the tunnel this morning, owing to the blinding clouds of smoke from the burning train. Frequent attempts were made by heroic volunteers, whom it was necessary to rescue half-suffocated and carry away to the hospital.

At 10 o'clock, Sergt. Ahrens, wearing a respirator, succeeed in making the descent. He remained seven minutes, and brought the first information, to the effect that corpses were strewn all about the roadway in the tunnel. Then he collapsed, and was taken to the hospital. Twenty minutes later firemen forced their way down through the tunnel staion at Menilmontant and returned soon after with seven bodies—three men, two young boys and two young women. These persons had been asphyxiated, as their positions showed they had been groping their way through the smoke that filled the tunnel, seeking a way to escape, when they were overcome.

The work of bringing up bodies went on steadily after that, under the personal direction of Prefect of Police Lepine, who summoned a large reserve force to hold back the surging crowd, including the relatives of the victims. Long lines of ambulances were brought into requisition, and the bodies were carried to the morgue and the near-by military barracks.

After daylight the crowds at the entrance of the tunnel increased to enormous proportions, obliging the police to form a solid cordon through which were admitted only those seeking to identify their relatives among the victims. The failure of many men, women and children to return home during the night gave many the first news of the catastrophe. Fathers and mothers came hurrying to the mouth of the tunnel to try and find the absent ones.

At the second descent, the firemen found a great number of bodies massed near the ticket office of the station, where many had evidently been overcome while securing their tickets. They had been surprised by the columns of smoke and had sought to run back up the stone stairway leading to the street. A struggle had ensued and some escaped, but the others had been trampled on. One woman had fled within the ticket office, where her body was found. The ticket seller herself succeeded in escaping.

At the station of Les Couronnes, the same scenes of death and despair had been enacted. The accident occurred midway between the stations of Menilmontant and Les Couronnes, so that the work of salvage proceeded from both ends of the tunnel. In addition to the blinding smoke, the tunnel belched forth a terrific heat, as one of the trains was slowly burning within. The firemen succeded in throwing several streams of water in the direction of the wreck, while some of the firemen and military engineers at great hazard, pushed on inside the tunnel. They brought out two bodies and soon afterward three more. The latter were laborers, who had almost succeeded in reaching the exit when they were overcome and suffocated.

Further on, the firemen stumbled upon a terrible mass of bodies. These were the passengers of the burned train. They had leaped from the coaches when the fire broke out, and, groping through the suffocating clouds of smoke sought the exit at Les Couronnes station. But the tunnel makes a sharp turn near the scene of the disaster, and at the angle the entire mass of humanity apparently became tightly wedged. The panic which took place at this point, within the dark subterranean passage must have been terrible.

The corpses from this death angle soon swelled the list, until at 6:50 a.m., Prefect Lépine placed the number of victims at 45 already recovered, while the steady file of firemen bringing up bodies continued. M. Lepine summoned a large force of doctors and municipal officials, who superintended the moving of the bodies. The number of corpses brought up from the angle where the mass was wedged in was so large that four, and eight bodies were placed in each ambulance. Many of the victims had handkerchiefs stuffed in their mouths, they having evidently tried to keep out the asphyxiating smoke. The faces of the dead were red and congested. "Some women held their children tightly in their arms.

As the firemen brought out the bodies agonizing cries went up from women and children who recognized their dead husbands and fathers. The clothing of the victims indicated that they were almost entirely second-class passengers.

At about 7 a.m., the bodies of ten women were brought out in a bunch. The bodies of two little girls and three infants were found with them, clinging to their mothers.

Many poor people claimed the bodies of their children, and relatives tried to take them home, but the police gently but firmly insisted on the bodies being taken to the morgue and barracks in order that the magnitude of the catastrophe might be determined. At the Hotel de Ville the president of the Municipal Council announced that the City of Paris would bear the entire expense of the funerals of the victims.

By 8:30 o'clock a.m. the total of the bodies lying at the morgue had reached forty, and the total at the barracks of the municipal guards 44, making 84 altogether. At 9 o'clock the number of bodies was unofficially estimated at above one hundred.

VERSIONS OF THE DISASTER.

There are several versions of the disaster, but the main ones are as follows:

The train whichcaused the accident came from Porte Dauphine, at the entrance to the Bois de Boulogne, in the western part of Paris. After circling the northern quarter of the city, where numbers of workmen were picked up, the train reached the neighborhood of the cemetery of Pere la Chaise, where the electrical motor failed to act properly. The train then waited at the station of Les Couronnes until the arrival of a second train, which pushed the crippled train forward, making a total of sixteen coaches. After proceeding about 200 yards toward Menilmontant station, the damaged motor set fire to the engine of the first train. The fire burned fiercely. Simultaneously the electric lights on the train went out, leaving the passengers in darkness, except for the light of the burning engine, far ahead. This impeded the progress of the train toward Menilmontant. The terror-stricken passengers got out and tried to grope their way back. The powerful electrical current which continued in the rails is believed to have stunned or killed many. A number of the passengers managed to reach Les Couronnes station, but the main body of the passengers was overcome by the heat and smoke.

A terrible panic occurred among those behind and the horror of the situation was increased by a third train crashing into the fiery mass and adding another crowd of panic-stricken passengers to those seeking an outlet. The cars continued to burn, until twenty were consumed. The burning debris gave forth a fierce heat, which puffed out of the mouths of the stations of Les Couronnes and Menilmontant. The escape of most of the trainmen was due to their superior knowledge of the subterranean passages. A number of heroic incidents occurred. Several soldiers, firemen and employés of the road nearly lost their lives in seeking to aid the victims.

The catastrophe has caused great excitement throughout the city, even the Humbert trial being forgotten in the widespread feeling of horror and grief. At noon Premier Combes went to the scene of the disaster. M. Hurteaux, Procurator of the Republic, and Judge Jolliot of the Seine tribunal, proceeded to the station of Les Courronnes to open a judicial investigation into the affair.

GRAFTERS IN PERIL.

Wet Blanket Awaits Postal Plungers.

Bristow Has Been Instructed to Push the Inquiry to a Very Speedy Conclusion.

Harrison Barrett Regarded as a Chief Offender, but Offenses are Apparently Outlawed.

Secretary Root Announces Intention to Resign—Will Be Kept Busy in London.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Postoffice Department inquiry is not to be allowed to drag on much longer, now that the principal lines of "graft" have been disclosed and the chief offenders are in the toils. Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General Bristow has been instructed to push the inquiry to as speedy a conclusion as is consistent with the complete rounding up of the guilty and inefficient. Inspectors within the last ten days have been ordered to run down quickly the various branches of investigation upon which they are engaged.

It is probable that within a short time there will be a blanket order of dismissal for several officers who have been under inspection, although there may be no more important indictments. Those in authority are especially interested in investigating the doings of Harrison Barrett, whom there is disposition to hold responsible for most of the irregularities in the law division of the department. It is understood that nothing has been discovered which would bring him within the purview of the law. If any offenses were committed while he was in the office of the Assistant Attorney-General, they would be outlawed, as he resigned several years ago, and there is nothing to implicate him with the irregularities since. In the last few days, Barrett has been put through the closest kind of examinations by Assistant Attorney-General Robb. The result has not been disclosed.

Further inquiry is being made into department methods with a view to general organization. Postmaster-General Payne, who is a business man, has realized from the beginning that the blame for much dishonesty lay with the faulty system, and its inadequate checks and balances, and before Congress meets he will probably prepare a report which will result in consolidating the bureaus.

MACHEN NOT FLEEING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The persistent rumors that August W. Machen, under indictment for alleged offenses in connection with postal contracts, had left or contemplated leaving the jurisdiction of the United States in order to avoid trial were denied tonight by Conrad H. Syme, associate counsel for Machen. Syme said that Machen has left Washington temporarily for the purpose of attending to personal business, and added that on the day of his departure the District Attorney was advised of the fact and Machen's arraignment on the indictments recently found against him was postponed.

Syme declares that Machen will have concluded his business in a week or so, and will come immediately to Washington, and will be ready to stand trial whenever the time is set.

ROOT CONFIRMS IT.

SECRETARY WILL RESIGN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] As wired to The Times last night, Secretary of War Elihu Root will retire from the President's Cabinet during early fall, and will be succeeded probably by William H. Taft of Ohio, now Governor of the Philippines. Secretary Root today confirmed this report, and said in announcing that he would retire, that Gov. Taft is the best man to succeed him.

HAS WORK IN LONDON.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Before Secretary Root shall sail for London to sit with the Alaskan Boundary Commission, he will place his resignation in the hands of the President. It is believed, however, that the resignation will not be acted upon until after Congress shall meet. The appointment of Secretary Root's successor will depend somewhat upon the length of time Secretary Root will be engaged on the Alaskan Boundary Commission.

GENERAL STAFF PLAN SAFE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—It has been known for some time that Secretary Root intended to retire, but he did not wish to leave the department until the General Staff Bill was in operation and other matters pertaining to his office were well under way. While Secretary Root is in London, he will remain in communication with the War Department and matters pertaining to the General Staff and other important matters will be referred to him. If the sittings of the Alaskan Commission extend beyond December 1, it is likely that the secretary's resignation will be accepted and his successor appointed at that time, and if the situation in the War Department becomes such that a Secretary is needed to take charge, one will be appointed earlier. It is believed here that there will be a great deal of delay in the consideration of the Alaskan boundary case, and that the United States Commissioners may be detained in London several months.

Secretary Root's desire to leave public life is based largely on personal grounds. His family do not like the life in Washington, and the Secretary also desires to return to his law practice in New York. The great questions which were pending in the War Department relating mainly to the administration of the islands acquired from Spain and the establishment of a government in Cuba have been accomplished during Secretary Roots administration. The reorganization of the army under the General Staff plan is now under way, and the Secretary feels that he has accomplished the work that he was called on to do when he became Secretary of War.

NEGLECTED THE LEAD.

REPRIMAND OF CARTER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—By order of the President, a letter of reprimand will be sent to Lieut.-Commander Fidello S. Carter, U.S.N., for negligence in navigation in failing to have casts of the lead taken frequently while under way on soundings. Carter was tried by general court-martial on the Asiatic station, last winter, on five charges in connection with the grounding of the United States tug Piscataqua, December 23, last, near Subig Bay, Philippine Islands. The court found him guilty on all charges, and sentenced him to dismissal from the service.

After a careful review of the testimony, Acting Secretary Darling expressed the opinion that Carter was guilty of neglecting navigation, and not guilty of the other four charges. He recommended that he be reprimanded. This recommendation the President adopted.

LYON GLOVE CONTRACT.

TWO MORE WITNESSES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—With the exception of the testimony of two witnesses, it is believed at the War Department that there will be no further investigation of the Lyon glove contract with the War Department. Judge-Advocate-General Davis, in his review of the report of Col. Garlington, Inspector-general, recommends that the testimony of Rev. T. G. Thompson, executor of the estate of William Topp, and of H. T. Patterson, the representative of the Wanamaker firm, who were absent when the inspector was making his investigation, be taken, saying that their "testimony is of importance in connection with the statements made by Timothy and William Sick."

All the papers, including the testimony, have been sent to the Department of Justice.

WEST INDIAN HURRICANE.

DODGES THE WEATHER MAN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The hurricane which yesterday passed over San to Domingo and Martinique probably is approaching the South Cuban coast, with indications of re-curving, but at what angle the Weather Bureau officials are unable to state. A report from Havana at 7 o'clock tonight said that the wind was blowing thirty-six miles an hour, and was from the northwest.

The hurricane probably will continue in its course northward somewhere close to the Faraday Peninsula. Hurricane warnings have been sent to points from Port Eads on the Gulf Coast, around the Florida coast up as far as Jupiter. The storm was central this morning at Kingston, Jamaica.

CABLE LINE IN TROUBLE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The Commercial Cable Company has issued the following notice:

"We are advised that there is no communication with Jamaica. This cuts off Porto Rico and all the West Indian islands south of there."

DEATHS AND DISASTER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The State Department today received a dispatch from Consul Jewett at Fort De France, Martinique, dated yesterday, confirming the press report of the disastrous storm on that island. The dispatch says:

"Terrific cyclone visited entire island midnight Sunday, great damage crops and fruits; many houses in Fort de France unroofed, trees two feet thick uprooted. One killed. Consulate intact. At Trinite, seven killed, many houses destroyed. Smaller towns damaged. New villages Tivoli, Fond La Haye, Fourneols and Reculee destroyed, rendering 5000 survivors of last year's catastrophe again homeless. Reports interior island indefinite. Great discouragement."

CUNARD'S NEW SERVICE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Cunard Steamship Company will inaugurate new service between this port and the Mediterranean, beginning in October. The steamers assigned to this business will be the Carpathia, built for the Liverpool-Boston service, but was transferred to the New York route after one trip, and the Aurania, which used to be one of the crack steamers on the New York-Liverpool route. The steamers will make one trip each month, making two sailings from Boston each month. The ports of call will be Gibraltar, Genoa, Palermo, Trieste, Fiume and possibly Algiers.

Two years ago the Dominion Line started its Boston-Mediterranean service, and the venture proved successful. The Cunard Line will come in direct competition with this line, which is now a part of the international mercantile marine.

Charges Against Miller Likely to Fall—Gompers Makes Bombastic Threat.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Today's meeting of the International Typographical Union was devoted almost entirely to planning a fight against the Los Angeles Times. In the course of the debate some amusing incidents occurred, illustrating the timidity of the union printers. The main incident happened when they, in solemn convention assembled, were discussing the question of assessing all union printers in the United States 5 cents per week to fight the Los Angeles Times. As mentioned in these dispatches last night, the Laws Committee of the convention was considering the resolution assessing the union printers to make a fight against The Times, and it had been all figured out with great solemnity that such an assessment would result in a fund of $2500 per month to make one grand fight against The Times. The Laws Committee having reported this resolution favorably, there was some scrapping in the convention to decide whether the matter should be discussed today or Thursday morning.

Most of the delegates were in favor of having the matter put off until Thursday, but some hot-headed youngsters wanted an immediate vote.

Now it so happened that some person who was an officer of the convention had arranged to have a photographer come to the convention hall at 11:30 o'clock and take a flash-light photograph of the delegates. Just when the debate regarding The Times was most intense, this rank photographer fired off his flash-light bomb, took his photograph, and every delegate in the place jumped about five feet.

President Lynch, who was presiding, was slightly frightened, but he recovered himself enough to exclaim, "Well, I thought Gen. Otis had appeared upon the scene."

This was the only reference that was made during the day to the chief of the Los Angeles Times. It is predicted that on Thursday morning there will be a hot fight over the resolutions against the Los Angeles Times, and an effort will be made to involve Gen. Otis in the controversy, but many old-time printers are set against bringing his name into the matter, declaring that the fight must be against the corporation, and not against Gen. Otis personally. It is to be noted that all old-time craftsmen who recognize American liberty rebel against making a personal fight against Gen. Otis.

CHANGES IN RULES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—When the delegates to the International Typographical Union met today the report of the Committee on Laws was presented. Among the changes recommended was a suggestion to make permanent the monthly assessment of 5 cents per capita for the Los Angeles controversy. The suggestion aroused considerable debate, but ultimately was adopted.

There was also considerable discussion of a propostiion to permit local unions to fix time allowed to apprentices to learn the use of typsetting machines at three months. A substitute providing that no one who is not a member of the union shall be permitted to learn the use of machines in union offices was lost—79 to 94. A proposition to make the time for learning the machine six months was also voted down. The report of the committee on this proposition was adopted.

Following is a summary of the changes in the constitution and laws of the union:

Providing that the international union shall derive its revenue from dues amounting to 25 cents per month per member and from payments for charters by subordinate lodges at $5 each; providing that in the distribution of funds 5 cents shall go to the general fund; 5 cents to the special defense fund; 7½ cents to the defense fund; 7½ cents to the general fund and 10 cents to the printers' home endowment fund; declaring that the special defense fund shall be devoted to defending the principles of unionism as applied to the printer's trade; prohibiting subordinate unions from issuing labels of unauthorized design; amending section 4, article 7 of the by-laws so as to provide that appeals to the executive council shall be made within thirty days; requiring that local dues shall be charged from the first of each month; amending section 44, general laws, so as to require the deposit of per capita tax payments with the proper officer of the jurisdiction in which he may be employed and requiring the suspension of members failing to comply with this requirement; amending section 45, general laws, so as to require the reception of traveling certificates by secretaries of local lodges if the card is clear; invalidating certificates of membership issued by suspended local unions; authorizing the issuance of duplicate certificates for lost certificates and prescribing the details of the proceedings; requiring the learners on typesetting machines to be members of the union or applicants for membership; providing for the distribution of labels among subordinate unions by the international union; requiring that international union dues shall be deposited by the 20th of each month after their collection; authorizing the transfer of surplus receipts in the burial fund to the general fund; prescribing regulations under which union labels may be issued to employers in towns where there is no union.

The convention recommitted to the Committee on Laws a recommendation declaring it to be unwise to make enactments relative to the international affairs of printing offices.

The electrotypers and stereotypers union also continued its session today. There was much discussion of the old question as to the pressmen doing the work of stereotypers, and the practice was generally denounced.

CHIEF ARTHUR'S SUCCESSOR.

W. S. STONE IS SURPRISED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CLEVELAND, Aug. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The election of W. S. Stone of Eldon, Iowa, as grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, to succeed the late P. M. Arthur, came as a surprise to him. He was not a candidate and did not know his name was being considered until requested to come here, in a telegram sent last Saturday. He arrived yesterday, and his election followed today.

Stone is 43 years old. He has been the salaried chairman of the Rock Island division of the brotherhood for three years. Before that he held the throttle as an active engineer on the Rock Island system. He is a man of striking personality and is popular with the brotherhood.

Chief Stone announced today that there would be no radical change in the policy pursued by his predecessor. He will remove to Cleveland, as the constitution requires the president to live in this city, where the headquarters are.

WORSE THAN CASTOR OIL FOR THE LABORITES.

BOOKBINDERS' LEADERS HAVE NOT RETURNED TO WORK.

Demoralization in Printing Office. Fear of Unionists that Congress May Modernize Methods—Charges Against Miller Have a Flimsy Foundation.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A crisis may be forced in the bookbinding trouble at the Government Printing Office in an entirely unexpected manner. The men constituting the committee that has been acting for the dissatisfied binders were expected to return to work, but they did not.

Instead of returning to work they held meetings to discuss the matter. They let it be understood that Miller, assistant foreman, to whom they object, is not to enjoy the victory of bossing them, at least not just yet.

Intimation was made pretty plainly that the members of the committee will obey that part of their constitution which says it is unlawful for them to work with persons who have been expelled from the union.

The officers of the Government Printing Office have not ordered the members of the committee to return to work, so their failure to report for duty does not constitute defiance of the authorities. But the men received a pointed suggestion a few days ago that it would be well for them to return to their places, and it was then understood by the authorities that they would report on Monday.

The members of the committee can remain away from the office for sixty days without losing their places, unless their superiors require them to return to work on the ground that the public service requires it.

Public Printer Palmer has not given them such notice, nor is he likely to do so, until after he has come to a decision in the matter of the charges. If a crisis is forced it will probably be by an act of the committee.

One result of the condition that now prevails is an almost absolute demoralization of the 3000 men and women employed in the big establishment. They are at sea so far as knowing what arrangements to make for the immediate future. Nearly all of them fear a Congressional investigation will be made and the result will be a modernization of the Government Printing Office.

CHARGES GROUNDLESS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Indications are that Assistant Foreman Miller will continue in his present position in the Government Printing Office, notwithstanding the charges made against him by members of the local bookbinders' union. Public Printer Palmer is authority for the statement that as far as the inquiry into the charges against Miller has gone, nothing serious has yet been developed.

It is probable that the officials of the printing office will not be able to prevent a general investigation into the work of the establishment. Miller has opened the eyes of some officers of the government as to the method of doing busines in the printing office, and revealed the existence of a general understanding that the work be kept up so that no man would lose his place. It is declared that should a thorough investigation be made it will develop that there is an enormous sum of money wasted each year by the government in printing government documents. This is not alone the fault of the government departments, but very largely due to the extravagand methods of Congress. It was not long ago that Secretary Root discovered that resolutions were being adopted in Congress calling for information that was already contained in official reports of the department that had been printed at the Government Printing Office and distributed by the thousands. Members of Congress found it easier to call upon the heads of departments for any information they needed than it was to search through dry and uninteresting printed reports. The evil has not ended with placing extra work upon government clerks to get up this information, which has often resulted in stopping regular business in some bureaus for days at a time, but when it has once been obtained it is read on the floor of the Senate or House, and then by the direction of Congress is printed and distributed. One official made a statement recently that it could easily be ascertained that certain reports have been printed as many as four different times, and in as many different reports.

TROUBLESOME UNIONISTS.

THEIR OCCUPATION GONE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPRINGFIELD (Mass.) Aug. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] To punish organized labor for alleged frequent interference in the operation of the Boston and Albany division shops, in West Springfield, the New York Central Railroad will transfer to Worcester the work which has been done in West Springfield. The railroad has been at odds with one class or another of employés in the shops the greater part of the time since it assumed control of the Boston and Albany division.

A strike of machinists on Saturday brought the matter to a head, and the machinists' ultimatum to the road resulted in the abrogation today of contracts for a $100,000 roundhouse, which will be built in Worcester. The action of the railroad will cause hardship to 500 families.

UNIONS MUST PAY DAMAGES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LONDON, Aug. 11.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Appeals Court today, by a majority of 2 to 1, reversed the decision of Justice Bigham, who, on August 8, 1902, in a case where the Welsh Coal Owners' Association sued the Miners' Federation for $500,000 damages for ordering stop days without consulting the owners.

Judge Bigham decided in favor of the defendants on the ground that there was no malice in the action of the men, who believed that a reduction of the output would benefit both parties. Lord Justices Romer and Sterling held that the Miners' Federation had wilfully induced the men to quit work, and break their contracts. Therefore, it was the federation which had injured the plaintiff companies. Lord Justice Williams approved Justice Bigham's decision.

STONE OF IOWA.

ENGINEERS' NEW CHIEF.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CLEVELAND (O.) Aug. 11.—W. E. stone of Eldon, Iowa, division No. 181, has been elected to fill the unexpired term as Grand Chief Engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, made vacant by the deaths of P. M. Arthur and A. B. Youngson. No election will be made to the office of First Assistant Grand Chief until the general convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers at Los Angeles in May, 1904.

The new chief was born at Ainsworth, Washington county, Iowa, in February, 1860. He has been railroading for twenty-four years on that portion of the Rock Island system known as the Missouri division. He has been chairman of the general board of adjustment of that road for a number of years.

NOT AT A BABY SHOW.

WHERE PARRY DRAWS LINE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) Aug. 11.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, today left a challenge in the hands of a committee addressed to D. M. Parry, offering to meet the latter on the stump at the Labor Day celebration at the fair grounds in this city and argue with him the question of unionism. When told of the challenge, Mr. Parry said he would await its delivery with a great deal of interest. He also said he had no desire to parade Mr. Gompers as a rival attraction at a "baby show."

BOMBASTIC GOMPERS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, said tonight: "Yes, we will organize with union labor D. M. Parry's large plant here. The fact that Parry objects will not cause us to stop our work. It makes no difference that he threatens to leave Indianapolis. The city will survive, and the country will not go to the bowwows.

"We are paying much attention to Indiana now. We have numerous organizations in the State, and will have more, regardless of Parry."

LABOR LEADER SHOT.

NEGRO ASSOCIATE BEATEN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BIRMINGHAM (Ala.) Aug. 11.—Joe Hallier, Alabama district organizer of the United Mine Workers of America, was shot and seriously wounded in the arm at Horse Creek yesterday morning, and B. L. Greer (colored,) vice-president of the Alabama United Mine Workers, was assaulted and severely beaten by a crowd of angry citizens.

Hallier had been to Empire with Greer, where a small local of the United Mine Workers was organized, and the two men were about to take a train for Birmingham. According to the account of Greer, they were in the station when five men entered and ordered the two men to march down the railroad tracks at the point of pistols. They started and were then ordered to trot, which they also did. Various indignities were heaped on them. Hallier being forced to kiss Greer. Greer was then assaulted and beaten so that the blood flowed profusely.

While Hallier was forced to trot the men began firing at him and he finally fell. The pursuers then left him and returned to town. The two men were picked up by a freight train.

Labor Union Laundry Fails.

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—The Coöperative Union Laundry, which was established by union laundry workers during the big strike in Chicago's wash houses last June, has been declared a failure. For six weeks representatives of the union who have been running the laundry, and endeavoring to place it on a paying basis, have been forwarding discouraging reports to the members of the organization. The end came yesterday when the place was closed.

Cripple Creek Mines Closed Down.

CRIPPLE CREEK (Colo.) Aug. 11.—Practically all the mines in this district, except those operated by the Woods Investment Company, are closed down in consequence of the union miners' strike, which began yesterday. The number of miners on strike is estimated at 2700.

ATTORNEY GENERAL SEES THE PRESIDENT.

DISCUSS PENDING APPOINTMENTS IN DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE.

Littauer-Lyon Case Has Not Yet Been Taken Up — Bishop O'Gorman at Sagamore Hill — McClelland Offered Place on Board of Appraisers.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

OYSTER BAY (L. I.) Aug. 11.—Atty.-Gen. Knox arrived here today from New York, where he has been for two days in conference with leading Republicans and financiers. He remained with the President less than an hour, and returned to New York on the 3:10 train. Before leaving, he said that the President had desired to discuss briefly with him two or three matters concerning pending appointments in the Department of Justice. He expected shortly, he said, to take up the Littauer-Lyon case, which had been referred to him, but as yet he had not given it serious consideration. The Attorney-General expects to return to Beverly Farms, Mass., where he is spending the summer.

Bishop O'Gorman of Sioux Falls, S. D., called upon the President this afternoon to pay his respects. He has known the President a long time, and being in the East, embraced the opportunity to call upon him. It is understood that his visit was not in any way significant.

As forecasted in these dispatches, the President today tendered to Charles P. McClelland of Westchester county, N. Y., a membership on the board of general appraisers. McClelland is a Democrat, and a member of the New York State Senate from the Twenty-second District. The appointment is to take effect on October 1. If he accepts the proffer, McClelland will succeed on the board Col. A. J. Jewell, resigned. The office carries with it a salary of $7000 a year.

BATTLE WITH OUTLAWS.

Particulars of Fight in Which Two of Martins Were Killed and Deputy Marshal Haines Wounded.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

GUTHRIE (Okla.) Aug. 11.—Deputy Marshals Bennett, Willets and Jacobson arrived here today from Pawhuska, Osage Nation, with the bodies of two members of the Martin gang of outlaws, killed in the fight on Saturday. The dead men have been identified as Will and Sam Martin. Rewards aggregating $12,000 had been offered for the men, dead or alive. Deputy Marshal Haines, who was wounded in the fight, lies in a critical condition today.

Upon the arrival of the deputies today the first details of the fight were learned. The fight took place at 6 o'clock Saturday evening, eight miles south of Pawhuska, where the outlaws were located, fortified behind a knoll in a deep ravine. As the officers neared their camp the outlaws opened fire, which was returned, and a steady exchange followed. Will Martin was shot in the mouth and died instantly. Sam Martin was shot in the right side and fell while running away. Clarence Simmons escaped. The officers recovered about 1000 rounds of ammunition and several rifles.

The Philadelphia police yesterday afternoon arrested four merchants charged with violating the law regarding the sale of fire arms to minors. Since July 4 a number of deaths have occurred from lockjaw, which developed from toy-pistol wounds.

VANDERBILT PAYS HIGH.

Eight Thousand Dollars Duty on Forty Trunks of Bridal Couple.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After customs officials had refused to accept the declaration of Reginald C. Vanderbilt, who returned from a three months' wedding tour, and inspectors had spent two hours in searching the forty trunks brought in by the bridal couple, he finally paid $8000 duty and departed. What Vanderbilt's original declaration was is not known, but he finally paid on $15,000 of highly dutiable foreign purchases, in which was $10,000 in jewels bought for his bride and gifts for relatives. The largest amount previously paid was $3500, by Lars Anderson.

Vanderbilt showed not the slightest sign of annoyance as he handed out eight $1000 bills in exchange for the permission to return home with his forty trunks and their contents. That his declaration, presumably for a less amount, had not been accepted and that the contents were overhauled by the inspectors, evidently upset the millionaire bridegroom at first. But when, two hours later, it came to settling the bill, he was a picture of outward calm. Mrs. Vanderbilt closely watched the work of the officials.

ST. PAUL TRIUMPHS WITHOUT NEW STO

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An effectual denial of the report often repeated with positiveness by the stock-market bears that the St. Paul road would call on stockholders to subscribe for $20,000,000 or $25,000,000 of the stock authorized at the last annual meeting, was made today. William G. Rockefeller, the highest authority on St. Paul matters, said: "The rumor that the St. Paul company intends to issue new securities to finance some operations is absolutely untrue. The company has ample funds for its present purposes, having on deposit upward of $20,000,000 in different trust companies. At the time the new stock was authorized, its authorization was for a specific object, connected with the possibilities growing out of threats of competitors. These threats have not been carried out, so that there is no need of issuing the stock."

The specific purpose which has ceased to exist was the construction of a new line from Ogden to the Coast, which the St. Paul threatened to build unless the Union Pacific gave it western traffic accommodations similar to those granted the Northwestern. The St. Paul went so far as to secure an understanding with the Gould interest by which it was to use the Missouri Pacific and Denver and Rio Grande for connection with Ogden, from which point it is proposed to proceed to the Coast over its own line. Before the construction was begun the Union Pacific weakened in its opposition to the St. Paul's demands, and gave it all it desired in the way of western facilities.

TWO TRUSTED MEN STEAL THOUSA

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CINCINNATI (O.) Aug. 11.—J. K. Brown, cashier of the Union Bank at New Holland, has been mysteriously missing since Saturday. There is great excitement there today among the depositors, whose funds in the bank approximate $200,000. It is believed however, that this amount will be found intact when the safe shall be opened by experts, Brown only having the combination. Cashier Brown's conduct has always been regarded exemplary. It is feared that he has met with foul play.

Brown stood high in society and business circles at New Holland. He is treasurer of the Masonic Temple Association, Grand Master of the Masonic Lodge, member of the Eastern Star, banker of the Modern Woodmen, clerk of the school board, and member of the County Democratic Executive Committee, and a member of the church choir. He came from Cincinnati fifteen years ago.

The Union Bank was established thirteen years ago, and has had a prosperous existence. Brown has been cashier since its organization. The bank has been paying regular dividends since its opening. It is said Brown has been speculating in the grain market with bucket shops at Washington.

He was given a brief and informal reception on the station platform, and by the business men of the city he was presented with a beautiful floral tribute.

Two thousand people shook hands with the general who greeted the crowds in a cheerful manner but did not address them.

Just before boarding his train for the West, Gen. Miles was asked if he was a candidate for the position of commander-in-chief of the G.A.R. He had this to say: "I am not seeking it. Gen. John C. HOLY FATHER FAINTS.

Pontiff Overcome by the Vitiated Air of a Crowded Chapel—Insists on Receiving Delegations and Overtaxing His Strength.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ROME, Aug. 11.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Just a week has elapsed since the election of Pius X, and he has been already overcome by the unaccustomed strain of his pontifical duties. This morning he fainted while at mass. His collapse is considered to be due to heart weakness, aggravated by fatigue. Even though he disappoints some people, his entourage urge him not to concede audiences to all comers and to render himself less accessible. Dr. Lapponi recommended to the Pope that he take a complete rest. He has ordered all audiences postponed.

The Pope, however, cannot understand the necessity of sparing himself, and said to Dr. Lapponi: "I am stronger than Pope Leo. Why should not I do what he did?"

It was explained to him that Leo, when elected, began by taking a fortnight's perfect rest, and thereafter gradually trained himself to his new duties. Moreover, Leo's splendid constitution did not require exercise in the fresh air, which an ordinary healthy man does.

At noon Pope Pius was reported to be almost restored to his normal condition, but was keeping his room, as he feels occasionally a slight palpitacion of the heart. The Pope ardently wished to receive today the Austrian Ambassador, who was to present his credentials, but he was persuaded to renounce his intention, not only in this case, but with regard to all the audiences which were fixed for tomorrow.

Pope Pius had already given the communion to 200 people, when he began to feel ill. Those about him soon perceived that he was not himself, by his nervousness and impatience, which showed itself when his attendant handed him his spectacles. He pushed them aside and drew out a pair from his pocket. The consternation of the Venetians when they saw him faint was great, and they rendered matters worse by crowding around him. Mgr. Bisleti, however, kept his presence of mind, and ordered the Swiss Guard to clear a space about the Pontiff. Smelling salts were brought hastily, and had the desired effect.

When able to speak again, the Pope asked for a few drops of water, which were given him, and water was sprinkled on his face. His gown was opened at the neck, as he seemed to be choking. He refused resolutely, however, to be carried to his apartments, saying that he was sufficiently strong to walk. The way thither was cleared, and he proceeded slowly, surrounded by his anxious entourage, his head bent almost on his shoulder, and his face so pale that the flesh was scarcely distinguishable from his robes. The neck of his gown still remained open.

It was a solemn moment when the Pontiff passed through the midst of the kneeling Venetians, without having the strength to give them his benediction. Deep silence accentuated the impressiveness of the scene. As he went out of sight through the Raphael loggia, tears fell from the cheeks of several of the pilgrims, and one could not refrain from crying out: "Take care of yourself, Your Holiness, for our sakes, who love you so much, as well as for your own."

The Pope has been overexerting himself to such an extent that his naturally strong constitution was unable to bear the strain put upon it by the coronation ceremonies. Such has been the effect upon his nerves that he has been unable to sleep for whole nights, while numerous receptions yesterday made matters worse. Last night His Holiness was very much agitated, still he insisted upon admitting this morning to hear his mass all Venetians who had journeyed to Rome purposely to attend the coronation. They numbered about 300 when the mass began in the Pauline Chapel, and the air was vitiated, with the temperature above 90 deg.

Pope Pius was seen to grow paler and paler, finally throwing out his hands as though seeking support. He would have fallen had not Mgr. Bressan, his private chaplain, been quick to ca[illegible] him. It is impossible to describe the confusion and alarm among the worshipers while the Pope lay motionless and unconscious with his eyes closed.

Fortunately, among the Venetians present was Dr. Davenosia, who for nine years has been the Pope's attending physician at Venice, but had been called only once during that time to treat a sore throat. Dr. Davenosia gave the Pontiff immediate assistance, while the messengers telephoned to Dr. Lapponi. The latter rushed to the Vatican, but did not arrive until after the Pope had been restored to consciousness and taken to his own apartments.

The Pope, after taking some medicine to calm his heart and nerves, was able to take lunch, afterward taking a sleep which lasted two hours and a half. On awakening he felt much better and refreshed.

MUST HAVE FRESH AIR.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ROME, Aug. 11.—Although the Pope was much better this afternoon, Dr. Lapponi, who visited him again, thought it more prudent for His Holiness not to leave his apartment and not to go into the garden of the Vatican, as he desired. The doctor further insisted on a suspension of audiences.

The Pontiff seems more docile to the doctor's wishes than his predecessors, although he insisted on transacting some current business, such as the appointment of Alberto Sili, the son of the dean of the grooms, as his personal valet, the place occupied by Pio Centra under Pope Leo XIII.

Dr. Davenosia, speaking about the Pope, said: "If they wish our Pius not to succumb, the Vatican authorities must change their system. They must not oblige him to follow the habits of Pope Leo. The present Pontiff needs especially plenty of fresh air. He must not be shut up in a box in a vitiated atmosphere."

The Pope retired earlier than usual, saying that he felt quite recovered. His intimates, however, say that he is much changed since his election, and seems to have grown years older. His sisters at Venice were much alarmed over the news of his indisposition, and have decided to come to Rome to attend him.

THREATS TO CALL OUT ONE MILLION MEN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] President Frank Buchanan of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, has come to this city and joined Samuel J. Parks in the fight against the Building Trades Employers Association. While it is known that Buchanan is not in accord with Parks in all matters, it appears that he supports him in his fight against employers, and against the arbitration agreement. Unless the employers agree to stand by their old agreement Buchanan says a general strike will be ordered, calling out one million men, and causing far more trouble than was caused by the big strike in the coal region last winter. Parks said today that he would order more strikes, and intimated generally that he is about to make further trouble.

The building strike has caused a suspension of work for nearly three months on buildings representing an investment of $90,000,000. About 125,000 men have been idle, and the loss in wages is said to have been $35,000,000.

In praise of the new arbitration plan, James F. Archibald, a prominent labor leader, says that under it he believes there will not be another general shut-down in the next ten years. There should not be one in a hundred years, he said, and by that time civilization should be so far advanced as to make industrial war impossible. "A general shut-down" is a symptom of general stupidity.

Henley Shot Lafferty—Bridegroom Drowned Himself—After Lead Mines.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VANCOUVER, Aug. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] What is undoubtedly a relic of the ill-starred Andre balloon expedition to the North Pole was brought to Vancouver by a returned prospector and miner, who has spent the last four years in the wilds of Mackenzie Basin and other districts in the unknown north, both east and west of the Rocky Mountains. A. B. Keeler, who four years ago set out by way of Edmonton to follow the great river courses of the Mackenzie River to the Arctic circle, arrived in the city today, and brought with him a portion of silk, such as used by Andre in the construction of his balloon.

Keeler tells in a most interesting manner how the precious little three-cornered fragment came into his possession. He and one companion were at the headwaters of the Mackenzie River and decided to leave the route ordinarily traveled and strike due west to the unexplored regions under the shadow of the Rockies.

After days of rough and painful progress, they at last reached a sort of valley or enclosed plateau not far from the mountains and right under the Arctic circle. Here they met some Indians who invited them to their village, which was in the plain. The Indians by signs and otherwise made it clear that they had never seen a white man but once before. Though the two explorers were unable to understand a word of the dialect spoken by the red men, and the latter could not, of course, understand them, it was at last made evident that these isolated Indians had seen a white man, and that under such extraordinary circumstances that it left a lively recollection to them. To explain how they had seen the other white men, one of the Indians insisted on taking Keeler to a spot some distance from the village. When they had reached a spot on a little eminence, about a mile from the Indian encampment, the Indian stopped, and in sign language, emphatically repeated over and over, showed Keeler where the mysterious white men had landed. By oft-repeated signs Keeler could see that the white men had come down from the clouds in a great machine of wonderful construction, such as he had never seen before. The Indians followed by signs that they had been greatly frightened by the sudden appearance of the men whose skin, unlike theirs, was white, and from the fact, as they concluded that they were supernatural visitors. The next day, however, the strange visitors had gone, as they came, by the airship, which was found a short distance away from the village, but a trace of the men could not be found.

AERIAL TERRIBLE BALLOON.

SAN FRANCISCAN MAKES ONE.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—The Examiner says that Dr. August Greth, an aeronaut of twenty years' experience, has made an ascent from this city in a balloon or airship which he has constructed. He did not make connections with the ground from cables connected with the balloon but claimed that the balloon was fully under control and that he steered it up and down, back and forth and around at will. Three times, it is said, the ship ascended and descended, its flight in the stiff breeze being accorded a triumph by the inventor and those who saw it.

Greth, who is a native of France, and a graduate of the University of California, was accompanied in his flight by Capt. T. S. Baldwin and a number of other people. The inventor is optimistic as to the possibilities of his airship, and is in hopes that he will be in a position to meet Santos-Dumont, the Brazilian aeronaut, and compete with him in the aerial races at the St. Louis Exposition.

MAN-HUNTING CHASE BRINGS NO RESULTS.

CHANCES ARE MUCH AGAINST THE CAPTURE OF CONVICTS.

Rugged Country in Which They Are Concealed Renders Pursuit Difficult. Sheriff Reese Abandons the Hunt for Fahey and His Companions.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PLACERVILLE, Aug. 11.—No word has come from the pursuers of the convicts today, and it is unlikely that news will be received here until the outlaws have been captured or killed, or the chase abandoned. The convicts are in a most rugged country and it will require the greatest strategy on the part of the posses to avoid being slaughtered. Persons familiar with the country in which the convicts have taken refuge aver that the idea of the posses attempting to overtake the convicts in that section is preposterous for the reason that the little band of outlaws could pick off an army of men in that region without themselves being made the victims of bullets of the hunters, so admirably is the country adapted to the purpose of defense.

Although a watch is being kept for the man who held up James Martin, a miner, near the town last night, no arrest has been made. Sheriff Bosquit is positive that one of the convicts possibly is in this vicinity and that he eventually will be captured. Case is addicted to the use of opium, and will probably attempt to enter Placerville's Chinatown to obtain a supply of the drug. It is known that opium has been purchased here, surreptitiously, at at least once since the convicts entered this section, and although no charge can be preferred against the purchaser, his movements are being watched by Sheriff Bosquit, who thinks that he may endeavor to obtain another supply in the near future for the purpose of supplying one of the convicts.

REESE ABANDONS HUNT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 11.—Sheriff David Reese has practically abandoned the hunt for the escaped convicts known to have been in this city last Friday, one of whom, Ray Fahey, a notorious highwayman, was shot at by Detective Max P. Fisher.

Fahey was with a smaller man, thought to be either Convict Fred Miller or Henry Davis, more likely the latter.

It is certain the men made their escape from the railroad yards Friday night, and the officers incline to the belief that they back-tracked toward Fair Oaks in the general direction from which they must have come. Fahey is reported by a man named William Taylor to have left a freight train at Lincoln, Placer county, Saturday night. Taylor says he knows Fahey personally, and could not have been mistaken in the man's identity.

Today Sheriff Reese returned nearly all the rifles and shotguns which have been used by him and his posse during the past few weeks, indicating that he feels it is useless to further prosecute an organized hunt for the escaped prisoners.

City Detective Max P. Fisher and local officers are keeping a sharp lookout for all outgoing trains to prevent the escape of either Fahey or Davis, should either of them be in hiding in this city, waiting for a favorable opportunity to get away.

READY FOR VETERANS.

ADVANCE GUARD ARRIVING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—The preparations for the national encampment of the G.A.R., are pretty well concluded, and from all indications the visiting delegates will have a very pleasant time. Festivities have been arranged for their benefit not only in this city, but all through the country. Everywhere can be noted the stir of preparations, committees of citizens and coteries of the G.A.R., devising plans to make the sojourn of the veterans one of the pleasant memories of their lives.

A bureau of registration and information will be opened for the benefit of all arrivals, who are expected to register there as early as possible after their arrival in this city.

The veterans and other visitors from the East are already pouring into this city, and thousands are now on their way crossing the prairies of the Middle West.

The Spanish-American War veterans will be represented in force during encampment weeks and active measures have been taken by them to give a grand reception to the Grand Army.

Money continues to be subscribed with a liberal hand by local merchants, and the amount now on hand aggregates a total of $22,722.

WILLIAMS DROWNED HIMSELF.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

OAKLAND, Aug. 11.—By the finding of his body floating in the bay this morning, the mystery surrounding the disappearance of Hal M. Williams, chief steward of the big steamship Algoa, now lying in San Francisco Harbor, is cleared. Tied to the body was a thirty-pounr railroad track iron and in one of the pockets was found a note to his wife, telling her that financial troubles and ill health caused his act.

On July 31 of this year, Williams was married to Miss Wilhelmina S. Schroder, who lived with her sister, a Mrs. Canini, at No. 1812 Geary street, San Francisco. On the day following the wedding, Williams told his bride that he would have to report to his ship, but it was learned that he did not do so, and it is supposed that he then committed suicide.

DICKINSON IN CAMP.

MILITIAMEN REVIEWED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SANTA CRUZ, Aug. 11.—Gov. Pardee will visit the camps of the Second and Sixth Regiments tomorrow.

For three hours today, the soldiers had battalion and regimental drills. Maj.-Gen. John H. Dickinson, with Col. Huber, Col. Barrere and Maj. Schmidt were met at the train at noon by Col. Johnson and Col. Seymour with a detail and escorted to Camp Dickinson. The major-general was welcomed with a salute of thirteen guns. He is well pleased with the arrangement of both camps and the soldierly appearance of the men. He visited Camp Stone, where Col. Seymour received him at headquarters. At 5 o'clock p. m. there was a review of both regiments in honor of Maj.-Gen. Dickinson. A large crowd witnessed it. The major-general will not be able to attend the camp of the Seventh Regiment, as his duties require him in San Francisco. He returns tomorrow.

The cavalry arrived at 10 o'clock this morning, having ridden from Glenwood. They pitched tents at the west end of Camp Stone. This afternoon many of the soldiers were in the surf bathing. This evening a band concert was given at Camp Stone. At Camp Dickinson, Capt. Norboe of Hanford was officer of the day, and Lieut. Hooper of Merced officer of the guard. This evening Capt. Wilson of Fresno and Lieut. Haley of Bakersfield are on duty. At Camp Stone, Capt. Voss of Marysville is officer of the day, and Lieut. Porter of Colusa officer of the guard. Tomorrow evening a ball will be given at the armory in honor of the regiments.

MEETING OF GOVERNORS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SANTA CRUZ, Aug. 11.—A party of seventy-five persons, including Gov. Wells of Utah and Congressman Needham, spent the day in the Big Basin. The party called on Gov. Pardee, who met Gov. Wells for the first time.

SAN FRANCISCO PRIMARIES.

UNITED REPUBLICANS WIN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—Primaries were held in this city today to choose delegates to the coming municipal conventions. At midnight, the returns indicated that the United Republican League had won an overwhelming victory over the opposition, made up of the friends of Daniel Burns, Martin Kelly and other district leaders.

There was also a hot fight in the union labor ranks. The friends of Mayor Schmitz, who is a candidate for renomination, have defeated the faction headed by Michael Casey, and will control the convention.

The McNab-Lane faction has elected a majority of the Democratic delegates. Between 25,000 and 30,000 votes were cast.

TRANS-MISSISSIPPI CONGRESS.

PROMISED SPEAKERS COMING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SEATTLE, Aug. 11.—Arrangements are practically complete for the fourteenth annual session of the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress, which convenes in this city August 18. The session will end August 22. Very low rates made by the Transcontinental Passenger association from the Mississippi River, the Southwest and the inter-mountain States will, it is believed, bring several thousand visitors and delegates to Seattle and the Northwest.

Among the prominent men to address the congress are F. H. Newell, chief engineer of the Geological Survey, who has charge of irrigation work in the West, and who comes as the representative of President Roosevelt; United States Senator McCumber of North Dakota; President Kirby of the congress; R. W. Richardson, secretary of the National Good Roads Association; Senator Patterson of Colorado and Truman G. Palmer, secretary of the National Beet Sugar Association. President Hill of the Great Northern has promised to attend and deliver a paper on "American Commerce," provided other engagements do not prevent.

The Secretary of the Navy has ordered the armored cruiser New York to Seattle during the session of the congress, and she will be placed at the disposal of the local entertainment and reception committee.

CALIFORNIA'S BUILDING.

Woodbury in Command.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 11.—Charles A. Coolidge has turned over the command of the Presidio reservation to Lieut.-Col. Thomas C. Woodbury of the Seventh Infantry. Gen. Coolidge, formerly colonel of the Seventh Infantry, recently elevated to a brigadier-generalship, has just been placed upon the retired list and ordered to his home.

Policeman Fatally Wounded.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—Special Policeman Robert Sample was shot and fatally wounded while attempting to stop a street fight participated in by John Henry Powell and Charles Sullivan. Both young men are under arrest. In an ante mortem statement to the District Attorney, Sample has declared that Sullivan fired the shot.

Yokota Shipped Back.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—The board of inquiry, which was formed to investigate the charge against Y. Yokota, the Japanese merchant, who arrived on the Coptic, who is charged with being a procurer, have decided to deport him. A petition signed by 700 Japanese professional men and merchants of this city, reiterated the charges against the man.

Austrian Mirror Carp.

UKIAH, Aug. 11.—A species of fish said to be the Austrian mirror carp has been discovered in a pool near the local fish hatchery. It is not known how they came there, although old settlers claim to have caught some at times. The Fish Commission is about to investigate the matter. The fish is golden in color, and is almost without scales.

Crawford Held to Answer.

FRESNO, Aug. 11.—Offering no defense, W. L. Crawford was held to answer this morning in $1000 bail for the alleged embezzlement of $530 from W. J. Fields. This case is the criminal outcome of the reported elopement last week of Rose Thompson, the stepdaughter of Fields, with a butcher boy, and her apprehension at the Needles, where Fields overtook her en route to Kansas, where her mother lives. The woman has separated from Fields. Crawford is the uncle of the girl, and the latter testified that he had concocted the scheme to steal her stepfather's money.

Affiliated College's Fund.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—After a long debate, today, the board of regents of the State University decided to temporarily relieve the finances of the Affiliated College of Medicine. It was agreed that the college doors should be kept open for the next year upon the funds accruing from the sale of property left it as an endowment by the late Dr. Toland, if such sales could not be made advantageously, the requisite funds to be advanced by the regents. But this motion was only passed on the strict understanding that the university was not to go on record as begging in any way the financial support of that department.

Two Clever Forgers.

STOCKTON, Aug. 11.—Two clever forgers, a man and a woman, have been operating on the Coast, and last Saturday night they passed three checks in stores here. They were all payable to one William Bailey and indorsed by him, the name of Harry Todman, a local merchant, being stamped with a rubber stamp on the face of the checks. The checks were for amounts under $20 each. The police had been working on the case since Monday, and today word was received from Sheriff Langford of Santa Clara to the effect that two people, apparently a man and his wife, and speaking with a Swedish accent, were wanted there for forgery. They work Saturday nights, and get away from town before the banks open Monday. Their names are unknown. It is believed they have gone to Sacramento.

Municipal Ownership Lost.

MERCED, Aug. 11.—Municipal ownership of the water and light systems was defeated by a heavy vote here today. The proposition was to issue $85,000 in bonds for a pumping plant water system, and $16,000 for electric street lighting system. A two-thirds majority was necessary to carry the bonds. The vote was: For water bonds, 164; against, 224; light bonds, 156 for; against, 222.

Rest for Judge Estee.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—United States District Judge M. M. Estee of Honolulu arrived here today on the steamer Alameda. He will spend his summer vacation in this State. The Federal Court at Honolulu has been adjourned, without date, for the first time since its establishment, three years ago.

Boy and Gun Fatality.

KAMLOOPS (B. C.) Aug. 22.—Willie Edmonds, aged 6, was last night shot and killed by Charlie Newman, aged 7. Charlie took a revolver from the room of H. C. Ashby, one of his mother's lodgers, and loaded it. Willie Edmonds, his playmate, said "Shoot it." Young Newman fired, the ball entering Edmonds' forehead. He died in a few minutes.

Run of Chinook Salmon.

ASTORIA (Or.) Aug. 11:—The present run of Chinook salmon in the Columbia River is unprecedented. Every cannery and cold-storage plant on the river is working to its full capacity It is conceded that the present phenomenal run of fish is due to artificial propagation.

OBITUARY.

Oliver E. Roberts.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Oliver Everett Roberts, for twenty-five years cashier in the United States Assay Office in New York and formerly United States Consul at Hongkong, is dead at his home in Orange, N. J., from paralysis.

Henry H. Pearson.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—Word has been received in this city from New York of the death of Henry Havas Pearson, the well-known hotel man, at different times identified with many of the leading hotels here. In early days he was a partner in the management of the Russ House.

B. L. Woodward.

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—B. L. Woodward, who had a national reputation as a trap shooter, is dead at his home in Brockton, aged 32.

Louisa Belle Culver.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Louisa Belle Culver died yesterday in Denver of heart failure. She was a well-known artist and an exhibitor at the National Academy for many years. She was a great-grand-niece of Roger Sherman, who wrote the Declaration of Independence with Thomas Jefferson. She was also a great-grand-daughter of the Rev. Ezra Stiles, who was president of Yale University during the Revolution, and also a great-grand-daughter of the Rev. Joseph Bellamy, at whose divinity school in Richfield, Ct., Henry Ward Beecher's father and Aaron Burr were educated for the ministry.

Charles H. Snell.

HELENA (Mont.) Aug. 11.—Charles H. Snell, aged 76, one of Montana's oldest pioneers, was found dead in his bed at his residence today.

Fifty prisoners in the County Jail at Carthage, Mo., mutined at midnight yesterday and made a demand for better food. The fire department was called out and turned a stream of water on the prisoners, who hurled empty bottles at the firemen and jailers. One deputy was cut in the face. The prisoners were finally subdued.

OFFER TO CANFIELD FOR A GAMING HELL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SARATOGA, Aug. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] On behalf of 1000 gentlemen, nobles and a few monarchs, Prince Bariatinsky of Russia, has offered to Richard A. Canfield the management of the Maison la Fitte in Paris, hard by the Seine, to be run as a club for the gentlemen gamesters of Europe and America. The proposition was at first declined, but at the request of the man who made it, it was taken under advisement, and is still being considered by Canfield.

The offer was made to Canfield in London last spring and was renewed a few days ago. The facts concerning it came out at a dinner given here by Canfield last evening. The scheme is in the hands of an international committee represented as follows: Prince Bariatinsky of Russia, Lord Marcus Beresford of England, Prince Murat of France, two members of the nobility of Germany and a millionaire interested in corporations in the United States.

The proposition made to Canfield by the committee was: Canfield to buy the Maison la Fitte and eight acres of ground surrounding it for $420,000; to fit up the place for the purpose intended and open it. The committee, on its part, would guarantee him 10,000 members, selected by the committee, and all profits of the club including the games, which, of course Canfield was to back. Besides this a salary of $30,000 a year as proprietary manager, was guaranteed.

Canfield has large investments in Saratoga and is under a cloud in New York City, having been indicted while abroad for keeping gambling establishments in the metropolis. If he could get out of his investment here at what it cost him and is acquitted on trial of the charge on which he has been indicted, he would probably accept the offer. But Canfield is very fond of Saratoga, and therefore his friends say he will never dispose of his property here to any man or company of men who would not be acceptable to the people of this village.

VILLAGES DESTROYED BY EARTHQUAKES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ATHENS (Greece) Aug. 11.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Three slight earthquakes occurred here at 6 o'clock this morning. Three villages on the Isle of Cinthera were almost entirely destroyed. Later reports are to the effect that two boys were killed. The earthquake was general throughout Greece.

IN ISLAND OF CRETE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Aug. 11.—A dispatch from Candia, island of Crete, says that an earthquake occurred there at 6 o'clock this morning and its duration was thirty-two seconds, but that there was no casualties.

AROUND MT. AETNA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ROME, Aug. 11.—An earthquake having the region of Mt. Aetna as a center was felt today through Sicily and Southern Italy, and to a smaller degree in Central Italy. Little damage was done, although, in the zone of greatest intensity, the movement lasted two minutes.

The Fiume Caldo, a stream near Mt. Aetna, became turbid and the temperature of the water rose to 72 deg. Mt. Vesuvius is again in eruption, its present activity being considered to be connected with the earthquake shocks.

LYNCHING WILL FOLLOW CAPTURE OF FIEND.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MARSHALTOWN (Iowa) Aug. 11.—The seven-year-old daughter of A. L. Macon, a prominent farmer of North Hudson, was assaulted today by one of a party of horse traders who were camping near her home. The child will die, and a large and excited mob is in pursuit of her assailant. He will be lynched if caught.

UPHOLDS LYNCH LAW.

John Temple Graves of Atlanta Declares that it is Justified by the Crime of Rape.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHAUTAUQUA (N. Y.) Aug. 11.—Unique among all summer gatherings is the "mob conference" now in progress here. The increase of mob spirit shown by feuds, lynchings, riots, assassinations and other lawless happenings gives great importance to this conference.

Among today's speakers was John Temple Graves of Atlanta, Ga., who spoke on "The Mob Spirit of the South." He defended lynch law as a remedy for the crime of rape, holding that though lynching is a crime, it is justified by the crime which provokes it, and will never be discontinued until that crime is eliminated. The remedy for lynching must be the elimination of the crime of rape, and this, he maintained, could be done only by the separation of the two races in the United States.

CHICAGO CLUBS GO "DRY."

CHICAGO Aug. 11.—Following the announcement of the police authorities that dram shop licenses must be taken out for all clubs where liquor is sold, the clubhouse of the Chicago Athletic Association has become "dry." Thirteen other clubs have served notices on City Clerk Lathrop that they have abandoned their bars. Among this number are the Lincoln, Menoken, Automobile, Tuscarora, and Press clubs

WELLINGTON (N. Z.) Aug. 11.—The budget presented to Parliament announces that it is proposed to place a substantial duty on certain articles of foreign manufacture in order to let Great Britain respond, if she thinks fit to do so.

ENORMOUS CAR COMBINE.

Packing house Trust in Control of all Refrigerator Service.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—Exclusive Dispatch.] A $1,000,000 combine was effected today by the consolidation of the Hammond Refrigerator, Anglo-American Refrigerator, Kansas City Refrigerator, Omaha Packing and St. Louis Dressed Beef and Provision companies' car lines under the name of the National Car Line. The general offices will be in the Rookery building, Chicago. The officers are: President, J. P. Lyman; vice-president, S. A. McClean; secretary and treasurer, J. D. Standish.

In announcing the consolidation, the company gave notice of the appointment of F. W. Cherrier to the office of superintendent of car service, W. G. Finn to that of auditor, and F. A. Spink, general manager. The consolidation places in the hands of the trust absolute control of all the refrigerator-car lines used in the transportation of fresh meats and provisions, the products of all the packing-houses of the country.

DISASTER

cars when the first train passed through the station, and called out to the engineer to stop, saying there was no time to reach the next station, but the engineer declared he had ample time, and proceeded. A few minutes later a large blue flame flashed through the tunnel, followed by a violent detonation. Looking into the mouth of the tunnel, M. Didier could see flashes from the burning cars.

Premier Combes descended into the tunnel and made a personal inspection. He asked the Chief of Police for a report of the cause of the disaster and a list of the victims, and announced his intention of proposing at a Council of Ministers measures for the relief of the poor families of the victims. The flag over the Hotel de Ville has been lowered to half-mast as a sign of the city's mourning.

M. Gauthier, the magistrate for the district, says one of the main causes of the loss of life was that those escaping took the wrong exit, one passage letting out into the street, while the other was barred, and it was used for admitting passengers.

Many of the passengers sought the barred exit, and were found massed against the wall, where they had been slowly suffocated. The firemen have gathered a large collection of torn clothing, littered hats, twisted umbrellas and bloodstained handkerchiefs, showing how desperate was the underground struggle.

At the American Consulate it was learned that there were no Americans among the victims. The Prefect of Police confirms this. President Loubet has telegraphed to the president of the Municipal Court saying he shares the profound grief into which the city has been plunged.

TURKS DESERTING.

Troops in Macedonia Sell Their Rifles to Insurgents to Get Money to Buy Provisions—Sultan Sends His Regrets to Russia.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 11.—[By Atlantic Cable.] It is rumored here that the Turkish troops in Macedonia have become so demoralized by their failure to receive pay that hundreds of them are deserting and selling their rifles to insurgents, in order to obtain provisions.

PALACE OFFICIALS DISTRACTED

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Aug. 12.—The Times today prints a dispatch from Constantinople which states that the palace officials there are distracetd by the continual receipt of bad news and the necessity of dispatching fresh troops. Bulgarian outrages are occurring daily, accompanied by acts of cruelty equal the worst deeds ever attributed to the Turks.

Another dispatch to the Times, dated Sofia, Bulgaria, yesterday, says that the towns of Krueshvo and Kritchevo are still in the hands of the insurgents.

SORROWS OF SULTAN.

TWICE EXPRESSED TO RUSSIA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 11.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Russian Ambassador at Constantinople telegraphs that, by command of the Sultan, his son, Prince Ahmed Eff Effendi called at the embassy to express the deep distress and regret caused in the mind of the Sultan by the murders of the Russian Consul at Monastir, and requested the Ambassador to notify the Czar of this second expression of the Sultan's sorrow.

NEW CONSUL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW CONSUL MISSING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 11—Some anxiety is felt for the safety of Dr. Mandelstam, the new Consul to Monastir. In spite of the refusal of the Mütsorif (Governor,) to give him an escort, Dr. Mandelstam insisted upon proceeding to his new post, and after referring the matter to Hilmi Pasha, the inspector-general, he obtained an escort and started upon his own responsibility across the country for Monastir. Nothing has been heard of him since.

The Sultan has offered an indemnity of $40,000 to the widow of the late consul. She is a member of the well-known Russian family of Muravieff, and M. Restoveski was related to the late Prince Lobanoff, who was Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs, hence the anxiety of the Turkish authorities to have the matter satisfactorily settled with Russia. M. Rostoveski was in disfavor with the Turkish authorities at Monastir, owing to his persistence in investigating all the fighting in the district.

BULGARIANS UNITING.

NEW REVOLUTIONARY FIELDS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SOFIA, Aug. 11.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The representatives of the Macedonian Revolutionary Committee announce that the revolution broke out in the vilayet of Uskub, last Sunday, and in the vilayet of Adrianople Monday. Telegraphic communication is interrupted. Adrianople forms the seventh revolutionary district, with Chief Ghirdjikoff and Capts. Ikonomoff and Madjaroff in command.

The representatives of the committee also publish a contradiction of the report of alleged atrocities committed by Bulgarians, and accuse the Turks of attempting to poison the mind of Europe for the massacre of innocent Christians. Gen. Tzoncheff, president of the Macedonion Committee, has addressed an appeal to his adherents to assist the insurgents in Macedonia even by revolutionary means. Prominent Macedonians have formed a charitable fund for the purpose of giving relief to the victims of the revolution. Representatives of all political parties in Bulgaria have joined the committee, and it is proposed to hold a public meeting to solicit contributions from all Bulgarians.

The insurgents have blown up a bridge sixty yards long, near Giovgyoli on the Salonica-Uskub Railway.

The Premier and Minister of the Interior have proceeded to Dubnitza with the intention of inspecting the Bulgarian posts along the Macedonian frontier. This is regarded as additional proof of the government's desire to maintain peace. It is now stated that Prince Ferdinand will not return to Sofia until after his fete day, August 15, as he wishes to show that he is not responsible for the present situation in Macedonia.

HOUSE OF LORDS PASSES LAND BILL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Aug. 10.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The House of Lords today passed the third reading of the Irish Land Bill.

Prior to the third reading of the bill, the Duke of Devonshire said that, while he was unable to forecast the action of the House of Commons on the landlords' amendments adopted by the House of Lords, he was confident that the position of the government in the lower house would not be altogether irreconcileable.

Lord Abercorn on behalf of the landlords, thanked the Duke for his courteous reception of the amendments, and said he believed the bill would benefit the whole of Ireland. He trusted that the amendments would be received by the House of Commons in the same spirit as they had been passed by the lords.

"DEVILISH SLY" JOEY.

LORD CECIL FRIES HIM.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LONDON, Aug. 11.—[By Atlantic Cable.] When the appropriation bill was called up in the House of Commons today several attempts were made to discuss Mr. Chamberlain's fiscal proposals, this being the last possible chance before the prorogation of Parliament. The Speaker, however, ruled that the fiscal matter was irrelevant to the subject under consideration.

Incidentally, Lord Hugh Cecil delighted the opposition by caustically commenting on Premier Balfour's dislike of criticism, and Mr. Chamberlain's use of his official position to propagate statements which were largely conjectural. He thought that a protest ought to be entered against Mr. Chamberlain's way of combining his prestige as a minister with the liberty of an ordinary politician in order to forward his views. It was a scandal, said Lord Hugh Cecil, scarcely less than the Premier's attitude toward all proposals to discuss the fiscal policy in the House of Commons.

LABOR RIOTS IN KIEFF.

SHOOTING OCCURS DAILY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LONDON, Aug. 11.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Firms here have received mail advices from Kieff, Russia, dated last Saturday, which say that the strikers have completely paralyzed business and will not allow finished machinery to be delivered from manufactories. The men turned girls out of dressmaking and other work shops under threat of death. The streets were full of soldiers, according to these advices, and shooting occurred daily. The price of bread has risen 150 per cent., and is still going up. The troops are working the waterworks.

WRECK ON THE "KATY."

Twenty-one Passengers Injured, Some of Them Seriously, but None Killed. Spreading Rails the Cause.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SEDALIA (Mo.) Aug. 11.—In the wreck of the north-bound Missouri, Kansas and Texas "flyer" train No. 6, near Schell City, Vernon county, at 11:30 o'clock last night, twenty-one passengers were injured, but no one was killed. Spreading rails caused the derailment. The wreck was one of the worst the road has sustained in years.

The postal car, combination mail car and a chair car were badly wrecked, while three others were derailed. The engine with the first car of the train ploughed about 150 yards before it was stopped, tearing up the track.

The injured were taken to Nevada on the regular train this morning and sent to the hospital. Many of them are badly hurt.

NORTH ATLANTIC FLEET.

Will Rendesvous at Rockland, Me., Before Participating in the Joint Army and Navy Attack on Portland.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BAR HARBOR (Me.) Aug. 11.—It was learned today that the combined North Atlantic fleet gathered here will rendezvous at Rockland, instead of this place, before participating in the joint army and navy attack on Portland, August 27-29. The fleet, except two training ships, which were considered too slow for the trip, is scheduled to leave here tomorrow afternoon for Long Island Sound, to engage in manœuvers and tactics. The vessels will arrive at Oyster Bay next Saturday, and will be reviewed by the President next Monday.

NEW STING IN TOWN.

Ten Philadelphians Bitten By Mosquitoes and One of Victims Dies.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The new mosquito has come to town. He does not differ much from his other brothers except in his sting. Since his arrival, however, ten men, women and children have called at Pennsylvania hospitals for treatment, and one man has died.

This new mosquito comes humming through the darkness of the bedroom, alights, and gets busy in the same old way. After his thirst for blood is quenched, he sails away singing. A few hours later, the bitten one feels great pain, and his wound swells and inflames. Hospital physicians believe that the bites of these mosquitoes are poisonous for the reason that they feed on the refuse and decayed fruit that is being thrown into the streets.

The victim who died is John Columbus, motorman, of No. 232 Hudson street, Gloucester City, N. J. He was bitten by one of the new mosquitoes and scratched the wound until the blood came. Blood poisoning set in and it was impossible to save his life.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OCONOMOWOC (Wis.) Aug. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] William W. Minckle of this city received notice today that he was one of the heirs to an estate in Holland of $20,000,000, left to the Minckle family through the death of a relative.

"QUEERED" THE PASTOR.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SIOUX FALLS (S. D.) Aug. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Because Rev. T. A. Miller, for some time pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Kimball, painted and papared a saloon building, he has been compelled to resign his position as pastor. His salary was not sufficient to support him, and on week days he worked at papering and painting buildings. He was looked upon as a very industrious man until he painted and papered a saloon building. Then the members decided it was time for him to retire.

DAVIDSON'S COLOR SCHEME.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. PAUL, Aug. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Rev. J. F. Davidson of Tacoma is settling the negro problem in a practical way by organizing a colonization movement among the negroes of the South. He passed through St. Paul today with a party of twenty-five negroes from Louisiana, all of whom will take up land in Washington. This is the vanguard, Rev. Davidson says, of a considerable movement of colored people from southern cities to the farming lands of the West.

REFUSED LICENSE TO HEYBURN.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 11.—Senator Heyburn of Idaho is here awaiting the day set for his marriage to Miss Geraldine Yeatman, sweetheart of his boyhood, and divorced wife of a doctor who lives at Kennett Square, Pa. The Senator went to the office of the clerk of the court and asked for a marriage license. He answered all the questions until the clerk asked for particulars as to his fiancé's divorce, of which the Senator had no personal knowledge. As this has to be part of the record, no license could be issued. Senator Heyburn sent his private secretary to Kennett Square to secure the necessary papers. The wedding is to take place on Wednesday.

A BACK NUMBER.

The Milk and Egg Diet.

Starving the patient who has a sick stomach, is an out of date treatment and no longer necessary with the predigested and nourishing food Grape-Nuts that the weakest stomach can handle and grow strong upon.

There is plenty of proof of this: "I had suffered from stomach trouble for six years and for most of the last two years had been confined to my bed, the trouble having become chronic in spite of the very best medical attention. I had always been a coffee drinker but for the past year I could not drink it at all because it made me so nervous I could not sleep and my appetite was almost entirely gone.

"Then some friend advised me to try the predigested food Grape-Nuts and about three months ago I did so and since that time my improvement has been so rapid that my customers and friends are astonished and every day someone remarks upon my changed condition. I have gained 15 pounds, sleep well, my appetite is good and my digestion is perfect. Where I have lived on milk and light diet for years I now eat most anything I want and don't suffer any inconvenience either. The way Grape-Nuts food has built up my stomach and strengthened my nervous system particularly is just wonderful.

"I drink your food drink Postum too and no longer feel the want of coffee. There is absolutely no doubt that leaving off coffee and using Grape-Nuts and Postum has brought me out of my bed from an invalid back to fine health." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"There is reason" and that reason is plain to anyone who will spend a few minutes investigating in the interest of health.

Send to the company for particulars by mail of extension of time on the $7500 cooks contest for 735 money prizes.

IMPERIAL COUNTRY GREAT IN PROMISE.

POPULATION EXPECTED TO GROW SEVERAL FOLD IN YEAR.

Colonization Season Opening Early With Three to Four Thousand People Established — Large Grain Harvest. Towns Are Growing.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

IMPERIAL, Aug. 11.—The first signs of a new colonization season are found in the return of settlers who have been out for the summer, and the arrival of several prospective settlers. The season is thus opening unusually early, and it begins with from 2000 to 4000 people regularly established on their farms in the valley and in the towns. A year ago there were probably a thousand people here, while the previous year there were two or three hundred. There can be little doubt that during the next eight months the population will increase several fold, partly because many new persons have secured lands and many more have indicated their intention to come in, and partly because many men who have come to the valley are now preparing to bring their families. It is the current belief here that the population of the valley will rise from ten to fifteen thousand by spring.

FARMING OPERATIONS.

The grain harvest still continues, lack of sufficient harvesting machinery having prolonged it. For several weeks barley and wheat have beengoing to Los Angeles from the valley at the rate of from three to five carloads a day, and this rate of shipment will continue for a good many weeks yet. Imperial is rather proud of this first outward movement of the products of the soil, for what was absolute desert two years ago.

The area of summer crops (Egyptian corn or Kaffir corn) is thought to amount to about fifteen thousand acres, making the total crop acreage for the year of extensive preparations are making in parts of the valley for seeding to barley and alfalfa, and while the matter is necessarily one for conjecture rather than demonstration, it is believed the acreage under all the irrigation ditches will reach 100,000 by spring.

Individual farms are taking on evidences of thrift as the farmers come to fit up their holdings, and fences are going up all over the valley as fast as the farmers can get to their farms. Several carloads of cattle and hogs have been brought in during the last month, and there are several thousand of each in the valley.

There is a tendency among the farmers to get from grain to alfalfa as rapidly as possible, and there will be several thousand acres seeded to the latter during the coming fall. This is the definite object of building up the stock and dairy industry, which has been a main idea from the beginning. There was some doubt was expressed by persons regarding the future of Imperial here, but all doubt has since been dissipated. Some mistakes were made in sowing it at first, but there is constant improvement in the appearance of all the fields, and everybody has faith in the crop now.

RAILROAD EXTENSIONS.

There will be activity in railroad building during the coming fall and winter. The Southern Pacific Company will lay rails and ties in Imperial Valley, the location of the Imperial branch or Mexican line at or near Calexico, the exact route it will follow not yet determined.

The Santa Fe has mapped out the route for eleven miles east of Imperial, and the man who has financed a number of roads will be here to take charge of the work. Under the large power in Imperial Valley, which was in Imperial during the past year, it is expected that work would be begun this fall on the Santa Fe's new line, connecting Holtville with the Imperial Railroad.

These railroad extensions will open up vast areas to more profitable cultivation, doing away with a large part of the expense in shipping points.

The road to Calexico will be of especial importance, as it will not only mean the development of the Imperial Valley, but will be of great value in bringing to and from the immediate vicinity of the California and Arizona Land and Cattle Company, which comes from near the International line down into Mexico to the CENTERS OF COLONIZATION.

The centers of colonization in the valley are now in the northeast and southeast, it is at those points that the irrigation system is being extended and new fields are being made. They are being watered, under Imperial Water Districts 1 and 2. The irrigated area is now being extended for two miles south from the Mexican line. The road from the Mexican line to Calexico parallels the frontier line, and is only a few miles from the line, and is straight miles. One can now travel more than twenty miles north from the line on an air-line without getting off the road of cultivated farms, where water from the first irrigation water

The new centers of colonization are getting their fair share of attention, a number of the new comers prefer to locate in buildings of other persons, rather than go in the older settlements, where steadily filled, and the population is steadily increasing, and as there are many now in private holdings subject to irrigation, it is believed there is yet room for tens of thousands of people.

TOWN GROWING.

It has never been a time when the town of Imperial was not growing. It will be incorporated as a city of the sixth class this fall, and has registered a pretty good record. A three-year-old agricultural paper, two brick buildings and a number of fine residences are now being built. Contracts have been let for two large warehouses and a barley mill. The Santa Fe will begin building its depot in October. Negotiations are pending for a brick store building, which is to be built this fall. Two other brick stores are to be built in the fall. Work will be begun on a fine school building within a few days. A company is being incorporated to build an $8000 brick hotel, and a number of several other buildings, which seem to be certain of construction rapidly as the work can be done.

Imperial doesn't stand alone. The towns of the valley are making progress, each one of them is to be provided with a new school building this year.

There is no doubt that the town of Holtville, getting definite location, and the town south of Imperial, will be the scene of much activity this winter, and that there will begin a number of towns to spring up within a month.

IRRIGATION PROJECT.

The irrigation project is of interest to the whole valley, for the Holton company has acquired the power in the Eastside canal, and will begin this fall to develop the power, with a view to its transmission by electricity to any point in the valley where demand exists. The company has a guarantee of 18,000 miner's inches of water in the canal, which has a drop of forty feet. This is expected to develop 1700-horse power. The electric plant to be installed in part this fall is expected to cost $75,000. The company behind the project is very strong financially, among the stockholders being W. C. Patterson of Los Angeles, and H. G. Hubbard, C. A. Barker and other well-known capitalists of Redlands. There is good prospect that during the coming winter a transmission line will be run to Imperial, to serve this town with light and power.

GROWING STABILITY.

Work such as that outlined is steadily eradicating the evidences that Imperial Valley is the frontier of civilization, and probably no country ever took on the elements of stability quicker. If the eight or ten thousand new colonists who are expected this winter materialize, by spring the valley will look like a country which has been farmed for fifty years, with the one exception of the farm buildings, and they are steadily getting on a higher level.

FRESNO GOES AHEAD LIKE LOS ANGELES.

STATE'S THIRD CITY AS REGARDS COMMERCIAL SHIPMENTS.

Foundation Laid for Place of First Importance, but Serious Problems to be Solved—Raisin Association—Labor-union Question.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

FRESNO, Aug. 9.—"Los Angeles on a small scale" is what the visitor from the south says after a few days' study of this metropolis of Central California. The same thrift in the individual and public spirit in the mass that placed Los Angeles in her present enviable position, is rapidly doing the same for Fresno. The Raisin City now ranks third in the State as regards commercial shipments, which may be a matter of surprise to some of the readers of The Times, but when one sees a little of the business done in the thirty-odd packing houses that line either side of the two transcontinental roads that give this valley access to the world, it is easily understood, and the little city of 20,000 assumes an added importance.

Fresno has the foundation already laid for a city of the first importance. Much will depend on the manner in which her business men handle some very important questions that are arising and which must be faced and solved properly. The first question, the perpetuity of the California Raisin Growers' Association, is of interest to every man in this valley from the richest to the poorest. This association, formed for the purpose of protecting the grower, has been of inestimable value to all classes, and much of the material growth of Fresno has been due to its influence. It has controlled the price of export raisins and placed the industry on a sound footing. Growers have been enabled to realize from 1 to 1¾ cents more on their product than before the association took hold.

In order that the association may not be handicapped in its operations, it has required each season the signatures of the individual growers. When 75 to 80 per cent. of the acreage has been signed up the association can determine prices on a sure basis, and the result has been good for the grower for many years. Up to the present writing not more than 60 per cent. have so far signed up, and of the remaining 40 per cent., 30 is in the hands of Armenian growers, and may not be secured at all, and it is this 30 per cent. that will be a disturbing element. Grave fears are entertained that this season will see the finish of the association, and that is what is worrying all classes. If the grower has to go back to the old way of the hand-to-hand fight with the packing houses, it means a cent loss on every pound of raisins dried. In cold figures, it would mean nearly half a million dollars' loss to the county, not counting loss of wages and decrease of acreage.

LABOR QUESTION.

The second burning question is "Shall Fresno be unionised," and this the conservative labor man must answer in no uncertain voice. The signs of the times point to a defeat of unionism and its arrogance. The same tactics have been pursued here as in other large places, and the people generally are getting tired of the rank play. A few days ago a prominent member of another union pointed out a row of striking linemen, and indicating a lad of 20, said: "That kid there was making $87.50 a month when he struck, which is more pay than I ever got in any month since I have worked, and now, because he wasn't satisfied with very good pay, I have to contribute 25 cents a week to his support."

This is the feeling among the other unions, and while there may have been some sympathy expressed for the telephone girls in their strike, the world seems to wag just the same. The building trades are stagnant here for two reasons, the high price of trust lumber and the awful uncertainty of continuous labor, two extremes that furnish food for thought.

POLYGLOT TOWN.

The third issue before Fresno people for a little thought is its foreign element, and how best to assimilate it. For a city of its size it is as polyglot as Paris. There are more languages spoken here than in any other place in California. There are Chinese, Japanese and East Indians, Turks, Armenians and Greeks, Italians, French and Portuguese, Germans, Russians and Hungarians, Spanish, Mexicans and Native Indians, and a few Americans. These varying races are not represented by sporadic cases, but usually by substantial colonies. The doubt is already abroad as to their adaptability for good citizenship. A case arising recently in the Superior Court, where a lad of 18 asked the court to remove his father as natural guardian and appoint another, has been noted in many of the Coast as well as a few eastern papers. The father, an influential member of the Russo-German colony, claimed before the court the right to put his son out to work and collect the proceeds. The boy could neither read nor write, and was ambitious to learn, seeing the advantages to be derived, but the father, who could neither read nor write himself could see no reason in it, and persistently refused to supply the means for the necessary education. The court, in complying with the boy's request, made criticisms regarding the importation of foreign ideas and customs, that had the right ring to them. The student of sociological conditions can have a free hand here.

TAKES AFTER WIGGINS.

The Chamber of Commerce has reached the 800 mark, and joy reigns. Nutt, who all winter was piloting tenderfeet over the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce exhibit and incidentally exhorting on the glories of Fresno, borrowed some of Frank Wiggins's enthusiasm, and came back here on a campaign for members. He got them. A building for a permanent exhibit is nearing completion, and will be one of the attractions of Fresno.

TRAVEL TIDE SOUTH.

The tide of travel for pleasure is south this year, and hundreds of Fresno people are at Los Angeles and its unsurpassed resorts, but a little more generous advertising throughout the whole valley would pay in dollars and cents. There is prosperity here, and work, but the labor market is supplied, and some are leaving for the hop fields farther north, owing to the lateness of the raisin crop and a small uncertainty as to profitable wages.

There are more than 230 miles of street gas pipes for less than 150,000 people, in Los Angeles; 600 or 700 people per mile of pipe, without any waste!

Most cities have two or more systems of pipes over-lapping and crowding each other; waste.

We have good gas at $1.00 a 1000; which seems the most natural thing in the world to us, because we are used to it.

They pay more for poor gas; and their gas companies seem to be masters!

BUSINESS.

Local bank clearings yesterday aggregated more than a million dollars, stopping at $1,070,377.57, as compared with $736,104.47 for the corresponding period of last year and $595,860.92 for the same day in 1901.

Oats closed higher than the opening figures, but wheat and corn dropped below opening prices at Chicago. The tone of the New York stock market was calmer, and there was a feeling that the worst liquidation may be regarded as completed.

GOLD STANDARD FOR MEXICO.

For some time past our neighboring republic, Mexico, has been considering the advisability of changing its monetary system from the silver to the gold standard. The question has been very thoroughly canvassed, and the result will probably be that within a few months—as soon as the proposed change can be made without serious disturbance—the silver standard will be abandoned in favor of the gold or modified gold standard. The question of Mexican finances, and especially that of the monetary standard, has been made the subject of careful investigation by the Monetary Commission appointed for that purpose. The conclusions reached all point to the adoption of the gold standard as the most feasible solution of the questions presented.

In the Mexican Herald of August 3 is published a report by Mr. Ricardo Garcia Granados, chairman of the third subcommittee of the Mexican Monetary Commission. This report recommends the immediate adoption of the gold standard. As the Mexican government is in a moral sense bound by the findings of the commission, there is not much doubt that the recommendations of the report will be followed. Mr. Granados's report is a very able review of the monetary situation in Mexico. It evinces not only a thorough familiarity with the financial needs of that country, but a comprehensive understanding of the financial systems of the world, and of their relations to Mexico. He finds that in addition to the monetary fluctuations and critical periods which are inevitable in the present condition of the civilized world in general, there are others to which Mexico is particularly exposed, due to the fact that it has retained the silver standard, while nearly all the nations of the civilized world have adopted the gold standard. The fluctuations due to this cause are classed as those which are regular and normal, and as those which are extraordinary and unforeseen. To the latter, chiefly, are attributed the periods of financial stringency.

"Inasmuch as Mexico produces a quantity of silver far superior to her needs," says Mr. Granados, "and as her dollars have a considerable outlet in the markets of Asia, it follows that said dollars play a double role, viz., that of metallic money at home, and that of a commodity, of which a great quantity is exported, just as all nations export the excess of articles of which the production is stimulated by the special circumstances of each. . . . Thus, in the year 1902 the exportation of coin, which in the months from January to June amounted to only $461,500, rose in the months from July to December to $17,621,000, while the exportation of vegetable products, which in the first half of the year was valued at $33,150,000, fell off in the second half to $24,597,000." Approximately the same economical phenomena were observed in the years preceding 1902, so that the amount of cash in the country, toward the end of each year, is very much less than that available in the middle of the year. The only remedy for this unhealthy economical condition, in the opinion of Mr. Granados, "consists in a change in the monetary policy, either by the adoption of the gold standard, or a new silver money to be coined in limited quantities, and which will not have the character of a mere commodity."

The periods of extraordinary crisis occasioned by the sudden and unforeseen demand or offer of silver abroad, are regarded by Mr. Granados as more serious than the regular fluctuations. These extraordinary fluctuations "are increasing both in frequency and intensity in proportion as said metal loses its value and descends more and more to the level of a mere commodity." He says:

"In former years, when gold was scarce, and the civilized nations were treading upon one another's heels in their eagerness to adopt the gold standard, I consider that the silver basis was advantageous to Mexico, for a money that is losing slowly its purchasing power, without violent fluctuations, benefits debtors, who are the majority, by facilitating payments and neutralizing in part the all-absorbing influence of capital; bankruptcies are less frequent and with the increase of confidence capital circulates more freely and production is stimulated. These advantages were offered by silver while gold was continually increasing in value on account of the great demand and small output, causing Bismarck to compare it to a blanket too narrow to cover so many persons. At present circumstances are very different, owing to the considerable increase in the production of gold, attended by a curtailment in the demand, on the one hand, and, on the other, to the fact that silver, which is offered in even greater quantities than gold, is subject to violent fluctuations and our country has become converted into a sort of receptacle for that metal at the disposal of the foreigner. As a natural consequence of this situation, the amount of our metallic currency no longer depends on our own needs, but upon the international markets, and the fact that our money is at the same time a commodity renders us liable to alternations of plethora and contraction, altogether beyond our control, whether the cause be a positive demand on the part of foreign nations, as in the case of the war with China, or a mere gambling speculation on the international bourse. When such conditions prevail commerce is reduced to a game of chance; foreign capital does not enter the country on the scale which it ought to enter, so that the rate of interest is maintained at a high figure and agriculture and industry are held back; the railway companies suffer serious losses; agricultural credit remains an unrealizable dream; the prices of merchandise rise out of all reason on account of the instability of exchange, causing serious harm and suffering to the immense majority of the people."

It is plain enough, as Mr. Granados points out, that while the fluctuations in the value of Mexican coin are so great, it is virtually impossible to find a firm foundation for operations extending over any considerable length of time, for which reason "cautious persons refrain from investing their capital, and the rate of interest is thus maintained at a very high figure." Another unsettling factor of the situation has been the extremely large increase in the production of both silver and gold, which has tended steadily to depreciate silver, both by overstocking the market, and by providing for it a preferable substitute, rendering its use for monetary purposes less and less necessary. After giving some significant and interesting figures relative to the production of both gold and silver of late years, Mr. Granados closes his able report as follows:

"These figures demonstrate to the point of evidence that gold is at present not only not scarce, but tends to predominate absolutely as the sole standard and measure of values, silver being relegated to a secondary and subsidiary role as token coinage. In this matter an isolated or independent system is not possible for modern nations, for so intimate are now the relations of nations that, as Messrs. Pimentel have remarked in their paper submitted to the agricultural society, we have witnessed the extraordinary fact that our Indian's garb of manta costs more, because China has to pay a gold indemnity to the European powers. Our commerce is carried on at present almost exclusively with gold-standard countries and if we wish to avoid or mitigate monetary and mercantile crises, it is imperative that we introduce a monetary reform that will give stability to our currency."

Mexico will make no mistake in adopting the gold standard, thus placing herself in alignment with the leading nations of the world. That she should take this stand sooner or later was inevitable. It is well, therefore, that her statesmen have resolved to meet the crisis so promptly and so effectively.

If some one were to propose a more direct route to heaven than any now known no doubt there would be somebody, or several of them, to rise up on end and object.

ENEMIES OF NATIONAL IRRIGATION.

In the Irrigation Age for the month of July Thomas F. Weedin, editor of the Florence (Ariz.) Blade, had the first of a series of articles on "The San Carlos versus the Tonto Reservoir," in which, among other things, he reiterated the insinuations of bribery against officials of the United States Geological Survey. This question of San Carlos versus Tonto Basin has been pretty thoroughly thrashed out in The Times, and it is unnecessary to go again over the same ground. Charges of bribery and corruption have been hurled around in a most reckless fashion by a small coterie of Florence people. The Times knows that it has not been bribed, or offered a bribe, and it does not believe for a moment that either the distinguished officials of the Geological Survey or George H. Maxwell have done anything unworthy of them in this connection.

There seems to be a deliberate attempt making to discredit the Geological Survey in the minds of the people, in connection with the work of national irrigation, and to a man up a tree it looks very much as if the cattle barons of Wyoming were using the irrigationists of the lower Gila Valley as catspaws, to pull their chestnuts out of the fire. The purpose evidently is to discredit the national administration in regard to forestry and irrigation.

Here are three significant items that appeared in a Wyoming paper previous to the death of Gov. Richards. In the first, he appealed for Federal aid to extinguish forest fires in Wyoming, making it evident that the State was impotent to cope with the problem of preserving her own forests. The next clipping was an interview with Gov. Richards, in which he threatened that Wyoming would oppose Roosevelt's nomination in the Republican National Convention, if he continued to enforce his forest policy in Wyoming. The third was a half-column article giving an account of a great pumping plant and irrigation system which Gov. Richards was planning to construct for his 40,000-acre ranch.

The Wyoming crowd have evidently perfected plans for a thorough press campaign. The Irrigation Age—which editorially indorses the Weedin article—carries their banner, and they have several journals in the West. Meantime, they are continuing their policy of dissimulation—pretending to want one thing when they are, in fact, trying to get another.

As a contribution to the other side of the question, read these frank, outspoken, clear-cut and manly remarks, recently made by Fred H. Newell, of the Geological Survey—one of the men whom Weedin indirectly charges with having been bribed:

"We have been advised of the completion of the water users' organization, and the recording of titles which secure the government for money which will be laid out. Now, the next thing is for us here in Washington to go over the whole matter carefully, with the papers, etc., and see that the law is going to be complied with to the letter. The large holdings must be divided up so that no one settler will have more than 160 acres, and we may determine that a smaller subdivision is advisable.

"Some of the large landholders seem to think there will be some way to get around the requirement of the law. They will learn their mistake. If they hold their lands at unreasonably high prices until the work is completed, and do not let bona fide settlers take them up, we will simply cut them out and turn the water upon the cheap lands. We are determined that the people shall have the benefit of the irrigation work and that it shall not enrich any few individuals."

The indiscreet and unjustifiable attitude assumed by these Florence people can only have the effect of delaying the project which they advocate. The charges advanced by Mr. Reppy and the Florence crowd are not taken seriously by anyone at Washington. The San Carlos reservoir will doubtless be constructed, as soon as the government can get around to it, but the work will not be hastened by abuse of government officials who are doing their duty as they see it. Meantime, the Pima Indians, for whom these Florence people have suddenly developed so much solicitude, will be taken care of by Congress, through the Indian Department.

It may be added that neither Wyoming cattle barons nor Arizona kickers will be able to obstruct or delay the beneficent work of national irrigation, so long as we have in the White House a man who knows his duty and is not afraid to do it.

At the Chautauqua "mob conference" one John Temple Graves of Georgia has risen up in the defense of lynching, holding that, "while lynching is a crime, it is justified by the crime which provokes it, and that it will never be discontinued until that crime is eliminated." What a monstrous doctrine to be publicly proclaimed in a land of law and order! There is nothing that justifies the commission of crime, and, by acknowledging that lynching is a crime, this defender of that awful practice has given away his case. Even were the lynchers absolutely sure, every time, that they were lynching the guilty person (which they never can be,) there can be made no valid defense of that dreadful act which deprives a human being of life without due process of law. To maintain that doctrine is to applaud anarchy and insurrection, for a lynching bee is an insurrection—nothing less. If lynching is ever right, then no man is safe, for what assurance has he that some charge will not be trumped up at any time, by somebody, that will cause his "removal?" It is high time that the people of this country who believe in lynching for crime of any character did some clear thinking on this momentous subject. The law must reign, and lawlessness must be suppressed. There the nation stands, and there it must stand, or its destruction is as sure as that the sun shines in the zenith at midday. To applaud lynching is treason against the government, and traitors must be made to understand it. Two wrongs never made one right. Americans must get out of the fog, and think straight, and see straight. Such arguments as those advanced by Mr. Graves of Georgia are a disgrace to the American name, a shame to the man who speaks them!

The subterranean horror in Paris is further evidence that the moderns are paying dearly for their improvements in transportation methods. It is dreadful enough to become involved in a railroad disaster on the earth's surface, but when the scene is removed underground, where all avenues of escape are practically cut off, as they were in Paris, the misery of it all is many times manifolded. But we shall probably go right on building railroads under ground and up in the air, running trains oftener and at higher speed, and otherwise taking desperate chances with Fate. Everybody is in a hurry everywhere, and the crowds are becoming more dense everywhere. If the entire mundane sphere doesn't become involved in some dreadful calamity through the activity of the human mind and the operations of the human hand we shall have a right to consider ourselves extremely fortunate.

The country will hear with regret that Mr. Root proposes to retire from the post of Secretary of War. He has made an admirable officer, and his administration of a great department has been distinctly able, discreet and distinguished. The nation is his debtor in a large sum of praise and thanks for duty well performed. And his administration shines with especial luster beside that of his predecessor in that high office. It will take a strong man to keep the pace set by the man from New York.

The Typographical Union will continue the assessment upon its members of 5 cents per capita to be used in "downing The Times" (advertising this newspaper broadly, as well,) and the good people of Los Angeles will continue to support The Times with courage, money and encouraging words. As has been previously remarked, the 5 cents per capita will come in handy in increasing the volume of the circulating medium in this city. Let the good work go on.

The chief difference about the street sprinkling now and when it was done by contract, is that the thoroughfares of the city are a little muddier, or considerably deeper in dust, than they were before. If the streets could be sprinkled, instead of flooded, there would probably be water enough to go 'round. Judging by the looks of some of the streets that are soggy and slippery with mud, most of the reservoirs must be dry and even the frogs therein croaking for a drink.

The mines of Cripple Creek have been closed by strikers, and the miners who have gone out are taking themselves to other localities where they will undertake to get something to do in order that they may continue to eat. What a merry game it is, anyway.

SWEEPER INSPECTED.

Councilmen Look Over New Machine for Cleaning City's Streets and Are Pleased With Working Thereof.

A big bunch of Councilmen, following a bid red Something that emitted vast volumes of black coal smoke and might have been a patent tamale wagon, but was nothing of the sort—only the new suction street sweeper—was the center of attraction on Broadway last night about 10:30 o'clock.

The machine started at First and Broadway, cleaning a ten-foot swath down to Fourth. It took the dirt out of the cracks and crevices at the sides of the asphalt, cleaned out the interstices between the stone blocks in the gutters, and generally proved itself to be a success, so far as doing the work is concerned. All the Councilmen expressed themselves as well pleased with the machine.

The general features of the affair are a boiler, a small engine, a blower rotary fan, a dust bin, and brushes to loosen up the dirt on the streets. It carries coal and water enough for a night's trip. The objection last night was to the black smoke. It created a worse smudge than a torpedo boat burning soft coal under forced draft. If the machine is accepted, as seems probable from last night's comment, an oil burner will be installed and the smoke nuisance can be done away with. There would be little use of a smoke ordinance else, with the city as chief offender.

The curious spectacle of Kern, Skilling, Bowen, et al., stooping to the asphalt, swatting their palms thereon and diligently inspecting them at the next light for dirt, and joyfully spreading the amazing information, "It's clean," was greatly enjoyed by those who failed to leave their risibles at home.

A Safe Wager.

Among the many annoyances to which men prominent in the nation's service are subject is the constant effort of irrepressible strangers to affect an appearance of the greatest intimacy with them.

In Washington Admiral Dewey is, perhaps, the greatest sufferer in this respect. Courteous and genial as he is, the admiral invariably greets every one saluting him; but he detests the species of strange individual who endeavors to approach him in the manner usually reserved for his intimate friends.

Not long since the head of the navy was astonished suddenly to find his hand grasped by a man whom he had never to his knowledge seen before. This person had the effrontery to exclaim:

"George, I'll wager you don't know me!"

MILLIONS EXPECTED BY JAMES REAVIS.

HAS STARTLING PROPOSITION FOR HIS MONEYED FRIENDS.

Proposes to Control and Distribute Underflow Water of Gila and Salt Rivers, Arizona, and Make Great Fortune—His Spanish Scheme.

James Reavis, or "Peralta" Reavis, as he has been better known, a more or less famous native Californian formerly of this city, has recently left for the East to lay before some of his old millionaire friends of Pacific Coast fame a startling proposition whereby he expects to develop millions.

Reavis has a brother in Los Angeles, and is well known to many of the earlier citizens still resident here. His chief notoriety was gained in his scheme to recover the great lost Peralta Spanish land grant in Arizona and New Mexico years ago.

Reavis is said to have been the close friend of such millionaires as C. P. Huntington, Mackey, Senator Hearst and others whose names are familiar in the history of the State. Two of the old band of millionaires who were interested in the Peralta grant are still living, and Reavis is now on his way East to consult with them concerning his latest vast scheme, and to propose to divide with them the millions which he expects will flow from it.

The idea which is to make Reavis a millionaire in his old age is the control and distribution of the underflow water on the Gila and Salt rivers in Arizona. It is a relic of the old land grant. When Reavis was investigating the grant in 1885 he saw a quarter of a century ahead when that whole country should be populous and productive by means of the distribution of the water for irrigation purposes. So he agitated things with reference to the land grant, but he also took the precautions to file on the water right for the two rivers. He let the grant go, because it was too much trouble to establish his claim, but he held to the water right and believed all the time that the day would come when the water right would be the more valuable of the two.

Reavis has deeded his rights to most of the surface water to the government to encourage the building of reservoirs, but he has held the underflow rights. Under every river there is an underflow through the sand that is remarkable. Reavis will build dams across and under the river and make this underflow rise and will sell it to the farmers of Arizona for irrigation purposes. At two points it is 1000 cubic feet per second and will irrigate 750,000 acres of land. The original water right will be sold at $10 an acre, which will bring in $7,500,000. Then the annual water rent will be $1 an acre, which will make an annual income of $750,000. There are two of these places, so that Reavis will be a total annual income of $1,500,000. This is not reckoning on the $15,000,000 for the original water rights, for that will be used up in building the two dams. Reavis will get only half of the annual income of $1,500,000.

He claims to be organizing a similar undertaking on the Gila River, where, he says, he already has obligations from prospective citizens amounting to $400,000, which will cover 40,000 acres of land, in addition to the 60,000 acres under cultivation, and the 30,000 or 40,000 acres held under the desert-land act.

Reavis claims that his scheme is to be the first practical demonstration of what the national irrigation bill can do.

The former Angeleño was in Spain looking up the ancient deeds to the land grant in question when the present King of Spain was born. He secured a photograph of the Queen mother, and much interesting advance matter, and sent them to a New York paper which, together with a San Francisco paper, was said to be backing him in the land-grant matter. The completeness and timeliness of the matter contained in these papers concerning the birth of the future Spanish King was a matter of no small comment at the time, especially in Spain.

Col. Robert G. Ingersoll was attorney for Reavis in the land-grant controversy. Most of the latter's associates in that big dream are dead, but "Peralta," 60 years old, is still after the millions which, as they [illegible] to materialize, but which [illegible] fondest hopes of attaining wondrous underflow in the where the rivers run [illegible] tom-up."

PASTOR SEES FLOCK STRAY...

Rev. Ward Expects Church Will Retire Him.

Baptist Brethren Having More Less Tribulation.

Will the Central Baptist Church ... tain Rev. Philip J. Ward as pastor?

This will be decided at an open meeting of the congregation tonight. ... there is a discussion of the objections to the pastor, an interesting session promised. Mr. Ward states that ... will waive this preliminary if the dissatisfied members will promise beforehand that any decision of the congregation will be followed by a peaceful attitude on their part. The vote of the congregation, however, will decide whether their personal views shall ... aired or not.

Mr. Ward is empowered by the church constitution to preside over the meeting, but would not state yesterday what his position will be on this question.

As to the temper of his flock, he thinks that the disaffection has been spread to such an extent that the vote will probably go against him. "My wife and I have been nearly worn out with anxiety for the past few weeks and will welcome the decision of the congregation, whether it be for or against me," said Mr. Ward yesterday.

"I have not learned even yet what charges, if any, there are against me, but I know that four members of the church were the originators of the disaffection, and I have observed that this feeling has communicated itself to others, who, in the first place, did not know of any personal grievance they had against me. I have asked several members whom I have reason to believe will vote against my retention of what way I had failed them as a preacher and pastor, but the only response I have had from any one is that a younger man should fill the pulpit and carry on the work."

Leonard Merrill, chairman of the board of trustees, summed up the case against Pastor Ward, without stating his own position, as follows: "The objections urged against Mr. Ward are that he is too old a man for the position, one-third of the congregation of the Central Baptist Church being young people; that he has a pulpit delivery too slow to suit many of the congregation, and that he is possessed of many traits, hard to define, which make him out of tune with many.

"For instance," said Mr. Merrill, "there are men whom you have to talk with only a few minutes to find out that they stir up a sort of antagonism in you. Many members of Mr. Ward's congregation have described him as being such a person in his effect on them."

If the vote goes against him Mr. Ward may exercise his prerogative of remaining pastor three months, as an agreement was made between pastor and congregation on Mr. Ward's taking charge of the church, that three months' notice should be given by the pastor if he were going to leave, and by the congregation if they wished to have a new pastor.

"If the vote is for my removal," said Mr. Ward, "and I see that I can be of no further use to the divided congregation, I will ask for the three months' salary which is coming to me on account of vacations which I have failed to take in past years. If the congregation is not disposed to grant this request then I will remain for the time decided on in my contract with the church."

DO CIRCULARS INTEND SNUB?

During the latter part of last week pastors of the Baptist churches throughout Southern California, received circular letters signed by Charles A. Baskerville, secretary of the Temple Baptist Church, and authorized by the governing body of the new religious organization, calling for the selection of delegates to assist in the ordination of Rev. Robert J. Burdette as a Baptist minister Thursday morning.

Whether intentionally or otherwise, the committee that drew up the letter made a grave mistake in Baptist etiquette.

Few Angelenos are asked for from each church, but it is specified that these persons shall be members of the congregation. The pastors are not included. Such a call or request is without precedent, it is said.

Rev. Ward was very much exercised over this omission, which he calls a slight, and say that the Baptist ministers should, and possibly will, express their sentiments relative to the affront. "I can't help but think that the action of the committee disregarding the time-honored right of ministers to confer at such a ceremony as the ordination of a preacher was an intentional slight. Mr. Burdette, I am sure, has no hand in it, as his relations with myself and other ministers of the Baptist Church are most cordial. I know that many other pastors feel as I do, and I am in favor of showing our disapproval."

PASTOR SMALE AT EASE.

Rev. Joseph Smale views the matter quite calmly. "The Baptist Church is a democratic institution," said he, "and as committees had the right to proceed as it did, although the action was very unusual. Still, I am not disposed to criticise them. At the request of my congregation I am to be one of the committees, and am empowered to choose the other."

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

New Exhibit of Indian Relics—California House at World's Fair Will be a Stunner.

A valuable and interesting addition to the Palmer collection of California Indian relics has just been installed in the Chamber of Commerce, where the balance of the exhibit has rested for some time.

The addition consists of sixty-one pieces gathered by Dr. F. M. Palmer in excavations recently made at Redondo during railroad work which cut through the ancient burial ground which has been found to exist there. It includes, according to the collector, some rare specimens never before discovered, among them a beautifully hollowed pipe about fourteen inches long, bent at almost at right angles in the center, a peculiar ceremonial stone, use unknown, the miniature carved figure of a wild cat, and a perfect figure of a whale. Hitherto stone effigies of fish only, and not of animals, have been found, and the fish images have always been more or less chipped and marred. There are also peculiar stone hammers, stone-shaped pestles of unknown, boat-shaped use instruments, discoidal drinking vessels, and a fine carving of ...

PASTOR SEES FLOCK STRAY.

Rev. Ward Expects Church Will Retire Him.

Baptist Brethren Having More or Less Tribulation.

Pastor Smale is Calm and Has Reins in Hand—Tonight's Climax.

Will the Central Baptist Church retain Rev. Philip J. Ward as pastor?

This will be decided at an open meeting of the congregation tonight. If there is a discussion of the objections to the pastor, an interesting session is promised. Mr. Ward states that he will waive this preliminary if the disaffected members will promise beforehand that any decision of the congregation will be followed by a peaceful attitude on their part. The vote of the congregation, however, will decide whether their personal views shall be aired or not.

Mr. Ward is empowered by the church constitution to preside over the meeting, but would not state yesterday what his position will be on this question.

As to the temper of his flock, he thinks that the disaffection has been spread to such an extent that the vote will probably go against him. "My wife and I have been nearly worn out with anxiety for the past few weeks, and will welcome the decision of the congregation, whether it be for or against me," said Mr. Ward yesterday.

"I have not learned even yet what charges, if any, there are against me, but I know that four members of the church were the originators of the disaffection, and I have observed that this feeling has communicated itself to others, who, in the first place, did not know of any personal grievance they had against me. I have asked several members whom I have reason to believe will vote against my retention in what way I had failed them as a preacher and pastor, but the only response I have had from any one is that a younger man should fill the pulpit and carry on the work."

Leonard Merrill, chairman of the board of trustees, summed up the count against Pastor Ward, without stating his own position, as follows: "The objections urged against Mr. Ward are that he is too old a man for the position, one-third of the congregation of the Central Baptist Church being young people; that he has a pulpit delivery too slow to suit many of the congregation, and that he is possessed of many traits, hard to define, which make him out of tune with many.

"For instance," said Mr. Merrill, "there are men whom you have to talk with only a few minutes to find out that they stir up a sort of antagonism in you. Many members of Mr. Ward's congregation have described him as being such a person in his effect on them."

If the vote goes against him Mr. Ward may exercise his prerogative of remaining pastor three months, as an agreement was made between pastor and congregation on Mr. Ward's taking charge of the church, that three months' notice should be given by the pastor if he were going to leave, and by the congregation if they wished to have a new pastor.

"The vote is for my removal," said he, "and I see that I can be of no further use to the divided congregation. I will ask for the three months' notice which is coming to me on account of vacations which I have failed to take in past years. If the congregation is not disposed to grant this request then I will remain for the time stipulated on in my contract with the church."

30 CIRCULARS INTEND SNUB?

During the latter part of last week pastors of the Baptist churches throughout Southern California received circular letters signed by Charles Hasbrouck, Bakersville, secretary of the Temple Baptist Church, and authorized by the governing body of the new religious organization, calling for the selection of delegates to assist in the ordination of Rev. Robert J. Burdette as a Baptist minister Thursday morning.

Whether intentionally or otherwise, the committee that drew up the letter made a grave mistake in Baptist etiquette.

The delegates are asked for from each church, but it is specified that three persons shall be members of the congregation. The pastors are not included. Such a call or request is without precedent, it is said.

Rev. Ward was very much exercised over this omission, which he calls a slight, and says that the Baptist ministers should, and possibly will, express their sentiments relative to the affront. "I can't help but think that the action of the committee disregarding the time-honored right of ministers to officiate at such a ceremony as the ordination of a preacher was an intentional slight. Mr. Burdette, I am sure, had no hand in it, as his relations with myself and other ministers of the Baptist Church are most cordial. I know that many other pastors feel as I do, and I am in favor of showing our disapproval."

PASTOR SMALE AT EASE.

Rev. Joseph Smale views the matter quite calmly. "The Baptist Church is a democratic institution," said he, "and the committee had the right to proceed as it did, although the action was very unusual. Still, I am not disposed to oppose them. At the request of my congregation I am to be one of the delegates, and am empowered to choose the other."

Hitherto stone effigies of fish only, and not of animals, have been found, and the fish images have always been more or less chipped and marred. There are also peculiar stone hammers, found only at Redondo, finely polished stone-shaped instruments, discoidal drilling implements, boat-shaped grinding vessels, and a fine carving of a serpent.

Whether California is to have the privilege of building its State structure on the magnificent elevation, almost in the center of the St. Louis World's Fair grounds, asked for by Commissioners Wiggins and Filcher during their recent visit there, has been removed by the receipt of the latest World's Fair bulletin from St. Louis, containing a revised map of the exposition grounds, with the chosen site of the California building plainly indicated. This location is an unusual one for the purpose in question, standing in an entirely different portion of the grounds from that containing the other State structures.

MASONIC RESOLUTIONS.

The Masonic Club of the Soldiers' Home has adopted appropriate resolutions on the death of Joseph G. Rowland. "We have lost a kind and faithful brother, the national home an efficient executive officer, his family a loyal and loving husband and father, society a good man and honorable gentleman, a man such as the country can ill afford to lose," say the resolutions, which are signed by Dr. H. E. Hasse, Patrick Colbert, F. D. Ludington, S. B. McCall, J. H. Dobbings, F. D. Batchelder and George A. Dills.

FOR SALE—ON SEPTEMBER 1 WE MOVE to 421 S. Broadway. Tomorrow morning we start the greatest cut in prices ever seen in Los Angeles on PIANOS at our REMOVAL SALE.

Our present warerooom has long since become too small to accommodate our rapidly-increasing business; we have been looking for a larger and better store and have found it; centrally located, large and spacious and easy of access by all car lines. We do not wish to take any of the stock from this store to the new one, so will dispose of EVERY PIANO on our floor at CUT PRICES.

This is your opportunity; don't miss it if you want a piano. Remember we are sole agents for the BEAUTIFUL BEHNING PIANO.

Our recommendations are hundreds of satisfied customers that we have sold to since we opened this store at Seventh and Broadway, a little over three years ago.

EVERY PIANO ON OUR FLOOR MUST BE SOLD Before we move.

Sale begins Monday morning at 9 o'clock. Come early and get first choice, before the stock is broken. Terms, $5 per month on new pianos, delivered in your home, with beautiful stool and scarf to match.

H. C. GILBERT PIANO CO., Seventh and Broadway. 13

CAN BIG MILL GO TO LIMIT?

Reese Graney Propounds the Question of the Hour.

Carpet May Be Better Than Jeffries Now Admits.

American Boat Wins at Toronto. Chutes Men's Officers—Los Angeles at Ball.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Eddie Graney, the big man who will decide who is winning of the world's championship Friday night, if the bout should happen to go forty rounds, has propounded a question that has caused considerable discussion as to the anxiety to close every bout if possible wrong. Graney has said the battle goes the limit, can anyone give the decision?" At first many have been inclined to think Corbett's science is so well above the bare possibility of his being outpointed in too remote to dwell upon, but careful students have replied to the effect of a bout going the limit has no bearing on the outcome. It is held that the latter contingent is right simply because twenty rounds cannot be fought without a deciding factor, no reason that Jeffries may not keep inflicting great punishment. The battle is scheduled as a finish and not a boxing match.

A tale has leaked out to the effect that Corbett has been hiding his light under for the last two weeks. The absence of Tommy Ryan at the camp has been noted extensively from Coast to Coast, but the fact that Ryan and Corbett have been boxing in private has not become public property. The set-to have not been batters, but Corbett has demonstrated his good judgment by accepting the advice that Ryan has to impart. All the secret affairs have taught Corbett points about Jeffries that have been learned in on other occasions.

Jeffries and his retinue will arrive at Coronado Wednesday night from Harbin Springs. It is his plan to show himself at the Reliance Club Thursday afternoon to a chosen few, and it is announced that Fitzsimmons will spar with Jeffries on that occasion. Referee Graney will be among those present, to settle that talk about the rules and their interpretation, in order that no one may have cause to delay matters when the fight is pulled off.

Tomorrow (Wednesday) afternoon a similar show will be made to Alameda people, the same end in view. The articles call for straight Marquis of Queensberry rules, which hardly need comment, but Graney wants to avoid all chances of trouble.

Both Corbett and large betters have become scarce during the last few days in San Francisco, but the few have wagered moderate amounts with Graney today, and speculation is the dispatch from New York that George Considine has taken Corbett's end for $1000, against $2000 offered by Eddie Burke. It is a matter of conjecture, for the reason that Graney is not friendly to Corbett, but states that sentiment is overwhelming figures in the wager. He says that Corbett will between the big fellow and considers the price to be too short. Considine is considered a fair judge of odds, and his action is followed by other New Yorkers who know his judgment.

Generally, betting has been quiet, but in New York, and a dispatch from Wakeley announced that he has $2500 to lay against Corbett's chances that he has not the slightest chance in the world. Jack Herman is willing to lay a like predicament.

PHYSICALLY PERFECT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—James Corbett today examined by Dr. Rixford Kinman, the official physician of the Yosemite Athletic Club, and pronounced in perfect health. In fact, a better man physically. In his report, the doctor says of Corbett: "Realizing the wonderful power in combination with marvelous speed he has at his command, and with unlimited care of exercise, he has developed muscular force required to stand the struggle for the championship with his giant opponent."

Corbett took a jaunt on the bay this afternoon with the gloves in the forenoon. He is in perfect condition, and proves it, but is not willing to take any chance on going back in the ring by taking an ill-advised step. Like Jeffries, he has various moves with pleasure, and has no sign of nervous strain which is a good condition in getting ready for contests.

Corbett is delighted with Jeffries' condition and says he will go through the onslaught he will make from start to finish.

DRAWING CARD.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—While it is rather quiet on the big fight, the interest in this respect is being made up by the enthusiasm that is being developed all over the country for the coming contest. It is said that the sale of seats for the fight will be the largest in the history of pugilism in this city. It is said that the heavyweights will play to a crowded house, and it is also said that the gate receipts will reach $50,000. It is said that Jeffries is scheduled to travel a longer route than they did to see Corbett and Jeffries here last fall. It is expected that fully the same audience will be drawn from out of town. Extra trains are made up as far away as Sacramento, and reservation made for thousands of seats.

COAST LEAGUE.

WHITEWASHED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 11.—The heavy hitting of the Los Angeles team were in connection with Pitcher Rogers in this afternoon's game. The result was that they were whitewashed. In reality, it should have been a drawn game. Hoy and Rogers struck through the opposing team, after making Smith's drive, fumbled it until the latter reached first. For six innings it was a pitchers' battle between Thomas and Hall, with no advantage on either side. In the seventh a hit by Eagan and an error by Wheeler allowed a runner to score, and in the ninth three more runs crossed the home plate. Score:

Sacramento, 4; hits, 10; errors, 0.
Los Angeles, 0; hits, 2; errors, 2.
Batteries—Thomas and Graham; Hall and Spies.
Umpire—Henry Devine.

PORTLAND-SEATTLE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Aug. 11.—Both teams did some hard slugging today, but Portland hit hard and with better luck, knocking two pitchers out of the box. The visitors made twenty-one hits with a total of 23 bases; Seattle 16 hits for a total of 20 bases. Score:

Portland 18; hits 21; errors 3.
Umpire—Levy.

PACIFIC NATIONAL LEAGUE.

SALT LAKE-BUTTE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SALT LAKE (Utah) Aug. 11.—Butte could do nothing with Wiggs's pitching this afternoon, the latter holding down the heavy hitters to three scattering hits. Roach received poor support from his team mates. Score:

Salt Lake, 8; hits, 9; errors, 2.
Batteries—Wiggs and Shea; Roach and Henry.

HELENA-SPOKANE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SPOKANE (Wash.) Aug. 11.—Putmann won from Liebhardt in a ten-inning pitchers' battle this afternoon. The fielding of both teams was ragged. Putmann helped to win his own game by knocking out a home run. Attendance 800. Score:

Spokane 5; hits 10; errors 2.
Batteries—Liebhardt and Hanson; Putmann and Carrisch.
Umpire—Warner.

SLAUGHTER OF M'CARTHY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Aug. 11.—Dennis McCarthy was slaughtered in the last three innings after pitching good ball up to that time. He was released after the game. Score:

Hits 9; errors 5.
Hits 13; errors 1.
Batteries—McCarthy and Hurley; Strickett and Hildebrand.

SAN FRANCISCO-TACOMA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TACOMA (Wash.) Aug. 11.—With a crippled team, necessitating the use of two pitchers in the infield, San Francisco won a close, fast game from the Tigers today. St. Vrain's poor throw to second in fielding a bunt was responsible for the visitors' first run. Pfeister's two-bagger and Marshall's single scored the other. Score:

San Francisco 2; hits 8; errors 1.
Tacoma 1; hits 7; errors 2.
Batteries—Pfeister and Zearfoss; St. Vrain and Byers.

AMERICAN LEAGUE GAMES.

OWEN ON HIS MUSCLE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CLEVELAND (O.) Aug. 11.—In the seventh inning Owen hit Bemis in the head with a pitched ball. He followed this up by giving Gochnauer a bob and making a wild throw on Joss's bunt. Bay's three-bagger then drove in three runs and won the game for Cleveland. Attendance, 2500. Score:

Cleveland, 4; hits, 7; errors, 0.
Batteries—Joss, Bemis and Abbott; Owen and Slattery.

BOSTON-PHILADELPHIA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Waddell was wild at the start today, and not particularly effective, and the home team easily defeated the visitors. Hughes's pitching rivalled his support. Attendance, 10,600. Score:

Boston, 5; hits, 10; errors, 2.
Philadelphia, 1; hits, 7; errors, 1.
Batteries—Hughes and Crimp; Waddell and Schreck.

NEW YORK-WASHINGTON.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The sixth and last game between Washington and New York resulted in another victory for the home club. It was the poorest exhibition of them all, only relieved by terrific hitting on the part of New York. Attendance, 1100. Score:

New York, 16; hits, 19; errors, 3.
Batteries—Howell and Beville; Townsend and Drill.

NATIONAL LEAGUE GAMES.

BROOKLYN TAKES FINAL ONE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BROOKLYN, Aug. 11.—In the final game of the series today the local team beat New York by a score of 2 to 1. It was a pitchers' battle. The fielding on both sides was sharp and errorless. Attendance, 2000. Score:

New York, 1; hits, 4; errors, 0.
Batteries—McGinnity and Warner; Garvin and Ritter.
Umpire—Hurst.

PHILADELPHIA POSTPONEMENT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 11.—Because of the accident at the National League baseball park Saturday, in which nine persons lost their lives and more than two hundred were injured, the three games scheduled between Philadelphia and Cincinnati for August 12, 13 and 14, have been postponed.

BUMPED OFF HIS STRIDE.

RIDER ROGERS'S HORSE FALLS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Aug. 11.—Guy Rogers, well known as a quarter horse rider in Butte and Denver, was fatally injured at the Meadows today while riding John H. Carr in the five-furlong race. The horse got away among the last in the break, and in the mix-up which always occurs in the fight for the rail into the turn, Carr was bumped off his stride and went to his knees. He rolled over, and Rogers went underneath. The horse almost immediately regained his feet, but Rogers lay motionless where he fell. Examination revealed that he was suffering from concussion of the brain. The boy died en route to a hospital.

Rogers first made his appearance as a jockey about three years ago at Butte, where he made considerable reputation as a jockey. Rogers's parents reside in Nez Perce county, Idaho. He was about 22 years of age.

WESTERN CHESS PLAYERS.

SCOTS AT THE BAT.

PHILLIES LOSE GOOD LEAD.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

EDINBURGH, Aug. 11.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The cricket match between the Philadelphia eleven and the Gentlemen of Scotland, which began here yesterday, when the Philadelphians made 302 runs in their first innings, was continued today. The Scottish team, on going in to bat this morning, made a poor showing against the splendid bowling and fielding of the visitors. At lunch time, they had lost five of their wickets for the paltry total of 36 runs. The Scotsmen were all out in their first inning for 145 runs.

The home eleven, being thus 157 runs behind, had to follow on, but the visitors, contrary to expectations, were unable to inflict a single inning's defeat, as the Scotsmen remained at the wickets until the close of the play, when the match was declared drawn on account of the time limit.

EIGHTY-EIGHTH RAID.

"THE" ALLEN PLACE ENTERED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The alleged poolroom conducted by "The" Allen in Sixth avenue was raided tonight for the eighty-eighth time, according to the count kept by the police. About three hundred men, whites and negroes, were caught in the place, but only four were placed under arrest.

The place was heavily fortified with iron bars at all the doors and windows, but a squad of detectives succeeded in catching the "lookouts" off their guard, and dashed through the front door when it was left a trifle open.

WINTER LEAGUE IS TO BE ORGANIZED.

FOUR CLUBS WILL BE IN IT AND POSSIBLY MORE.

Many Good Players Will be Available. National Teams to be Here Six Weeks. Portland Tennis Fans Think Freeman a Wonder—Coasting Contests.

Phil De Voin, who is local manager of the Los Angeles Pacific National League, has now practically completed arrangements for the winter league of Southern California, which will open a three months' season about December 1.

This scheme of a winter league has been under consideration by Mr. De Voin for some time, but not until within the last ten days was it decided upon as something more than a prospect. Now that the chances are so favorable for securing good players here this winter, De Voin has decided to go ahead with the organization.

It is the intention to have at least four clubs in the league, and these will be one from San Bernardino, one from Santa Barbara and two from this city. The games in this city will be played at Prager Park. Although no schedule has been arranged at this time, games will be played here every Saturday and Sunday, and in the other cities on Saturday and Sunday of every other week.

There will be plenty of good ball players available for a league of any desired strength, and the fans need not worry about this important thing. Catcher Jack Hardy, who was brought here by the Chicago National League team and who later played with Reilly's Pacific National team, is anxious to come back to California this winter. He is now playing in an Indiana State team. Fleming, who now leads the Western League in batting, is also very desirous of coming to this part of the country after the Western League season ends. These two are but samples of the players who will make up the Winter League.

After the two Coast leagues disband, the latter part of November, there will by thirty or forty players on the anxious seat for something to do, and there will be little trouble in signing all the good men who stay on the Coast this winter.

It is stated that other clubs may be taken into the league, but four clubs are assured.

NATIONAL GAMES.

FIVE SERIES IN THIS CITY.

In a letter to the sporting editor of The Times, Greeley Bentley, president of the Los Angeles Pacific National club, states that the Nationals will return to Los Angeles next week for six weeks of baseball.

Next week on Wednesday, Los Angeles and San Francisco will open at Prager Park, and will play for two weeks. There will be five games the first week and six the second, the second week opening on Tuesday. The third week, the team will go to San Francisco for one week, and then the Los Angeles club will return here for a series of games running through five weeks, playing Spokane, Seattle and San Francisco in turn.

The local Nationals have met with more than their share of good luck, for they have won over one-half of their games since leaving here on May 31, and that with two or three of their best players out of the game for days at a time, on account of sickness and accidents. Bentley writes that the Hildebrand boys, as pitcher and catcher, have proved the bright stars of the team, and are playing the game in first-class style.

Unless accidents prevent, the line-up for the opening game will be as follows: H. Hildebrand, catcher; A. Hildebrand, pitcher; Clark, first base; Steinweindel, second base; Reilly, third base; Hall shortstop; Gannon, right field; Walters, center field; Householder, left field.

LOU FREEMAN'S TENNIS.

WON OREGON CHAMPIONSHIP.

Although Lou Freeman sacrificed his chance to win the Santa Monica tennis tournament in order to go to Portland, Or., it seems that he did as well there as he could have done here, for he won the Oregon championship in men's singles, and was also one of the winners in the men's doubles.

A Portland paper, in commenting on the final between Freeman and Bethel in the men's singles, states that better tennis has not been seen in this city for years, for each man extended himself to the limit.

It was generally conceded that Freeman would win, and when he started by winning five games to the two for his opponent, it looked like straight sets for Bethel. But the young man took a wonderful stand and not only brought the set to deuce, but won it. This required remarkable tennis, and it appears that Bethel wore himself out on this first set, for Freeman won the next three. The scores were 6-8, 6-1, 6-1 and 6-2.

The net playing of both men was the remarkable feature of the game. Bethel did phenomenal work in passing Freeman, beating him on this by a score of 36 to 28. However, this was the only way in which Freeman did not shine. He drove fewer balls into the net and out of the court, than did Bethel, and handled lobs in a more accurate manner. The summary of the play follows:

	Points won. Serv. Pass.	Opponents' errors. Nets. Outs. Dbls.
Freeman—
First set	9	12	12	2
Second set	1	8	11	3	1
Third set	0	6	13	6	1
Fourth set	3	6	11	4	0
	4	29	48	29	5
Bethel—
First set	0	13	13	13	3
Second set	0	3	3	1	0
Fourth set	0	10	6	6	1
	1	34	27	22	5

Freeman and Breeze of Tacoma, won the State doubles from Goss and Lewis by scores of 6-3, 4-6, 6-2 and 6-1, the prizes being the Ladd cups. The summary was as follows:

	Points won. Serv. Pass.	Points lost. Nets. Outs. Dbls.
Freeman	0	27	24	19	0
Breeze	1	16	17	11	4
Goss	0	19	22	24	1
Lewis	0	13	20	15	4

	Won on service.	Lost on service.
Freeman	6	1
Breese	6	1
Goss	3	4

Whist Play.

The regular weekly handicap games will be played this evening at the rooms of the Los Angeles Whist Club in the Currier Block. New tournaments for the ladies' cup and the club button will begin next Saturday night.

Coursing.

The drawing for next Sunday's coursing will be held this evening at the corner of Second and Main streets, upstairs. A feature of Sunday's sport will be the sweepstakes, in which four or six of the best local dogs now in training will be entered.

LONG TRIP INTENDED BY LOCAL SPORTSMEN.

GERMAN-AMERICANS TO SEE FADERLAND AGAIN.

Joe Singer, John Hauerwaas, Chris Krempel and Possibly Henry Pfirrmahn Will Visit Bundes Shooting Festival in New York, and Their Old Homes in Germany.

Three of the best known German-Americans in Los Angeles mean to make a pilgrimage to their old homes in de Faderland next year—three who will take with them an evidence of the material prosperity of this country which doubtless will bring over many another to try to make his fortune in the Golden West. All came here about twenty years ago poor, struggling youths, full of honest ambition, and all three have done comfortably well ever since. The three men are John Hauerwaas, Joseph Singer and Chris Krempel.

They do not talk much about it, but all three are going to take a three months' rest from business, so as to see the dear old places where they were born and reared just once more before they die. And there may be a fourth among them; Henry Pfirrmahn has repeatedly declared an intention of going.

Incidentally the gentlemen, all of whom are expert rifle shots, will take their target rifles with them, and mean to compete in the International Bundes Shooting Festival, which occurs once in every three years, this time in New York. The best shots from all over the known world, members of the various German shooting societies, will be the competittors. This part of the trip will take up about ten days, after which the party will cross the water on one of the Hamburg-American boats, visiting all the old-time points of interest in a body. They will have their rifles, and expect to have a grand vacation time of it, first and last.

Joe Singer's old home is in the Tyrol. Hauerwaas is by extraction a Bavarian. Krempel comes from the Rhine. A little town called Kreuchnach was his home. It defies pronunciation in the English language.

The trio means to take in all the shooting festivals on the other side, and hopes to show the natives that the noble sport of target-rifle shooting is not a neglected art on this side of the Atlantic.

BETTING ON FIGHT.

SOME TWO TO ONE OFFERED.

Jeffries bettors are able to secure a better price for their money than was generally expected by the sporting fraternity. A month ago it was thought Jeffries would be a 4-to-1 shot over Corbett, but the boosting of the short end has been so consistent and so well executed in San Francisco that yesterday several bets of 10 to 4 were refused by a Spring-street layer of odds, and 2 to 1 was chalked up on the result. Plenty of that can be obtained either way at present.

Even money Corbett will stay twelve rounds has been offered, and it looks like a good bet to a Jeffries man. Many figure that if Corbett stays that long he will go the distance, and they argue that in case he does stay the full twenty he will to a certainty get the decision; a fact that needs other verification. Even money has been offered that Corbett does not stay sixteen rounds, which also appears to be a good proposition for the offerer.

In the mutuals Jeffries will, and should be played heavily from the first to the sixth round, and from then to the twelfth, according to the way the board is divided. Many are double-shotting by playing both ends on the twentieth round.

A persistent report has come out of San Francisco to the effect that Jim Corbett's condition was a long way from as perfect as it has been painted, and that his long siege of training, instead of improving him has made him a bit stale. A man 37 years of age must have worked very carefully to have trained two years and not be so.

Billy Delaney confidentially stated to a friend the other day that the reason he was keeping Jeff out of sight was that there would be no Corbett money in sight if the public got a good look at the big fellow. Other stories float out of the Jeff camp to the effect that Jeffries is training on champagne and claret, but they do not deserve much credence.

Coasting Contests.

When cooler weather revives the interest in bicycling, some of the local promoters of the sport intend to get up something novel in the way of hill climbing contests for motor cycles, and coasting races for bicycles. Both of these particular sports are very popular in the East, and have never been tried here. There are plenty of hills in the city that will test the power of any motor cycle, and Seventh street, from Moore or Bixel street, to Main street, or even farther east, furnishes plenty of room for a coasting contest on asphalt pavement.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Du Bois Not Du Bois.

The man arrested and convicted in the Police Court of indecent exposure is Louis Du Bois, instead of Louis Du Bois, as published. Both men live on Berendo street, Pico Heights. Du Bois is an oil man who has a family.

Auction at Redondo.

An auction sale of seaside lots at Ocean Beach, Redondo, is announced by Edward D. Silent & Co., to take place on the grounds today at 2 p.m. Transportation at half rates is furnished by the firm and the attendance promises to be quite large.

Lowe Funeral Services.

Funeral services over the remains of the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Lowe of Denver, who died before her father could reach her, despite his dash across the continent in a record-breaking special train, were held yesterday afternoon at the Sutch undertaking parlors, in the presence of a few friends. Rev. C. W. Naumann, assistant rector of Christ Church, officiated.

Salvation Tent Meetings.

Adding to the other useful branches of work the Salvation Army will conduct a series of special revival services in tents in different parts of the city. The first campaign will be opened this evening at 8 o'clock at Seventh street and Grand avenue. Maj. and Mrs. Connett, assisted by Staff Capt. and Mrs. Bourne and other officers, will have charge. Meetings will be held every night at 8 and Sundays at 11 a.m., 3 and 8 p.m.

Patti Coming to the Mason.

Mme. Adelina Patti will sing in Los Angeles January 9, one night only, in the Mason Operahouse. Marcus R. Mayer, advance agent, was in the city yesterday and made this arrangement. The Patti voice, which has charmed practically the whole world, has been heard in Los Angeles but once, and that was eighteen years ago, when Mayer also made the arrangements. This season's tour is to be the great singer's farewell to the musical public.

Prisoner Discharged.

F. P. Felton, who was brought here from Cleveland, O., to be tried on a charge of forging a postal money order, was discharged from the County Jail yesterday after an incarceration of thirty days' duration. He was sentenced by Judge Wellborn to pay a fine of $250, or to be confined in jail until payment was made. The prisoner's attorney yesterday filed an application for discharge, stating that Felton has no property, real or person, with which to meet the fine. The application was immediately granted.

Maxwell's Western Tour.

George H. Maxwell, executive chairman of the National Irrigation Association, will leave Chicago next Friday for an extended tour of the West, previous to the national convention at Ogden, Utah, which will include a visit to Los Angeles. He will arrive in this city from the north about the 27th inst., going from here to Arizona to speak and visit the Sacaton Indian reservation. From August 18 to 21 Mr. Maxwell will attend the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress at Seattle, and he will make addresses at several conventions on the Pacific Coast.

Collided With a Milk Wagon.

August Lively, a one-armed messenger boy in the employ of the Western Union Telegraph Company, was severely injured shortly before midnight on First street, near Broadway. While riding his bicycle to deliver a telegram he was pocketed between a street car and a milk wagon, and collided broadside with the latter with such force that his wheel was demolished. He was thrown against his handlebars and fell to the street. His injuries were extremely painful, but no serious consequences are anticipated. The boy is a most industrious little fellow, working all day selling newspapers and half the night carrying telegrams. His injuries were dressed at the Receiving Hospital, and he then went to his home, No. 1230 South Olive street.

BEST G.A.R. SPECIAL.

Handsome Train from New York and Pennsylvania—Spread for Abe Patterson Post by Comrade.

At 9 o'clock last night the finest G.A.R. special train that has yet arrived here rolled into La Grande Depot, bearing upward of 150 comrades and members of their families from various posts in New York and Pennsylvania. The train consists of two dining cars, six modern first-class Pullman sleepers and a baggage car, and will be continuously the headquarters of its present passengers, exclusive of two days and a half in San Francisco, until August 31 at 6 p.m., when it is due again in New York.

The train will lie in this city until midnight tomorrow, when it will proceed by easy stages up the coast, and after the convention its return itinerary will include Portland, Or., and Yellowstone Park.

A party of the arrivals went to the Angelus for the night, to be ready for a bright and early start sight-seeing today, although there has been no concerted programme planned. Among the party is Thomas H. Barrett, representing George Washington Post, No. 103, of New York. He served in the United States Navy throughout the war, and later became identified with shipping circles on this Coast for his service in the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, taking the post of chief engineer of the veteran steamer City of Peking as early as 1875.

In the morning a combined delegation of about sixty from Atlanta, Ga., and Carleton, Mo., arrived and was directed to comfortable quarters by the local Reception Committee.

The members of the Abe Patterson Post, No. 88, of Allegheny City, Pa., and comrades from that vicinity, who arrived Saturday night, were entertained at a reception and spread yesterday afternoon by Comrade W. J. Sherriff of No. 1036 West Washington street. The host is a member of the post entertained, and in front of his residence spread banners inscribed "Welcome, Comrades." The Stars and Stripes waved prominently throughout the grounds, and after a bountiful feast, everybody lined up for a photo. Comrade John B. Graham of Santa Paula, a member of Post No. 88, came in to attend the reunion.

SAN LUIS OBISPO COUNTY.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Aug. 11.—At a meeting of the board of trustees of the California Polytechnic School, the contract for the construction of the power-house was let to E. W. Davies and E. S. Hoyt. Lease Bros. of Santa Cruz were employed to construct a reservoir.

Frank Wurch, a prominent and well-to-do youth, has been arrested on a charge of burglary, and is now under bonds. He was caught in the act of stealing chickens, and he offers the excuse that while under the influence of liquor he was told to take the chickens, and did not know that he was committing a theft.

San Luis defeated Nipomo in an exciting game of baseball by a score of 2 to 1.

The Board of Trade is circulating a petition, asking the City Council to purchase modern apparatus for the fire department.

Hon. W. J. Dougherty, member of the Assembly for San Benito county, is spending a week here.

Rapid Telegraph Transmitter.

Joseph Conway and E. J. Woodham of this city have just patented a rapid telegraph transmitter from which they expect great things. With this machine, any one who can run a typewriter can send messages. It works with the typewriter keyboard. A message is sent so rapidly that it must be received at the other end on a tape, after the manner of a stock ticker. The machine is simple and inexpensive, the bottom of each key button having electrical points of contact representing the dots and dashes of the Morse code. It is simply a rapid-sending machine, apparently of great value where speed of transmission is desired. It is especially adapted for private lines and secret codes.

BOYS THINK SAW CONVICT.

Ate Watermelon Ravenously, the Rind and All.

Los Angeles Lads' Adventure in Santa Monica Mountains.

Herman Wiebking and Lee R. Wellington of University have just returned from a hunting trip in the San Fernando Valley, with a story which they believe will throw some light on the rumored appearance in this city of the notorious Fred Howard, one of the Folsom prison-breakers.

The young nimrods were returning to Los Angeles from their hunt and had just pitched their tent for the night by the little stream that flows through the valley on the north side of the Santa Monica Mountains near the foot of the Cahuenga Pass, when two men whom they at first took to be ordinary hobos came down the San Fernando road and entering the thicket made their scanty bed in the brush.

Being well armed and having a fine watch dog, and knowing full well that the place was frequented by tramps from whom they had nothing to fear save petty thievery, the lads rolled themselves in their blankets and slept undisturbed.

The story of what then occurred follows in the boys' own words:

"We were up at daybreak for a final shoot. When we got the first glimpse of the men in daylight, our suspicions were at once aroused by the remarkable resemblance of the elder man to the pictures we had seen in the papers of Fred Howard, and as we scrutinized his features we became more and more firmly convinced that he was no other than the much-hunted escape from the Folsom prison.

"When Howard (if such he was) and his pal came into camp we noticed that the younger man carried a large watermelon under his arm, while the other had a small bundle of canvas and a tattered blanket that looked as if it had been picked up from some abandoned camp. The men certainly had no rifle with them; but whether they had revolvers concealed in their bedding or not we could not ascertain. We noticed that when they opened their bedding they did so very cautiously, as if fearing we should discover something it contained. The only cooking utensils they had were one spoon, an old pail that must have been picked up somewhere along the road and an empty tomato can.

"The men, whoever they were, were ravenously hungry and ate every bit of the melon, including the rind, for not a trace of it could be found the next morning.

"As we were cooking breakfast the younger of the pair came up and said that they had not had anything but fruit to eat for two days and wanted to buy a loaf of bread for which he offered to pay us a nickle which he said was every cent in his possession.

"We gave him a large loaf of home-made bread and about a half gallon of vegetable soup—and you ought to have seen them eat. They finished every bit of it.

"They were not talkative and would not say much about where they came from, but inquired the way and distance to Hollywood and Los Angeles.

"The men professed to be hunting work, but we did not believe that, for there is plenty of work to be done all along the road.

"The younger man claimed to be a cook and said in a half joking way 'that fellow there,' pointing to the elder man, 'is a convict.'

"We noticed his pal seemed to start at this assertion, but thought nothing of it, for it was an introduction that would startle almost any one. The assertion for the time being quieted our suspicions, for we thought if it was true it would be the last thing in the world he would say. But when we read in The Times this morning the rumor that Howard was hiding in this city, our old belief that we saw a real convict has come back stronger than ever.

"We think that either the younger man is in ignorance of the real character of the man he is traveling with and hit the truth nearer than he knew when he cracked that joke, or that he did it as a blind.

"It was Friday morning when the men took their leave from camp, going in the direction of Hollywood.

"They could easily have walked to Los Angeles by night."

The boys have figured out how they hoppened to meet the convict in such an out of the way place. They believe Howard jumped a freight train in the vicinity of Sacramento and rode to San Fernando where he got off, knowing that all the trains into the city would be watched, while he could enter from Hollywood in the guise of a tramp, undetected.

The boys have no idea whether his pal is someone he picked up on the road or another of the convicts, but are more strongly inclined to the former belief, for he does not closely resemble the pictures of any of the escapes.

But to the identification of Howard, they are more positive, and their parting words to The Times were: "That man may not be Howard, but his face bears a most striking resemblance to his pictures."

SHAVED IN PASADENA.

W. L. Jones, the South Fair Oaks-avenue tonsorial artist, Pasadena, thinks that he had a razor at the throat of no less dangerous a character than Convict Fred Howard day before yesterday. Jones saw the convict's picture in the papers, and read descriptions of him, and putting two and two together, is rather positive that the fellows whose whispers he peeled off Monday is the person required. Two men entered the shop at about noon, one of them having two weeks' beard, both dust-covered and suspicious-looking. One watched the door while the other was scraped. After the operation both made a quick disappearance.

ENDED HER TROUBLES.

Struggle for Existence Too Severe for Jessie Bailey and She Found in Morphine Eternal Rest.

Mrs. Jessie Bailey, a widow, died at 5:50 o'clock last evening at the General and Emergency Hospital, No. 418 Crocker street, from the effects of a dose of morphine, taken supposedly with suicidal intent some time before noon. The woman was employed at the Chicago restaurant, Second street, near Main, as head waitress, and was well known and almost universally liked by hundreds of persons. None of her friends knew that she was in trouble, and had she confided in them there are scores of persons who would gladly have rendered her any assistance in their power.

It is not known what prompted her to take her life. She was found unconscious in her room at No. 149 North Main street about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and at first it was supposed that she had been seized with sudden illness, but at the hospital the physicians found that she had taken morphine. This diagnosis was confirmed by the finding of a small quantity of the poison in her room, but the bottle could not be found, and it is believed she threw it out of the window.

At the hospital Dr. Keyes and other physicians did all that medical skill could do to save her life, but the end came shortly before 6 o'clock. The body was removed to the undertaking establisment of Robert Sharp & Son, No. 609 South Spring street, where the inquest will be held today.

The deceased was about 35 years of age. She leaves one son, aged 9, who is now in the country, and as yet knows nothing of the death of his mother.

NEW SANTA CRUZ RESORT.

Directors of Potter Hotel Company Considering the Proposition of Leasing the Island.

Santa Cruz Island, off Santa Barbara, was visited Saturday by Milo M. Potter and the directors of the Potter Hotel Company—all save Senator Bard, who is in Europe—accompanied by Allen G. Frazier, agent for Caire Bros. of San Francisco, owners of the island.

The trip was made for the purpose of inspecting the most attractive portions of Santa Cruz with a view to leasing it and developing a fine seaside resort at Pelican Bay and other attractive nooks where the game fish of the south coast run riot in the waters, unseduced by the amateur angler's rod and reel, and every prospect pleases.

The San Francisco merchants and fish canners controlling the island have made known their willingness to lease it to the Potter Hotel Company for a term of years for resort purposes, and the final decision waits upon the next meeting of the directors of the latter. This winter may see the beginning of another famous insular playground off the Southern California shore.

Santa Cruz Island embraces 100,000 acres, and besides being well wooded in parts and possessing a convenient coast line, it is a place of considerable industry. Under the present owners a lobster and fish-canning plant is operated there, 50,000 head of sheep roam the hills and valleys, and a large acreage is planted to vineyard, alfalfa and barley. In the wine vaults of the island there are at present 40,000 gallons of wine made last year.

Beside the agent, those who visited the island Saturday, remaining over night, were M. M. Potter, H. T. Kendall, Freeman Ford, F. P. Flint and D. T. Perkins.

The new $5000 power launch to be run in connection with the Potter Hotel has just been put into service. It was built by C. Jorgenson at San Pedro, is thirty-five feet over all, and will accommodate thirty-five people. It is electric-lighted and is furnished with a twenty-horse-power engine.

Shareholders of Farmers' and Merchants' Bank Absorbing the New Issue. Mr. Hellman's Return to the North.

Isaias W. Hellman, president of the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank, who came down from San Francisco on Saturday to preside at an important meeting of the board of directors on Monday afternoon, returned north last night. He was delighted with the success of the trip, and after spending a day in San Francisco will go to Lake Tahoe. All the stockholders of the bank, he thinks, are pleased with the increase of capital stock from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000 and the surplus from $500,000 to $1,000,000.

With Mr. Hellman went Gustavus Morgan, architect, to get data out of the northern metropolis for the plans and specifications of the new quarter-of-a-million-dollar bank building which the Farmers' and Merchants' National will erect at the corner of Fourth and Spring streets. The quarters now occupied by the bank, in a building owned by Mr. Hellman, have been used by the bank for about twenty-five years. Six months after the new building is begun, it is thought the bank will be doing business on the new site, upon which work will not begin for about sixty days.

"The 2500 shares of the increased stock, voted on Monday, that will be offered to the friends and clients of the bank," said Mr. Hellman last night, "are being subscribed for with great alacrity, and our only regret is that we shall not have enough to go around."

Mr. Hellman declares that all overtures for the consolidation of the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank and the First National Bank came from the latter, that he never thoroughly favored the project, and that the proposition is off forever, so far as his bank is concerned. He is glad that such was the outcome.

PERSONAL.

George J. McCarty, a mining man from Mexico, is staying at the Van Nuys.

C. W. Merrill, a prominent Indianapolis publisher, is at the Van Nuys with his wife.

N. B. Blackstone and son, H. W. Blackstone, have returned after a seven weeks' business trip in the East.

F. B. Reichenbach will leave today for San Francisco. He will be absent about ten days, and will make the trip by steamer.

Frank Jaynes of San Francisco, Pacific Coast manager of the Western Union telegraph system, registered at the Van Nuys yesterday.

Dr. W. L. Jepson, head of the department of botany at the State University, and Prof. A. V. Stubenrauch of the department of agriculture of the same institution, are at the California Club. They were the guests last evening at dinner of Dr. D. W. Edelman, an alumnus of the university. Monday evening they closed the university's summer course of lectures on forestry at Idyllwild.

UNIONS RUIN "AMERICAN."

Agitators Kill Newspaper in Just Four Months.

Warren Wilson Makes Paper Non-Union—To be "Los Angeles Democrat."

The Los Angeles American, the daily journalistic champion of labor unionism, died yesterday of "acute dictation," aged 4 months.

Paul H. Blades, who conceived and brought into the world the degenerate journalistic infant, yesterday sold the remains to Warren Wilson, proprietor of the Daily Journal. A thorough disinfecting process was at once applied to the corpse, the union microbes which caused its demise being ejected in a body. The thing will now be born again as an evening newspaper, under the new name of the Los Angeles Democrat.

The life and death of the Los Angeles American form an object lesson in labor-union impotence and error, for the newspaper infant literally died from the sins of its parents, the union bosses. The American was founded on promises of lavish support from the labor unions, but these proved false, and the paper literally starved to death for subscriptions and advertising patronage. It was the obedient child of its union parents, but the selfish quarrels of the latter over its management finally led them to prove traitors and conspire for its ruin. When the enfeebled little paper was finally forced to look elsewhere for attention, the union masters turned on it and choked it to death.

The American was launched about April 11, as a morning Democratic paper, and was heralded as the only Simon-pure labor-union organ in the city. The brotherhood of man itself was not closer than the bond which bound the management of the American and the labor-union bosses. Paul H. Blades, the man of many failures in the journalistic field, furnished the meager exchequer to start the sheet, and was to direct its triumphant progress to success on the crest of the tidal wave of union support. On the strength of the glittering promises of the union spielers, Blades abjectly surrendered jurisdiction over his property to the union dictators, and prostituted his news and editorial columns to their private cause. Agreements were entered into in such number that it seemed the American must indeed be the model union daily newspaper, the pride of the organized laborites, and the concentrated essence of union principles and wisdom.

The short, swift flight of the American to bankruptcy under private management under union dictation ended yesterday when Blades quit in despair and disgust and the vaunted union champion was changed from a union to a non-union newspaper. The disillusionizing of Blades regarding ideal unionism and the progress of the American's decline are interesting.

ORDERS FROM THE DICTATORS.

Among the first orders received by the management of the American from the Hay-Biddle gang of dictators was to publish no advertisements of the Hamburger's stores. The newspaper managers expostulated against having the most liberal advertiser in the city cut from their prospective revenue list, but the boycotters were obdurate. Boycotter Hay finally decided to throw a sop to the hungry journal, and agreed that if they would refuse Hamburger's ads he would secure $1000 paid yearly subscriptions to the American from union men. This agreement placated the subservient journalists, and they sat back and waited for Hay to bring in his lists of subscribers. Hay failed to show up, and after three weeks of prodding the American was unable to secure any considerable part of the subscribers so glibly pledged by the irresponsible Hay. As they could get not the least satisfaction of the agreement, the American solicitors immediately went to Mr. Hamburger, and secured his signature to a contract for advertising space.

Though the union bosses were entirely responsible, by failing to keep their word, for this action, the brazen fellows were very angry over this step from the straight and narrow union way.

FELL DOWN ON NEWS.

In the second noteworthy family jar the newspaper side of the house was the complainant. When the paper started it was arranged that the American, being the only real-thing union paper, should have a regular capitalistic monopoly of all the union news of Southern California, which the union bosses pledged themselves to guard for exclusive publication in the American. Under the union totem a "labor department" was inaugurated, which it was fondly expected would be so exclusive and wonderful as to compel a general circulation of the paper. Francis Drake, one of the union bosses on the very innermost side of the secret doings, especially fitted by experience in writing the San Pedro correspondence of the Union Labor News, was loaned to the American as editor of the "Labor Department."

The "Labor Department" was the most discouraging item in the union agreement. The illiterate Drake swamped the composing room with those brilliant items announcing future meetings of the dock-wallopers' union at Redondo, several days previous, but never a line of real news did he get. The American was "scooped" day after day on events of public interest, and the editors were frantic when the dated Times beat them completely on the strike of the peons and numerous other movements. Finally the "Labor Department" was abolished altogether, and Editor Drake fired, along with the union totem. Soon afterward the American was changed to an evening paper.

The growth of ill-feeling, the evident impotence of the unions for good, and the galling yoke of their dictation soon made the relations unbearable to the newspaper men. The final rumpus began about two weeks ago, over the interior conduct of the paper. The American had purchased a new press, and entered into an agreement with the pressmens' union, the latter to furnish two men and two helpers to do all the stereotyping and press-work. One non-union pressman and two helpers had been doing the same work with the old press. When the new press was installed this non-union man and his helpers showed themselves able to do all the work as before, with entire satisfaction. The union men demanded wages which were a little over twice what had been paid, and as the paper's treasury was extremely low, (it was decided to postpone the change and get along with the smaller crew until prosperity might arrive.

The union men who were not hired then made an appeal to the union meddlers, and these insisted that the economy of the proprietor should cut no figure, but the double union crew should be installed at once. The managers protested that the receipts would not admit of the added expense, which was not absolutely necessary, and begged the union delegates not to thrust them into bankruptcy, but to give them a little time. The unionists went away, but immediately there began to be trouble in the mechanical department. The union bosses had evidently enlisted the four union typesetters in a conspiracy to ruin the sheet from the inside. Though still drawing their union scale, the four typesetters proved traitors to their employers and began working at cross purposes to that of the pressroom trio. The result was that it was almost impossible for the distracted editors to get out their paper.

THE LAST STRAW.

After a few days of this kind of punishment of the management, for trying to keep out of bankruptcy, Chief Boycotte Hay and Peon Organizer Biddle called on Blades and made a final and formal demand that he employ the needless union men in his pressroom. The boycotters threw off all semblance of the former friendship and threatened that unless the demand was granted they would see that a boycott was levied on the American at the meeting of the Council of Labor that very night. More promises by the prostrate management stood off the bludgeon-wielders so that the boycott was not put through that night. But further demands were made next day, with more threats, and yesterday Blades suddenly decided to throw up the whole thing and abandon the wrecked paper. He said to his irate and bewildered news force that he was going out of town at once for a vacation, and expects to go to Catalina Island for complete quiet, within a few days.

Warren Wilson last night said he had merely assumed temporary management of the paper for other purchasers, and that it was his proposal to change the name to the Democrat. Asked why Blades threw up the whole thing so suddenly, he said: "To be plain, I think he got 'cold feet,' but there was no reason for it." Then he added: "Hereafter the paper will be run as a non-union paper."

MEXICAN INDEPENDENCE DAY.

Will be no "Official Celebration," but a Lively Unofficial Jubilee, Say the "Junta."

"There will be no official celebration of Mexican Independence Day in Los Angeles this September," was the statement made yesterday by Guillermo Andrade, Mexican Vice-Consul.

On the other hand, "La Junta Patriotica de Juarez" has announced that it is the only association that is authorized to celebrate September 16 in Los Angeles on behalf of all true Mexicans—and there you have it, or haven't it, according to which way you look at it.

"There has been no association or individual 'authorised' to celebrate the independence of Mexico in Los Angeles this year," said Gen. Andrade. "Of real Mexicans there are but a handful in this city, exclusive of the floating in-and-out population of imported railroad laborers from my country; and as I had recently raised $900 among the colony here for the plague sufferers in Mazatlan, I thought it best to let Independence Day pass this year without seeking contributions for its celebration. With those who see fit to celebrate it on their own account I am in most hearty sympathy."

So the only "doings" in this city September 16 in commemoration of the southern republic's greatest day will be those of the "unauthorized" faction belonging to the "Junta Patriotica," which, despite its warning to the public to beware of other collectors than its own for contributions toward the glorification of the day, seems to have the field to itself.

EXPECTED SEQUEL TO SCHOOLBOY MARRIAGE.

HELEN DUKE (BARKER,) the pretty society girl who, in a fit of absentmindedness, eloped with a Throop schoolboy, has hired a lawyer to get her a divorce.

"Just non-support," she says airily.

She is the girl who gave society the frazzles by going out for a drive to San Gabriel and coming home married. Another couple was with them, but Miss Duke and young Barker gave them the slip for a few minutes, and had the ceremony performed.

Her friends say that she only lived with young Karl Barker from a year ago last January until the following June. He was a schoolboy, and Miss Duke's papa, who runs the Westlake Hotel, had to take them home.

Barker had a little money, but also a guardian. Whenever the guardian would loosen up, Barker, instead of coming dutifully home with the coin, would promptly proceed to "blow" it. Boys will be boys, and after his marriage this boy went back to Throop to study.

Husbands, being proven a very uncertain quantity, Mrs. Barker, apparently, intends to paddle her own canoe hereafter. She is now taking a course in a business college to prepare herself for a stenographer. At the college she is known as "Miss Duke," for in another fit of absentmindedness, she left her wedding ring and her married name at home.

Mrs. Barker went off into peals of laughter when asked about it yesterday by a reporter.

"No, sir," she said, "I got all of that kind of fame I wanted when I got married. The Times had about a column in about me, but I've got you fellows this time. I've got it fixed so it will be kept a secret."

"Oh, we'll be there for the ceremony, anyhow," said the reporter.

"Oh, no you won't," she said laughing. "I am not going to have any reporters there. I don't see why you should make such a fuss about my divorce. You don't about other people's."

It was gently impressed upon her that everybody doesn't cut such ice.

She made a profound curtsy. "That's very complimentary, I'm sure," she said, but added, deprecatingly. "But I'm not such a swelety lady."

"Where is the—the other party to the—you know—Him?"

She laughed again.

"I don't know where he is. I'm not looking for trouble."

"Is that what you called him?" murmured the reporter.

But she only laughed again.

"What is the divorce about?"

"Just non-support. It isn't much of a divorce."

"What does he do for a living?"

"Never did anything," she said scornfully.

Mrs. Barker's friends say that she vows she will never never be married again as long as she lives.

As young Mr. Barker is reported to have been staying at the Palace Hotel in San Francisco and burning up considerable money since he has come into his estate, the lady has figured that he ought to be able to spare a little for her now. She will ask for $30 a month alimony.

Barker is said to be worth a good deal of money. When they were married and he was going to Throop he had an income of $80 a month, in the guardian's hands, however.

At that time—just after the elopement—young Barker did not want to go to work, and did not want to go to school, either, and was a very very naughty little boy.

BLACK SCALE PARASITE.

Advent of a South African Fly that is Expected to Clean Out the Pest of the Fruit Men.

Have you any black scale on the pepper trees on the lawn or on your fruit trees in the back yard? If you have, cheer up, for the Horticultural Commissioners are now raising a new-fangled maggot that eats the scale eggs and thus destroys the scale.

The commissioners have been at this business for over a year, but not until this week have they been sure that the black scale is about to be conquered. They are actually sure now, for the experiments carried on during the past year have shown that a parasite for the scale is now doing business in an astonishing and a very effective manner.

The entomological name for this new destroyer is Scutellista cyanea, or "scoot" for short. It is a black fly from South Africa and is about as large as an adult flea. The original specimens were sent here from San Francisco about a year ago. There were four females in the consignment and one of these died. From the three remaining the Horticultural Commissioners have raised hundreds and from these are expected to come a number of descendants sufficient to clean all the black scale from the trees of Southern California. Forty colonies of these flies were sent out to the orchardists of Southern California some months ago and forty more were shipped this week.

The female fly, which will produce about 300 eggs, lights on the scale and forces one egg under the scale shell, between it and the branch of the tree. In the course of a week this egg hatches into a lively grub and this little maggot proceeds at once to feast on the scale eggs in the shell. It eats these in a day or two and in a short time afterward turns into a chrysalis. In time, this develops into the black fly again and it eats its way out of the empty scale shell and becomes a destroyer of other black scale. About forty days elapse between one black fly and its successor.

This remarkable black fly has been on exhibition for several days in the rooms of the Horticultural Commission in the Courthouse, and evidence of its effectiveness, as seen there, have been most satisfactory to both fruit men and commissioners. If it succeeds in its mission, it will be of inestimable benefit to the orchardists of Southern California.

GRAFT COLLAPSES.

Merchants Refusing to Co-operate, the "Traders' Association" Pulls Down Its Sign and Goes Out of Business.

"The Traders' Association, doing the largest coöperative local mail order business on the Pacific Coast," has ceased to coöperate.

The "pen and ink" sign on the door of room 356 Wilcox building—"the home office"—has been removed and the dusty little desk and table within—"departments A and D, to which all communications relative to agencies should be addressed"—are minus occupants.

Thus another of Promoter John M. Hollywood's golden-hued dreams of speedy wealth goes a-glimmering along with the "Hollywood Adjustment Company" and the "Mercantile Investment Company" that brought Nicholas Wilson to the attention of the courts, charged with embezzlement of trust funds.

The exposé of the methods of the "Traders' Association" by The Times caused the withdrawal of agreements on the part of merchants, it having been demonstrated that a wrongful use of firm names was being made. The interested merchants went further and forced Hollywood to call in his literature and instruct agents to destroy all in their possession. This action resulted in the closing up of one more "get-rich-quick" scheme—one that bid fair to receive liberal support from easy-dollar disciples throughout the State.

A Creation of Fancy.

"I understand that you made a fabulous fortune out of your novel."

"Perhaps fabulous is not the exact word," answered the author. "I would rather say 'fictitious.'"—[Washington Star.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Officer J. A. Ditewig was fined $100 yesterday for drinking in a saloon while on duty.

Pressman & Henry were granted a saloon license on East Fifth street.

The new maps of the garbage-collection districts have not been prepared by the Board of Health, but Contractor Franklin stated yesterday that every effort is being made to comply with their obligation.

Mrs. Melissa Walker, who was hurt in an automobile accident, has brought suit for damages against the owners.

AT THE CITY HALL.

STIFF FINE IMPOSED ON OFFICER DITEWIG.

CAUGHT DRINKING BEER WHILE DRESSED IN UNIFORM.

Back Room of a Saloon Proved Too Tempting to the Policeman, but Capt. Auble Was Watching and Reported the Incident to the Police Commission.

"Officer Ditewig, that appears to have been a very expensive drink."

That was the comment of Mayor Snyder yesterday morning when the Police Commission fined Officer J. A. Ditewig $100 for taking a drink of beer in a saloon near Eastlake Park.

The officer has been under suspension for two weeks and he will lose pay for that time in addition to the stiff fine imposed.

Commissioner Keeney wished to fine the officer $300 or dismiss him summarily from the department. He said that drinking on the part of policemen must cease and that an officer should not imbibe intoxicants either on or off duty.

"I can imagine nothing more disgraceful than a policeman, clothed with all the authority of the law, walking through the streets with a 'jag on,'" declared Keeney.

"But this man never had a 'jag on,'" insisted Attorney George P. Adams, who appeared for Ditewig. "He was never drunk in his life. He does not drink to excess. He is a German and it is as natural for a German to drink beer as for a colored man to eat watermelons. He does not deny that he broke the rules of the department and he expects to be punished for it. Officer Ditewig is sorry for what he did and I believe the board can exercise clemency and at the same time uphold the discipline of the department."

Capt. Walter Auble under oath told how he first caught Ditewig drinking in the saloon in full uniform on July 24. He said Ditewig drank a glass of beer on that occasion.

However, Auble did not warn Ditewig at that time. It was plainly a case of taking a policeman to catch a policeman.

When the police watches went out the next day all the officers were warned not to drink in saloons while on duty. Ditewig did not heed the warning. On the night of July 28 Capt. Auble again saw the officer drink a glass of beer in the rear of the saloon. On the 29th the same thing happened and Auble then went into the saloon and suspended Ditewig.

"On the first night about fifteen minutes and on the second night twenty-five minutes," replied Capt. Auble. "On the third occasion I waited about five minutes before suspending Ditewig."

"Has this man ever been before the commission on charges in the past?" asked Keeney.

"Not so far as I am aware," said Auble.

"Oh, no," said Mayor Snyder. "Ditewig is a good officer; one of the best on the force. I have known him a long time."

When called Ditewig said he drank the glasses of beer in a dark room in the rear of the saloon and in such a manner as he thought would not cast any discredit on the department.

"And I was only in the saloon a minute or two," he added.

"It was twenty-five minutes the first time," corrected the captain. "From 9:05 to 9:30 o'clock."

"Is that so, Captain?" asked Ditewig in a hopeless and incredulous tone.

"Well, I move that he be fined $100; that he lose his pay during the time of suspension and that he be immediately returned to active duty," said Craig.

It was seconded by Lang.

"I insist on making the fine $300 and I will so move to amend," persisted Keeney.

"That would break him up, Jim; he would lose his house, sure," pleaded Attorney Adams.

Craig's motion prevailed. Ditewig will have three months to pay the amount of his fine into the police pension fund.

LICENSE GRANTED.

After several hearings the Police Commission yesterday voted to grant a license to Pressman & Henry for a saloon at No. 828 East Fifth street. This license was transferred from C. Vincent and has been in force at No. 822 North Alameda street.

Chief Elton reported in favor of granting the license. His report showed that the firm's petition was signed by more than the necessary two-thirds frontage in the block; that none of the frontage in the block was signed against the saloon; that the petition for the saloon bore the names of more residents of the neighborhood than the protest, and various other matters bearing on the situation.

No sooner had this report been read than the protestants filed another long protest which they contended was signed by several hundred residents on East Fifth street.

After some arguments on the merits of the controvery Craig moved that the license be granted and the motion carried unanimously.

"Now," said the Mayor, "I think this commission ought not to grant another saloon license on East Fifth street. I do not believe the streets leading from the depots to the city should be lined with saloons as is the case in some other cities."

STAR POINTERS.

The application of M. Lustig for a transfer of a saloon license at No. 101 South Broadway from F. A. Ridder was granted. Lustig has purchased this saloon for $8000 cash.

Under the new license ordinance the Police Commission has control of billiard parlors. Kelly Roth was granted a license for a parlor at No. 619 South Broadway yesterday.

Sergt. W. T. Jeffries, who is compelled to leave the city on important business was granted a leave of absence for ninety days. Detective J. R. Rich also got a leave of absence for twenty days.

GARBAGE CONTRACT.

NEW MAP NOT YET PREPARED.

The new map showing the districts of garbage collection and the days in which collections must be made in each district have not been prepared. Notice was served on the contractors in writing a few days ago that collections must be made three times a week in accordance with the contract, and that other provisions must be observed.

It was stated at the Health Office yesterday that the contractors, Franklin & Alexander, had made a verbal reply to the effect that they could not possibly comply with the contract, and that they would take the entire garbage question before the Council and leave to the City Fathers the solution of the vexed problem.

Apparently there has been a misunderstanding between the health authorities and the contractors on this point, as J. B. Franklin stated last night for the firm that no reply, either written or verbal, had been made to the communication, and that the attempt to comply with the contract was being made.

This attempt, however, must prove futile in a great degree until the householders learn on what days to expect the garbage wagons. Yesterday a wagon went down Walnut street, but as none of the residents were apprised of the proposed call the trip was a pure waste of time.

It is generally admitted on all sides that Franklin & Alexander have no bonanza in their garbage contract. Most city officials are free to say that they will lose money if the provisions of the contract are reasonably well observed. Health Officer Powers has stated that two collections a week are all that are necessary to provide proper sanitation, and as far as can be ascertained there is no general clamor for collections of garbage three times a week in the residence sections. Therefore it is not improbable that the Council, if the situation is frankly laid before them by the contractors, will show a disposition to let the contractors off on the extra collection, providing that collections are made twice a week over the entire city and all rules and regulations strictly enforced.

One Councilman stated yesterday that unless the contractors came to time before long, suit would be begun on the bond; but it is not thought that this action will be necessary if an honest effort is made to dispose of the garbage of the city twice a week.

RAID THE PIGS.

DAVENPORT'S DISCOVERY.

If you wish to know anything about pigs, ask Councilman Davenport of the Sixth Ward. He is an authority.

The latest exploit of the big legislator came to a culmination yesterday, and it was the talk of the City Hall.

Davenport moved against the pigs. He heard from an apparently reliable source that there was a sty on East Fourteenth street, where six or eight pigs were kept in a back yard.

Now Davenport has decided to purge the Sixth Ward of offensive dairies and other things, and to secure the collection of garbage and other improvements desired by his constituents.

But even a Councilman who is ever alert to protect the interests of his constituents may trust too implicitly in the advice and counsel of friends.

When Davenport heard about the six pigs he started out in hot haste to rid his bailiwick of such a rural adjunct. He decided that he would insure the enforcement of the city's laws himself.

Although the campaign was well planned, and the search through alleys and back yards thorough, Davenport could not find the herd of swine that he believed to be camping on his preserves.

Then the Councilman called in the assistance of the Health Office. He laid the facts before the inspector of the district, J. E. Hunsicker, with whom he recently had some words over a dairy. Hunsicker promised to search out the six intruding pigs and to bring the full force of the law to bear on anyone so bold as to violate the health provisions.

About an hour later the inspector returned to the City Hall, hot in the collar, hot in the elbows, hot in the knee joints and hot all over. His report to Davenport, however, was as frigid as his caloric state would permit.

"Why, I thought you knew all the time that I meant Guinea pigs," said he, innocently.

And now they don't speak as they pass by.

Six little Guinea pigs about four inches long were found by the inspector in a box on the premises indicated by Davenport.

PLAN SUGGESTED.

DISTRICT FOR MANUFACTURERS.

Owing to the frequent agitations against oil refineries, gas plants, planing mills and other manufacturing enterprises, it has occurred to members of the Council that a district should be established within which all these plants should be allowed to flourish within reasonable bounds as regards noise, smell and other byproducts of these institutions.

The recent trouble over the plant of the Union Consolidated Refining Company on the bank of the Arroyo Seco has brought this strongly home to the legislators, and it is not improbable that an amendment to the building ordinance will be proposed, setting aside a certain district of the city for manufacturing enterprises, providing this course is found to be legal.

"I am convinced that it would be a very good plan," declared Councilman Davenport yesterday. "I have been investigating along that line, and I believe it would be a fine thing for the city if there was a district set apart within which manufacturing enterprises would feel safe in building up extensive plants. Agitations against important industries, either in whole or in part, have the effect of deterring the investment of capital, and if it was well understood by all concerned that within a certain district the interest of the manufacturer would be protected, the city would profit."

Postponed the Session.

For lack of a quorum the session of the Civil Service Commission was adjourned from yesterday until Thursday afternoon. Commissioners Haynes and Thomas are out of the city, and Commissioner McKee could not be present yesterday. The commission has been informed by City Attorney Mathews that the requisitions made by the Police Commission for the certification of Officers Edwards, Rosso and Cottle as regular patrolmen are legal, and that the officers can be continued in the department. The board will pass on the question Thursday afternoon.

AT THE COURT HOUSE

DIAMOND BELLE'S MOTHER KNEW NOT HER SIN.

PARENT HAD NO IDEA BELLE WAS WOMAN OF THE TOWN.

San Diego Public Administrator Will Take Charge of Her Trunks—An Automobile Accident Has Brought on a Damage Suit.

Diamond Belle's mother has come to the city to take a hand in the fight for the woman's jewels.

The mother's part in the affair is rather pitiful, for she had no idea that her daughter was living the life of a woman of the town and is still in ignorance of that fact. She thinks her daughter was in business here.

A peculiar thing about that class of women is that, no matter how abandoned they may become, they do everything in the world to hide their degradation from just one person—the mother.

The mother was in court yesterday relative to the diamonds. The Public Administrator of San Diego county was given authority to take charge of her effects there. Belle's real residence was in Los Angeles, but her professional home was temporarily in San Diego, as she had been driven out of Los Angeles on a floater.

BROTHER SUPPORTED HER.

UNUSUAL DIVORCE.

"The Story of a Good Brother" was the proper title of a divorce suit tried before Judge Allen yesterday.

The plaintiff was a pretty young woman named Lila Rogers, whose husband, John Rogers, has refused to support her any longer. The husband's brother has stepped into the breach and has been supporting the deserted wife and her child.

The brother told Judge Allen yesterday how he had found his brother's wife and baby living in poverty and squalor and took them in. He says his brother has coolly refused to contribute a cent toward taking care of them.

Rogers will pay to support them now or get into serious trouble. The court has ordered him to pay $14 a month alimony.

OLD HORSE RAN AWAY.

TERRIBLE AUTO ACCIDENT.

A red devil automobile was responsible for a damage suit filed yesterday by Melissa L. Walker and Albert F. Walker against Albert H. Dunlap, Jr., and W. J. Hole.

Mrs. Walker was out driving with her two children near Westlake Park last April, when a big auto came along, making a terrible racket. The horse had never been afraid before, and Mrs. Walker let one of the children drive. The horse lost his reputation. This auto was one of those pesky things that would scare a man, let alone a horse.

The horse turned and ran for his life. It dashed in under the trees and went helter-skelter over sidewalks. When it was finally stopped, Mrs. Walker was in a state of physical collapse, from which she never recovered. The shock left her in a state of partial paralysis and a victim of insomnia. She asks $15,000 damages.

Walnut Growers Organize.

San Fernando Valley Walnut Growers' Association. Capital stock, $10,000; subscribed, $106. Directors, P. Furrier, J. W. Deupree, D. A. Kughen, C. A. Cartwright, L. W. Gregg.

Police Court Notes.

G. W. Strength, in spite of his name, made a weak showing against Guy Cameron and Tom Goodman in the Police Court yesterday. Goodman is the youth who punched Strength Sunday; Cameron hit Strength on the head with a stone. Strength asked for his children and was given a stone, is the way it was. Strength is a hulk of a man who might have got up from a sick bed and whipped the boys. He went out to No. 321 California street, where his divorced wife lives with her children, and tried to force an entrance. Mrs. Strength was absent, but the two boys didn't like Strength's appearance, and proceeded to throw him out. Cameron threw a stone after him. When Strength was called to the stand the sight of him and then another look at the defendants made his position as complainant seem ridiculous. Deputy District Attorney Rose didn't waste any time in making a motion to dismiss. Granted in a hurry.

BY EDWARD B. CLARK.
(Associate Member American Ornithologists' Union.)

MAN'S hand is raised constantly against the hawk. The hawk's approach to a farmyard is the signal for the taking down of the shotgun. Man is slow to learn, and nine times out of ten the hawk-killing husbandman slays one of his best friends.

Out of the seventy-three species and sub-species of hawks occurring in America only six are injurious, and yet in the popular mind every hawk that shows on the horizon is a "hen hawk" and deserving of death. Of the half-dozen injurious species only three are common. They are the goshawk (accipiter atricapillus,) the Cooper hawk (accipiter cooperii) and the sharp-shinned hawk (accipiter velox.)

THE PREDATORY HAWKS.

These birds are the bold buccaneers of the air. Their flight is of an arrow-like swiftness. They will turn and twist, stop short, thread the interlacing branches of trees, and seize the game which they have started, with unerring precision.

The sharp-shinned and the Cooper hawks harry a poultry yard and kill the chickens within the inclosure, and do it unseen. In the mean time the red-tailed or red-shouldered hawk will come into sight on roaring pinions. On the outlook for crop-eating mice and down comes the shotgun. Then is a report, followed by a curse, as the farmer holds up a dead hawk and declares his lost property avenged.

Meanwhile at the wood's edge sits the real marauder, finishing his latest meal of spring chicken and planning for more. The next day and the next more poultry is stolen, while the hawk wonders.

It took a long time and much patient research on the part of Uncle Sam's officials of the biological survey to separate the hawks into the classes of injurious and non-injurious species. The latter were killed by the hundreds and the contents of their stomachs were examined. Nine nestling Cooper hawks were found to have been fed within a few hours a nuthatch, a flicker, a meadow lark and other—all birds beneficial to man.

COOPER HAWKS, MALE AND FEMALE. THE FEMALE HAWK (ON THE LEFT) IS NOT LARGER AND FIERCER THAN THE MALE. A CONDITION THAT IS CHARACTERISTIC OF MOST BIRDS OF PREY. THESE BIRDS ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR MANY OF THE CHICKEN-STEALING SINS THAT ARE CHARGED UP AGAINST THE HAWK FAMILY.

RED-TAILED HAWK. THIS IS AN ESSENTIAL BIRD. IT PREYS ON INJURIOUS RODENTS, BUT IS SHOT ON SIGHT. IT IS THOUGHT TO HAVE KILLED THE POULTRY YARD.

Ruffed grouse and a young Cooper Digestion with the birds is a rapid process, and the destruction of the spring song, game and domestic birds by a single pair of either species of "accipiter" with young to be estimated with this one method of swelling feeding as a basis.

BOLD FREEBOOTERS.

A young Cooper Hawk was taken from the nest by H. Justin Roddy. It ate its weight in food every day. When able to fly it escaped from its cage before it had gone two hundred feet. It struck down and killed a domestic pigeon in full flight.

Every bird student, even though his life study is the protection of the birds, does not fail to have a sort of "saneking admiration" for the race of hawks. Freebooters and murderers they are, their lives are typical of the freedom of the fields and the wild haunts of the woodlands. There is a fascination about their very boldness, and there is something lacking in that landscape which does not have the living picture added by the sight of a soaring hawk waiting its opportunity to strike down the unsuspecting quarry.

The sharp-shinned hawk when hurrying will abandon his habit of stealthy approach from behind a cover of trees and will attack in the open, even though the human enemy be in plain view and armed. One of these birds recently came into the city and struck down a valuable carrier pigeon which was within a few yards of its home cote after a flight of 300 miles. Scores of persons were awaiting the return of the pigeon and some of its fellows, but with a bold disregard of their presence the pirate "sharp shin" came like a bullet and struck its prey.

While riding on an electric car in the very heart of the city one day at noon I saw a Cooper hawk descend into a flock of English sparrows feeding in the street. The car was moving so rapidly that it was impossible to tell whether the hawk secured the dinner he deserved for his boldness.

A CHASE THAT FAILED.

The accipiters rarely miss their intended victim. I have seen other species try and try again only to be disappointed of their prey. From my amplified field notes I have this description of the chase of a pigeon hawk (Falco Columbarius) after a white-throated sparrow.

"A pigeon hawk in pursuit of a white throat passed over the road just in front of the horse we were driving. We stopped the horse instantly. The sparrow was leading its pursuer about a yard. Neither bird uttered a sound. It was the silence of death, and verily the white-throat seemed to be passing through the valley of the shadow.

"In full flight they swept on for about tirty yards. Then the sparrow doubled like a hare. It passed down under the hawk as though it had turned a somersault and actually seemed for a moment breast upward. The pursuer used his wings and tail as brakes and doubled with the white-throat, but it lost about two yards distance. It gained rapidly, however, and by the time the middle of the road was reached on the return journey the sparrow was leading by a narrow margin.

"In some manner the little fellow managed to elude the hawk's talons extended ready to strike, and to get into the bush-grown field on the right of the road. There it doubled again, but the hawk, prepared for the maneuver, lost little distance in bringing up sharply and making the turn to follow in the white throat's wake. Hunter and hunted reached the field once more, and there, as if by inspiration, the sparrow shot headward into a tangled thicket of weeds and briars. There it was safe and the hawk knew it."

During this chase the hawk paid no attention to the human observers removed only a few feet from the path of its pursuit. Had it been a Cooper's hawk that had taken up the chase the white throat never again would have sung its sweet spring song.

HAWKS THAT SERVE MAN.

Of the hawks which commonly suffer at man's hands for the sins of the relatives the best known are the red-shouldered, the red-tailed and the broad-winged hawks. They are conspicuous objects as they sail about far up against the blue of the sky, and it is this very conspicuousness that is responsible for their persecution. The villain accipiter's hide, while the comparatively harmless buteos sail into plain view and bear the burden of the farmer's wrath.

The officials of the biological survey are hard at work trying to devise a means to abate the plague of prairie dogs, which have increased greatly in numbers recently. The red-tailed and his brother hawks dearly love prairie dogs. The farmer and the ranchman killed the hawks, thinking that by so doing they were saving their chickens. The prairie dogs began to multiply in the absence of the hawks, and man found out once more that he should not try to interfere with the nice adjustment of nature's economy.

The three hawks named are as timid in many ways as their cousins accipiter are bold. As a matter of fact, these hawks are cowardly. Possessed of weapons with which they can kill an ordinary antagonist, they will flee screaming before the attacks of a purple martin, a kind bird, a jay or a crow.

BUFFETED BY A CROW.

Not long since I saw a huge red-tailed hawk sitting on a fencepost at a corner of a field. A crow was perched on a tree overhead. Suddenly corvus shot down and gave the red-tail a thump with his wing and a strike with his bill. The hawk took the affront with most unbecoming meekness. Had it a particle of spunk it could have killed the crow, but the coward's heart was under its feathers.

Time after time the crow returned to the attack, while the red-tail made no attempt at retaliation, contenting itself with clumsily shifting its position occasionally, to enable it to "turn the other cheek." I finally put both birds to flight, but the hawk was nothing the gainer thereby, for corvus followed and buffeted him in midair.

I once found the body of a small hawk which had met a strange fate. The bird was hanging by the tendons of its wing from a barbwire fence. Unquestionably it had been pursuing its quarry and had struck the wire strand in full flight. The impetus acquired had been such that the hawk had swung twice around the wire with its wing fast to the barb. It had perished miserably, while some bird or mouse lived to congratulate itself on its narrow escape from the enemy.

PHOTOGRAPHED ITSELF.

It is the red-tailed hawk (buteo borealis) which perhaps is the only bird that has taken its own photograph. Robert W. Hegner, a bird photographer and field student, climbed sixty feet into a tree, and, training his camera on a red-tail's nest, fastened a thread to the shutter and then passed the other end around the nest in a loop. The mother hawk returned, and in getting into the nest pulled the thread, snapped the shutter and took her own picture.

The fishhawk, or, osprey (pandion haliatus carolinensis) eats little except fish, and strangely enough, the bird is protected by the shore fishermen, whose prey it shares. It is said "strangely enough," because inland fishermen kill the kingfisher on sight because it eats a few trout.

It was the sight of a bald eagle robbing the fishhawk of its hard-earned food that made one of the fathers of the republic protest strongly against the choice of the eagle as the bird emblem of America.

MORE POWER NOW NEEDED.

Better Car Service to Beaches is to Result Therefrom.

Time on Redondo Line to be Cut. Santa Monica Branches Toned Up.

Extensive improvements in service, comprising a half-hour schedule on the Redondo line, with a running time of fifty-five minutes, and a general toning up of the Santa Monica and Ocean Park divisions are contemplated by the Los Angeles-Pacific Railway Company, which has already hurried well toward completion the work of building a splendid new power-house at Vineyard Junction, where the Sawtelle and Short Line branches of the system separate. By the last of the present month a power plant of three units, two of which are already in place and being adjusted, will be delivering to the company's substations for transforming, a current of 2400 volts, all of which will be turned into the system. It is confidently expected by the management of the road that the increase in power facilities will enable the road to run a ten-minute service to Santa Monica and will cut several minutes off the average running time. At present the heavy demands made upon the "juice" in times of heavy duty and unusual holiday traffic are such that the road cannot begin to make the scheduled running time. The addition of the beach extension with terminus at Redondo has also taxed the company's capacity, although up to date the service rendered upon that division has been as light as the demands of the public would permit.

The new power-house has sprung up almost like the proverbial mushroom, so rapid is the progress of electrical construction in these days of interchangeable parts, and blue-print charts being pressed into service for the company's freight demands every day, and a surprising quantity of fruit and other goods is being hauled over the north line at present. New passenger cars are being built for the increased service which the company contemplates. Many of those now in use are capable of making sixty miles an hour if geared for that speed, given plenty of power and a level roadbed. Being narrow gauge, the line is hardly able to attempt any such speed as yet, though the beach division from Del Rey south is one of the finest bits of electric track in the world, splendidly ballasted by the natural sand. This part of the run is about eight miles, and the Redondo cars, with the new power facilities, are veritably to fly over it. All of the newer track of the company, including the Short Line to Santa Monica and the Redondo line, is capable of standing fairly high speeds. By the last of the month a double track will be well started to Redondo and hurried to completion. Officials of the company state that the traffic on the Redondo division has been actually more than they want. They admit that the road with its present power facilities has not been able to render the service to which the public is entitled, yet the demand has steadily increased.

INGERSOLL ANNIVERSARY.

"An Evening With Ingersoll," given last evening at Elks' Hall under the auspices of the Los Angeles Liberal Club, demonstrated that liberal-thought disciples are increasing in number in this vicinity. According to a club member, the attendance last night was the largest in the history of the organization. The entertainment was in commemoration of the seventieth anniversary of the birth of the great agnostic, and the programme of a musical and literary nature.

That the spirit of tolerance is prevalent, on the part of individuals at least, was evident in the carrying out of the exercises of the evening. The Rev. T. W. Williams, pastor of the Reorganized Church of the Latter Day Saints, acted as chairman, and in his opening address referred to the peculiar situation—that a liberal-thought club should be presided over by an orthodox minister, and that every participant on the programme was also a member of some orthodox religious organization.

During the evening the following numbers were most creditably rendered: Romance, op. 50 (Beethoven;) Serenade (Schubert-Alard)—Karl Muskat; Valse in A major (Moszkowski)—Miss Carrie B. Conger: "Only in Dreams" (De Koven;) "Through Sunny Spain" (Mattei) Miss Virginia L. Kellam; "The Liberty of Man, Woman and Child," by R. G. Ingersoll, read by Miss Ruth Messmore; Andante from violin concerto (Mendelssohn,) Karl Muskat.

FITCH DIDN'T TINKLE.

Hon. Tom Fitch's silver tongue didn't tinkle at the opposition Ingersoll meeting at Blanchard's Hall last night. Therefore many people were disappointed; and not finding his silence golden, left great bare spaces in the hall.

The big room was packed, the name of "the silver-tongued orator" on the programme being the great attraction. Nearly a hundred people were standing. But when James Taylor Rogers, chairman of the meeting, read a letter from Hon. Tom, in which he said that he had a bad ankle and couldn't endure the strain of standing to make a speech, the effect was worse than a collection announcement. Half the audience left.

There was a good substitute for the orator, though. Miss Anna R. Alex, a handsome young woman with a beautiful embroidered white silk waist and a blue ribbon in her hair, made a fine speech. She began in graduation essay style by referring to the ancients, but warmed to her subject and was soon raising applause at about every other sentence. She insisted that Col. Ingersoll must soon have recognition as one of the immortals of the world. She scored the Methodists, and said that the Presbyterians had recently decided to decrease the population of—ahem—the bad place, by releasing all the infants there. She believed that Ingersoll's influence had brought this about.

The complete programme was as follows: Overture, piano; introductory remarks by the chairman; piano solo, Mrs. Emma Bruce; vocal, "The Turnkey," Dr. K. D. Wise; vocal, Miss Anna G. Mueller; address, Miss Anna R. Alex; address, George T. Bruce; vocal, "The Star Spangled Banner," Miss Anna G. Mueller.

A Buddhist Ordination.

An ordination of Buddhist priests is held every year at Kooshan, in China, on the eve of the great teacher's supposed birthday. An observer of an ordination says that candidates for Holy Orders, each attended by two priests, knelt before tables which stood about the temple and on their shaven heads were placed from three to a dozen lighted pastilles of incense which were left to burn into the flesh. Meanwhile the priests recited texts and in twenty minutes the ordination was over. Another priest, anxious to become a Buddha himself, was standing before the three great images of the deity, quietly burning his finger off, and hoped that when two or more of his fingers had been consumed by slow degrees, he would have obtained his object.—[Golden Penny.

Too Swift Concurrence.

An Atchison man, newly married, was sounding his wife's praises to his men friends. "Why, she is so much better than I," he said, "I don't see how she came to marry me." His friends all agreed to this so promptly that he got mad; said he was as good as his wife any day, and wanted to whip the crowd.—[Atchison Globe.

ESSAY FOR THAT PRIZE.

Why Behest of Liars' League Should be Obeyed.

Further Tokens of Public Mind as to the Boycotters.

Reminiscences of the Kearney Sand-lot Conspirators, "Lest We Forget."

The Times has received the subjoined spirited comments on industrial conditions, including a copy of an essay written in competition for that $100 prize put up by the local labor agitators. The original essay has been sent to the "U.L.L." by the writer.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 10, 1903.—[To the Editor of The Times:] A "person" who does not "need the money" so much as I do gave me the inclosed card, thinking that I might like to enter the race for the award to be given for the best effort. I am out for the "stuff." I need this $100 in gold. If I get it, I have asked the S.W.U.L.L. to please pay it over to the Los Angeles Times as a nucleus for a fund to found an asylum for old and decrepit (but not degenerate) liars. I don't know what the letters "U. L." in the signature on the card signify, but judge, from an article which I saw in The Times a few days ago, that this card must emanate from the United, or Unlimited, or Ungodly, or Unabashed Liars' League, and that the stated "facts" are really nothing but lies.

If the "Committee of Three" do not decide to give me the $100, and lest they might not do so, I send you a copy of my effort, and will leave it to you to say if you do not think I ought to have it. If you have any influence with the "committee," please see to it that I get justice in this matter, and do no let some common "walking delegate" or "boycotter" decide in his own favor, and walk away with the gold which has been put up by good union souls for this "committee" to play with. I "need the money," and am sure my essay will win it if I only get fair play. I have no "graft," and I need cash much more than those do who have one or several of them.

Very truly yours,

$100.00 IN GOLD.

One hundred dollars in gold will be awarded the person who writes the best essay on "Why the Public Should Not Patronize A. Hamburger & Sons." The essay shall not exceed five hundred (500) words and shall cover the following facts:

1. Hamburger's is the only dry goods store in Southern California whose manager has been arrested, convicted and fined for violating the child-labor law. 2. The Hamburgers are the only merchants in Southern California—or anywhere else, so far as known—who ever printed statements in newspapers calling workingmen degenerates and curs, and referring to working women as doves from soiled nests. 3. While conducting "The Maze," a department store in San Francisco, the Hamburgers refused to close their store at night at the hour agreed upon by other merchants. As a result, thousands of people in San Francisco refused to patronize the Hamburgers, and "The Maze" went out of business and the Hamburgers left San Francisco. 4. A. Hamburger & Sons thoroughly approve of the abusive policy of the Los Angeles Times, and, to show their friendship for The Times, are the largest advertisers in that slanderous sheet.

A committee of three will judge all essays submitted, and the one deemed to be the best will be awarded one hundred dollars in gold. Write name and address plainly, and submit manuscript before September 1, as the award will be made September 7, 1903. Address all communications to Secretary Woman's U. L. League, room 331, Wilson Block, Los Angeles, Cal.

The Prize Essay.

Secretary Woman's U. L. League, Room 331, Wilson Block, Los Angeles, Cal.:

"WHY THE PUBLIC SHOULD NOT PATRONIZE ——.

[Note.—As this is a prize essay, I leave the name blank, so that you can use it on any firm you want to "scare."]

The public should not buy from this firm for the very logical and good reasons that follow:

First—Because the United Liars' League says not to do so, and it is wise, very, very wise. It knows, though it has not been "seen." Its boycott of this firm shows that it has not been "seen." For that reason don't buy of ——.

Second—Because as to "fact" (or lie) No. 1, it's all wrong for them to violate law for the reason that the Unlimited L. L. claims the sole and only and exclusive right to violate law, and the sole right also to do it and not to be punished and not to suffer for it. The Ungodly L. L. "stands fast" for its "divine right" to violate any and all the laws of God or man, and for its especial right to perpetrate the crime of boycott, and to do it and go "scot free," and to brag and to boast of it. For that reason don't buy of ——.

Third—Because as to "fact" (or lie) No. 2, it is all wrong for any firm to say that a thing or a person is so and so, or such and such, even if perchance it or he be so or such. The Unabashed L. L. contends for a monopoly in calling such names as it accuses this firm of using. One of the league's nice, pet, copyrighted names is "scab," which it applies to anyone or thing which it dislikes or wishes to boycott, or ostracize, maim or murder. The United L. L. "stands firm" for the principle of one's being "it," but no one who does not have a "card" or wear a "label" must dare to call him "it." It's the sole right of the Unlimited L. L. to abuse and "call names." For that reason don't buy of ——.

Fourth—Because as to "fact" (or lie) No. 3, it was so very absurd for that firm to have "refused to close their store" when the Ungodly L. L. or U. L. League (something or another) told them to. When the Unabashed L. L. says to "shut up shop," it means it, and does what it can by boycott, foul slanders, vile talk and tactics to "close" shop if any firm is so foolish as to not obey the league's orders. The league knows how to run the earth, and it means to do it. Its motto is the Arizona preacher's epitaph, "He done his damndest." The league works to its motto all the time. For this reason don't buy from ——.

Fifth—Because as to "fact" (or lie) No. 4, it is such a dastardly, such an outrageous thing for any firm to dare to advertise in any paper which the United L. L. tells it not to use. And it is so unfair for this firm to patronize a paper which had the temerity to tell some, even if it is only a few, of the awful facts about the league's acts. When the press begins to publish what the league says and does, its rule will cease, and hence it must muzzle the papers, gag them, too, so that they cannot bark at or bite it. The Unlimited L. L. knows how to "do" things, and it is "doin' 'em fust." It knows how to run this firm's business (into the ground,) and it just simply hates the firm because it won't turn over its keys and cash to it. Since the firm won't let the Ungodly L. L. run its business, it will try to ruin it. The Unabashed L. L.'s mission is to rule or ruin, and of late years it has been very busy. It rules some, ruins others, and "raises Cain" all the time. The joy of the jaw is sweet, and the "hot" members of the United L. L. are enjoying life while they live, and are living fast, for when they die they expect to be dead a long time. So does the Unlimited L. L. when it dies. For that reason don't buy from ——.

This is my essay. I have clearly proven why no one should buy from that firm. I am sure that your "Committee of Three" must decide that this is the "best" ever. If it is too long, cut it down to the limit. I need, and I expect, the hundred. If I get it, please pay it over to the Los Angeles Times, with which to start a fund to found an asylum for old and decrepit (but not degenerate) liars.

Yours for the cause,

GEO. B. PENT.

MODERN FIREBRANDS.

Sandlotters of Today.

POMONA (Cal.) May 26, 1903.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have addressed a communication to the publisher of "Appeal to Reason," [A freakish Kansas sheet of the wild-eyed sort.] It is possible he may not deem it good business for him to publish it, hence I enclose a copy to you.

I wish every man who endorses what my letter stands for would express his sentiments through The Times, that it may know its efforts to prevent the development of class hatred are appreciated. If, as I believe, there is a strong public sentiment favoring the proposition that those who have money and those who have none all belong to the same family and are continually changing places, and that when a man finds himself in an environment with which he is not satisfied, whether he is born into it, gets there through misfortune, "paucity of endowment" or "perversion of it," it is up to him to develop out of it by methods that will secure for him "all" he is "worth," and that no scheme has ever been devised that would make it possible to "flat" the price of anything he has to sell, whether it be "brains, muscle or merchandise." That a horse is a horse is a self-evident proposition. That the same value for all of them could not be established is also a foregone conclusion, and it would hardly be practicable to create a commission that would determine the value in every individual case. The goods must find a market that will take them, and their commercial value will determine the price. Those who have, and are willing to give, the "best value received" will have the best chance of securing a success in any department of life's business. Those who have not so much in the "endowment," or are not willing to give it, cannot hope to secure more for what they offer for sale than it is worth through a "walking delegate" who represents an organization that is organized and incites them to riot and bloodshed, which, when suppressed, as it surely will be, will leave them to suffer the consequences of their suicidal folly.

I am 77 years old and have been on this Coast 53 years. I was there when San Francisco solved such a problem. When Casey shot James King of William for publishing his State's prison record in the Bulletin. He would have been elected Mayor if he had not been hung. Mike Brannigan, Billy Mulligan, Red Mike, Charlie Duane and many others, with Ned McGowan to pat them on the back, were served with "601" and left the country for the country's good, and peace and prosperity came, to dwell where Casey and "Cora" had been raising hell.

Later "Sand-lot Kearney" paraded 10,000 men on the streets and defied the law. When they were setting fire to the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's buildings and cutting the hose, the Chief of Police called for 100 volunteers from the 56'ers, who were assembled 3000 strong in the old Pavilion on Stockton street waiting for William T. Coleman to come and organize them. They went, and the fire was put out. The next evening the "Old Guard" assembled at their respective ward rendezvous, and after drill were marched out into the street and every man was served with a gun and 13 rounds of cartridges. They paraded in beautiful marching order, in every direction, until the town was alive with them.

As they came to the junction of Market and Kearney, a leather-lunged hood, who was haranguing a crowd of several thousand from a dry-goods box, "caught on," and he sang out: "Boys, God damn your souls! Get into your holes! Them's the 56'ers, and they're out for business." And they "got," and there was no more trouble with them.

Kearney then came down to this country to see what he could stir up here. Somebody had given him a lot of "rot" about our ex-Sheriff, named Rule, and he gave him "hot stuff" for a "scorcher." When he came off the stand Rule took him by the nape of the neck and nearly wore him out, and he went out of business here, but he had driven $100,000,000 of capital out of the State, much of which has never returned, resulting in a paralysis of business that compelled men to beg for a chance to work for 50 cents per day. $800,000 worth of contracts, to my personal knowledge, were turned down at one time.

William Hollins, who was manager for the "Real Estate Associates" (a corporation) was building fifty houses a month, disincorporated and went out of business. And during the next winter crowds of people went to the churches for "charity soup." The same trouble has come to them now, and they may be compelled to handle it as they did then. You cannot negotiate with a mob, you cannot arrest a mob, you cannot punish a mob, you cannot mulct a mob in damages, "moral suasion" will not reach them. The Sheriff and his posse are not available. Neither the sheriff nor the Governor can get there in time to prevent a paralysis of industries, involving the loss of millions of those who represent them, while those who join the "quit brigade" have only to take a "lay off" for a time, and stand by to kill those who would take their places. They lose nothing, having nothing to lose except their wage.

Up to the time they quit there was no cause for complaint, even if they demanded for their services more than the "traffic would bear." The universal law of supply and demand would soon adjust the rates, but when they form what they call a "union" through a bond which is not of record and cannot be reached by process of law, and take the wheels off a man's wagon loaded with perishable goods, and say to him: "it must stand there until we put them on, and furnish you a driver upon such terms as we will dictate," they are simply acting in concert as a mob, and anarchy will hold high carnival until such means are resorted to as will be effective to suppress them, and permit the owner of the wagon to either put on the wheels or get some one to do it upon such terms as will result in moving the goods.

Desperate diseases require desperate remedies. Sometimes there would seem no alternative but to "fight the devil with fire," or adopt the tactics of Napoleon when his marshal reported the enemy charging with a column endwise—an unheard of demonstration. He simply turned his head from the table where he was eating and said: "Meet them with a column endwise."

When James King was shot in the back by the cowardly assassin Casey, because he published in the Bulletin his "State's prison record," old Silas C. Field mounted a dry-goods box on Montgomery street and appealed to the citizens to avenge his death, stand together to prevent further bloodshed, and rescue the city from mob rule. A rush was made to down him. It soon developed, however, that there were more of "these" than there were of "those," and law and order was established by methods which were discontinued as soon as the necessity for them was obviated. It the precedent was deplored, the net result was good and could have been achieved in no other way.

Again when Kearney assumed the role of dictator, a demonstration along the same lines put him and his sand-lot crowd out of business. When he was told that they had driven a hundred millions of capital out of the country, he said, "Let them go, and be damned to them; they can't take the real estate and the brick houses with them; they'll be left for us when they're gone," but he did not explain how they were to get possession of them. As soon as the sand-lot crowd were satisfied that the people would and could take care of themselves and protect their property from "riot and loot," a normal business was reassumed through business channels; they had not bettered their condition, and the office-seekers had learned the folly of placating them for the sake of their votes.

This deluded class seems, however, to have almost forgotten it now, and we have been compelled to rely upon the Los Angeles Times to champion the cause of truth—a journal which has made such herculean efforts to prevent the curse of coercion and intimidation from taking possession of the industrial field and fastening a blight on this fair Southland; service entitling it to the support of those who are investing their hundreds of millions in our great metropolis. Its welfare should be looked after by those whose interests it has protected, by counseling and demanding that justice and equity from all parties which should be the basis of their business relations with each other.

If the entire press of the land had taken the same stand Jimgrayism would not flourish any better elsewhere than it does here.

Then let all those who would see our marvelous prosperity continue indefinitely "stand in" with The Times, give it assurances of a proper appreciation and ask it to continue the good work.

Yours for the achievement of the best there is in the possibilities for those who "pass the coal" and those who "stand on the bridge."

M. BALDRIDGE.

POMONA (Cal.) May 26, 1903.

Editor "Appeal to Reason," Girard, Kan. Dear Sir—Some time ago my little granddaughter was alone in the house, and a stranger came to the door with your paper. She thought it was someone needing charity and gave him 25 cents. Since then your paper has been coming regularly addressed to E. Hamlin.

Please discontinue it as I do not want such a "firebrand" to come within reach of my family. You are so closely following the literature that led up to the "commune" that it would seem that you must be getting your inspiration from the "Tale of Two Cities."

There had been a good deal of business done in the world before the "communists" inaugurated the lovely scheme of cutting people's heads off because they had money. There has been a good deal of business done since they were wiped out and their hellish work discontinued.

There was a good deal of business done in the world before you came into it, and there will be a great deal done after you go out of it, and those who will conduct it will be those who can see what "communism" and "class hatred" have achieved for mankind. Those who are industrious will always accumulate some capital to provide for sickness and old age, and those who are not will not be permitted to take it away and compel the "other fellow to exchange places with him;" they must take the same trail he did and "stay with it" as he did. He cannot hope to get money except from those who have it, and the more he quarrels with them the less he is likely to get of it.

When the world was made the people who were to do business in it were not all made alike; some were a success wherever located and others were a failure with the same opportunities. Why they were not all equipped with the same endowment is a question which has never been answered. It seems a pity you could not have been there when the Creator inaugurated the ordainment, to suggest an amendment which would have obviated the necessity for "money" or "labor." An "Appeal to Reason" might have been effective then, but the door was left open to a place provided for "God's poor," the "Devil's poor" and "poor devils," and so many have gone there that it will be a pretty heavy contract for you now to corral them all and get them out and run the other fellows in, and if it could be done, if the causes which prompted every man to go to his own place were left in operation, it would not be long before they were found where they were before, and the business of the world would go on just the same as now and hitherto.

If you see fit to publish this communication, my suggestion will not cost you a cent.

Yours truly, M. BALDRIDGE.

Everything in the plant is to be of the very best and the establishment is being erected in accordance with the best and most modern electrical practice of the day. The prime movers are two compound condensing McIntosh Seymour engines of the two-cylinder-abreast type, rated respectively at 1200 and 1800-horse power, turning at 150 revolutions per minute, and each direct connected to a Stanley generator of the revolving field alternator type. The larger engine is of twenty-one-inch high pressure and forty-four-inch low pressure cylinders, with thirty-inch stroke; the larger is 22x46, with forty-two-inch stroke, and the combined electrical output of the two is an alternating current of 1400 kilowatt intensity, which must be transformed down to a direct current of 550 volts for the service. The alternating current can be sent to greater distances with less loss than the direct car current, consequently the power plants of all extended systems are built to generate it, and substations at distances of seven or eight miles along the lines take it from big mains and deliver the modified "juice" to the cars through overhead wires and the usual trolley device.

The McIntosh Seymour engines are largely used for modern electrical practice at present, as they are very steady performers under that most variable of loads, the electrical freight, and render a phenomenally high rate of efficiency in proportion to the fuel. There are half a dozen others just as good; many of such engines as those now being installed at the vineyard are guaranteed to carry a 25 per cent. overload for twelve hours without heating, which is a wonderful flexibility for a machine of their horse power.

In addition to the McIntosh Seymour engines which have come all the way from Auburn, N. Y., to their present resting place, another unit will be installed at the vineyard, being brought from one of the other plants. The Los Angeles-Pacific road now has three power-houses, the big one at Sherman, another smaller at Ocean Park, the one building, and a big storage battery at the vineyard to regulate the current and keep juice up to a certain standard in times of brief, but heavy drafts upon it. There will also be a number of substations.

Each of the big Stanley revolving field generators is of fifty cycle rating and capable of turning out a 2400-volt current, one having a capacity of 800 kilowatts, the other of 600.

The boiler battery at the vineyard power-house is already installed. Four huge Sterling boilers, rated at 250-horse power each, using oil sprayed through Hammel burners as fuel and discharging their gases into a big yellow smokestack rising 100 feet above the grate bars, will furnish the steam. The engines deliver their exhaust into big Wheeler condensers, where it is converted back into water and returned to the boilers with comparatively little loss. A good smoke consumer will get all the efficiency possible out of the gases before they go up the chimney. Economy is the slogan of every big power plant nowadays, for fuel is power, and power is money.

Within the last few days there has been turned out of the Sherman shops a pair of electric locomotives capable of hauling eight loaded freight cars over any of the grades of the Los Angeles-Pacific Company's line. More are

BUSINESS.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

FINANCIAL.

BANK CLEARINGS. The credits exchanged at the Los Angeles clearing-house today were $1,079,377.57, as compared with $736,104.27 for the corresponding period of last year; the total to date, 1901, $595,860.92.

BANKERS ULTRA-CONSERVATIVE. Mr. Josiah C. Reiff has expressed the opinion of very many in this city that bank officers are apt to be too ultra-conservative at the present time. When the money is easy and prices are booming, he thinks the banks encourage speculation by easy terms and little discrimination of collateral, while with the appearance of the slightest cloud, only is the rate of money raised, and there is immediate discrimination as to collateral. That this is the indictment there can be no doubt. That it does not apply to all banks may be admitted, but that it applies to a good many is certain. The time for discrimination in the matter of loans is the time when the money market shows sign of expanding too rapidly. Then is the time when the banks might perform the most useful service to the country by putting on the brakes. The very banks which bankers now complain of having brought about the liquidation in the stock market could have been possible only by the aid and encouragement of the lenders of money. At this more discrimination when prices were approaching the top might have prevented the over-speculation. Now that the evil has been done and the market is beginning to feel the penalty for its excesses, the banks suddenly become very conservative and by their extreme discrimination in the matter of collateral tend to increase the prevailing disorder. The time for extreme caution when it could be made most effective and do the most good, has passed. Now is the time when a little liberality and courage would help the situation.—[Wall Street Journal.

MATCHES DECLINE. Matches in bundles declined yesterday 25 cents per gross; that new quotations are: Parlor, per tin, $1.10; P. C., per tin, $1.50—at Chicago.

COMMERCIAL.

STICKING. The Cincinnati Price Current of August 8 says: There was further moderate decline indicated in number of hogs marketed during the week. Total western packing 840,000, compared with 880,000 the preceding week, and 695,000 two weeks ago. For corresponding time last year the number was 265,000, and two years ago 430,000. From March 1, the total is 8,958,000, against 8,270,000 a year ago—an increase of 685,000. The quality is not so uniformly good, and in some instances is reported as poor. Reports of the close indicate an average of $6.40 per 100 pounds for prominent markets, compared with $6.40 a week ago, $5.55 two weeks ago, $7.45 a year ago, and $5.75 two years ago. The speculative provision market has been fairly active the past week, with prices somewhat more divided than for some time. A strong corn market with decreases in the marketing of hogs and steadier foreign markets influenced more of a buying movement, but reports of stocks of meats were larger than the trade expected, and had the effect of checking the advancing tendency. Compared with a week ago the quotations for all articles at Chicago are lower. Toward the close of the week there was some inclination to trade, and the market was quiet. Domestic markets were steady, with but little change in values. The export clearances of product were light, showing decreases as compared with the previous week and a falling off as compared with the corresponding week last year.

	Aug. 1.	July 1.	Aug. 1, 1902.
New York City	46,421,000	48,527,000	38,000,000
Boston	45,250,000	47,145,000	35,177,000
Kansas City	19,450,000	6,715,000	6,715,000

This indicates a decrease of 6,000,000 pounds in the total, compared with a week ago, while the stocks were decreased 33,000,000 pounds last year for the corresponding period. The total of points is now 53,000,000 pounds more than a year ago, and 18,000,000 pounds less than two years ago. Stocks of lard at Chicago, New York and in Europe on August 1 were 16,000 tierces more than a week ago, and 44,000 tierces more than a year ago. The total stocks of lard in the five centers named in the following table on August 1 were 107,000,000 pounds, compared with 80,800,000 pounds a week ago, and 62,950,000 a year ago. The following shows the lowest, highest and closing prices of leading futures at Chicago for the week, for the months indicated, and also for the same time a week ago and a year ago:

September	Pork.	Lard.	Ribs.
Highest	$12.50	$ 7.77½	$ 7.35
Lowest	12.27½	7.60	7.12½
Closing	12.45	7.70	7.25
Week ago	12.45	7.67½	7.27½
Year ago	10.82½	6.67½	6.67½

CALIFORNIA FRUIT SHIPMENTS. Shipments of citrus fruits from Southern California on Monday were 13 cars of oranges and 1 of lemons. Total shipments for the season, to September 1, 1902, to date, are 2,431 cars, of which number 2431 cars are lemons.

WOMEN'S COURAGE. Very suggestive indeed is the statement published in another column that the Northern Railroad, though it has expended $3,000,000 in the construction of a tunnel through the Cascade Mountains, intends immediately to enter upon the construction of another route, recently surveyed, which will reduce the grade. As soon as the new route is completed the three million dollar tunnel will be abandoned, says the Wall Street Journal.

It takes courage to perform such acts as that, and yet, it is in line with the highest business policy. It is one of the things which made Andrew Carnegie, the greatest iron master of his day, that he was capable of doing things on a scale like that by the time it had been built a steel plant and used, new improvements in the art of making steel had been introduced that would cheapen the product, he did not hesitate an instant to pull down his plant, created with so much labor and expense, and erect another in its place. It is by such methods as these that the United States has been able in the few years to take a commanding position in the commerce of the world. No expense is too large,

BANK CLEARINGS. The credits exchanged at the Los Angeles clearing house today were $1,575,377.57, as compared with $736,104.27 for the corresponding period of last year; for the same date, 1901, $535,860.92.

BANKERS ULTRA-CONSERVATIVE. Mr. Josiah C. Reiff has expressed the opinion of very many in stating that bank officers are apt to become ultra-conservative at the present time. When the money is easy and prices are booming, he says, the banks encourage speculation by easy terms and little discrimination of collateral, while with appearance of the slightest cloud, or even only the rate of money raised, there is immediate discrimination as to collateral. That this is true in instinct there can be no doubt. That it does not apply to all bankers may be admitted, but that it applies to a good many is certain. The time for discrimination in the best sense is the time when the stock market shows sign of expansion, and little more discrimination would have prevented the over-speculation. Now that the evil has been done the market is beginning to feel the penalty for its excesses, the banks suddenly become very conservative and by their extreme discrimination in the matter of collateral serve to increase the prevailing disaster. The time for extreme caution is when it could be made most effective and do the most good, has passed. Now is the time when a little liberality and courage would help the situation.—[Wall Street Journal.

MATCHES DECLINE. Matches in Chicago declined yesterday 25 cents per gross, so that the new quotations are: P. C., per tin, $1.10; P. C., per tin, [illegible]

COMMERCIAL.

STICKING. The Cincinnati Current of August 6 says: There is further moderate decline indicated in number of hogs marketed during the week. Total western packings, 465,000, compared with 390,000 the preceding week, and 495,000 two weeks ago. For corresponding time last year the number was 265,000, and two years ago 430,000. From March 1, the total is 8,856,000, against 8,270,000 a year ago—an increase of 585,000. The quality is not so uniformly good, and some instances is reported as poor. Trade at the close indicates an average of $5.40 per 100 pounds for prominent markets, compared with $5.40 a week ago, $5.55 two weeks ago, $7.45 a year ago, and $5.75 two years ago. The speculative provision market has been very active the past week, with somewhat more divided than for some time. A strong corn market with increase in the marketing of hogs and steadier foreign markets induced more of a buying movement, and reports of stocks of meats less than the trade expected, which had the effect of checking the declining tendency. Compared with a week ago the quotations for articles at Chicago are lower. Prices at the close of the week there was little animation to trade, and the market was quiet. Domestic markets were dull, with but little change in tone. The export clearance trade were light, showing a decrease compared with the previous week and a falling off as compared with the corresponding week last year.

Pork	124,784,000	117,339,000	108,905,000
Lard	46,125,000	48,237,000	25,000,000
Shoulders	15,400,000	15,986,000	6,712,000
Bacon	31,787,000	30,850,000	25,256,000

This indicates a decrease of 6,000,000 pounds in the total, compared with a month ago, while the stocks were decreased 13,000,000 pounds last year for the corresponding period. The total stock of pork is now 53,000,000 pounds less than a year ago, and 18,000,000 pounds less than two years ago. The stocks of lard at Chicago, New York and in Europe on August 1 were 16,000 tierces more than a month ago, and 44,000 tierces more than a year ago. The total stocks of lard at the five centers named in the following table on August 1 were 107,000,000 pounds, compared with 80,800,000 pounds a month ago and 89,000 a year ago, respectively, shows the lowest, highest and closing prices of leading futures at Chicago for the week, for the month indicated, and also for the corresponding week ago and a year ago:

GENERAL BUSINESS TOPICS.

SHIPMENTS. Citrus fruits from Southern California on Monday were 12 carloads and 1 of lemons. Shipments for the season, since July 1, 1902, to date, are 2481 cars, of which number 2481 were lemons.

COURAGE. Very suggestive is the statement published in another column that the Southern Railroad, though it has expended $3,000,000 in the construction of a tunnel through the Cumberland Mountains, intends immediately to enter upon the construction of another route, recently surveyed, which will reduce the grades, as the new route is to be, the three million dollar tunnel will be abandoned, says the Railway Journal.

It takes courage to perform such a task as that, and yet, it is in line with the highest business policy. It is one of the things which made Napoleon Napoleon, the greatest iron master of his day, that he was capable of throwing things on a scale like that, to build a steel plant and equip it by the time it had been decided that there would be important absorption of stocks by capitalists of large means, who pursue the policy of buying at intervals the stocks of whose value they are satisfied. Not so much importance was attached to reports that recent large withdrawals of savings-bank deposits had been for the purpose of investment in stocks. This is a source from which little is expected in the way of stock buying as a rule. Some of the recent withdrawals of savings have been attributed to the demand for living expenses during the prevalence of strikes. There was, however, a conspicuous number of small transactions, or those in "odd lots," meaning less than 100 shares, which is the unit form of liquidation on the Stock Exchange. This buying in lots of 10 to 50 shares was attributed to small investment buying, and was fairly well distributed among paying stocks. This is a class of business that stock commission houses give small heed to in times of ordinary strength in the market. But the sentimental effect at present is considerable. Some of the industrials on which the rate of return is inviting shared in this kind of demand. When prices started upward there was pressure developed to sell, which was attributed to those who bought stocks yesterday for purposes of support and who had no desire to hold them. But the downward movements failed to awaken the kind of nervousness that has been witnessed for some time past, and they served to demonstrate the existence of buying orders below the market, which served as a prop. The increase in the dividend rate on Canadian Pacific was shown in the opening rise of 1½ in that stock, in which an uneasy short interest exists. But there was clearly no present intention to squeeze the shorts. This was accepted with satisfaction, as it is feared that anything like the working of a corner would be as discomfiting to the market as a decline in prices. The government crop report was a favorable factor in general. The corn carriers themselves were affected by attempts to make the shares on the strength of the crop showing. The chances of damage by frost to a late crop are also held in mind. There were persistent rumors that the Rock Island-St. Paul stock increase would soon be issued, but there was no official sanction for these reports. Encouraged by the good resistance, the whole market turned strong in the last hour, and rose to the best of the day and closed strong at about the top level. There were some sharp advances in bonds late in the day, but the other issues failed to share in the late recovery. Total sales, par value, $1,900,000. United States 3s declined ¼ per cent. on the last call.

GENERAL EASTERN MARKETS.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—Wheat opened firm on the government crop report, which was construed as moderately bullish, and September was a shade lower to ¼ to ¼ higher at the start at 79⅞@80⅛. Local traders were disposed to sell on the small advance, which resulted in an easier tone, September selling off to 79¼@79⅜, but with a strong corn market, prices soon rallied again and September advanced to 80⅝. Some of the large interests that were such persistent sellers yesterday were again on that side of the market, and on the least show of strength the selling pressure became so great that a reaction always followed. During the last hour the market became quite weak, and September declined to 79⅝, closing at 80, a shade higher than yesterday's close. Unseasonably cool weather throughout the corn belt caused firmness in corn, in spite of the bearish construction placed upon the crop report. Opening prices were easier, but a good demand from prominent bull operators who were influenced by the fears of early frosts soon caused a rally, and the market became quite strong. The late weakness in wheat, however, had a depressing effect, and all the early strength was lost, the close being at about yesterday's figures, with Septemebr a shade lower at 53⅝, after selling between 51⅞ and 53⅝. Oats ruled firm, despite the fact that the government report was in some respects bearish. Local bulls were active buyers for the nearby months, and there was little on the market at any time. After selling between 34¼ and 34⅜, September closed ¼ higher, at 34⅛. Provisions were firm at the start on buying by packers, but in the absence of speculative interest, the market gradually turned easy. September pork closed 5 to 7½ lower. Lard unchanged and ribs were off 5 cents.

The leading futures closed as follows:

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Spot tin broke sharply in London, closing at £1 lower at £127 10s, while futures were 12s 6d lower at £123 15s. Locally, tin was easy and lower also, spot closing at 28.60@28.65. Copper advanced £1 for spot in London, 4, closed at £58, and futures were 15s higher at £56. In New York copper was quiet and nominally unchanged. Lake 13.00@13.12½; electrolytic, 13.00; casting, 12.75. Lead declined 1s 3d in London to £11 but was unchanged at 4.2s. Spelter advanced 2s 6d in London to £20 5s, was unchanged in New York at 5.75@5.87½. Iron was quiet and nominal.

Available Supplies.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Special cable and telegraphic advices to Bradstreet's this week show the following changes as compared with the last account: Wheat, United States and Canada, east of the Rockies, increased 52,000 bushels. Afloat for and in Europe decreased 2,500,000 bushels; total supply, decreased 2,948,000 bushels. Corn, United States and Canada, east of the Rockies, decreased 802,000 bushels. Oats, United States and Canada, east of the Rockies, increased 59,000 bushels.

New York Cotton Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Cotton futures opened steady at an advance of three points to a decline of one point. August was notably firm, selling up to 12 cents, a net advance of 27 points, and closing at 11.99, a net gain of 26 points for the day, while September came in for much buying, and gained at the best 20 points. The other options, influenced by the firmness in the near positions, also ruled firm, and at the close were at practically the best prices of the day.

Spring Wheat Harvesting.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The Weather Bureau's weekly crop report says rains have checked somewhat the progress of spring wheat harvesting, which, however, is now general throughout the spring-wheat region. Harvest is advancing rapidly in Oregon, and will soon begin in Washington.

The Leading Specialist.

Men's Diseases Only.

My practice has demonstrated that no ailment peculiar to men is incurable. Failure to cure is usually due to lack of knowledge and improper treatment. You may consult me free of charge and learn your exact condition. I will not urge my services, nor will I accept your case unless I am positive of my ability to cure you.

"Weakness"

I am the only physician employing scientific local measures in treating functional weakness, and thoroughly and permanently curing every case. I accept no incurable cases at all, and if I treat you, you can feel assured of a radical cure, and I am always willing to wait for my fee until a cure is effected.

Varicocele, Contracted Disorders, Stricture, Specific Blood Poison and Piles. I also treat and cure promptly and thoroughly. No charge for consultation or advice.

NOTHING Accomplished By Guess Work

I have no secret treatment to palm off by mail. Experience of the right kind is absolutely necessary to obtain good results. In removing the "EXACT CAUSE" I believe personal treatment and facilities well adapted to the requirements are the main factors in the cure of any chronic condition. Good results cannot be had by unreliable means, and I am safe in saying life cures brought about by my method of treatment are more frequent than by those of less experience and facilities. In many cases a few days' time is all that is required.

Functional Decline Termed Weakness by Some

I am positive the treatment I employ in the cure of the derangement is the most potent, rational, direct and certain whereby functional activity of the parts can be restored. Many men, suffering from this condition will find the cause directly traceable to the reproductive system.

Varicocele

Many men have treated for this diseased condition and few have found permanent cure. My treatment is thorough and cures in 4 to 6 days, and there is no relapse of the old weakness that accompanied the disease. The treatment is direct and for the exact cause. It is a treatment not in common use and is the most effective yet known.

Stricture

I cure in 10 to 15 days. I have devoted years of study to the formation and complete eradication of urethral obstruction. I restore health and tone to the membrane. My exact cause treatment removes the necessity of any surgery. The right treatment, applied the right way, will always bring good results.

Contracted Diseases

I cure these ailments more quickly, with less pain and inconvenience, than any one claiming to treat successfully these conditions. Has your case become chronic through improper treatment or by the use of caustic remedies? Has it caused deep-seated inflammation and irritation in the urinary tract, as the result of which you now suffer from stricture? My treatment cures these conditions quickly and the cure is permanent.

[NEWS REPORTS FROM TIMES CORRESPONDENTS.]

FOR GROWING PLANTS FROM OTHER LANDS.

EXPERIMENT STATION WILL BE IN THIS STATE.

Department of Agriculture Representative Looking Into Conditions in Riverside—Fifty Acres to be Utilized. No Kicks on Assessments.

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 11.—Prof. P. H. Dorsett of the Department of Agriculture, has been in the city a few days looking into the conditions relative to the establishment of a testing and experiment station by the department for propagating the seeds and plants brought into this country from other lands. It is the purpose of the department to establish such a station, and California has been designated as the State in which it will be located. The particular locality is yet undecided. Prof. Dorsett and Prof. Stubenrauch, who is now in Los Angeles, will on Saturday meet a number of Riverside orchardists and inquire into the various items which will go to make up the evidence for and against a place in their minds concerning its adaptability for the department's use. Water supply, climatic conditions, soil and price of land, are among the items to be discussed. Fifty acres of land is wanted by the department for this station.

SOON TOLD.

The City Trustees met this morning as a Board of Equalization and adjourned sine die. No petitions for reduction of assessment were presented.

Miss Alice Whitney and Mrs. Helen Griffith left this morning for an extended outing at La Costa, San Diego and other coast points.

G. C. Dennis, Esq., who was operated on some days ago for appendicitis, was yesterday removed from the City Hospital to his home. He is recovering satisfactorily and will be out in a few days.

Harry Sims, who was electrocuted yesterday by a live wire, was a brother of Mrs. G. W. Crowell of this city. He worked as a clerk in the store of Mrs. Crowell in Muskogee for fourteen years. The funeral service will be held tomorrow morning at the Presbyterian Church.

CORONA.

PREPARING TO CURE.

CORONA, Aug. 11.—The California Citrus Union is arranging to build a house in Corona for curing lemons by the tent process, known as the Teague method.

D. J. Adams bought a house and lot on Sheridan street of E. N. Lewis for $1000.

Yesterday E. Herkelrath of Corona sold an option on a one-third interest in a gold mine near Barstow to Blinkiron Barbur & Co. of Los Angeles for $2000. This company pays Walter Austin of Corona $1000 for an option on one-half interest in same claim.

A. Gregory of Redlands bought three carloads of Corona honey which are stored in one of the local packing-houses.

Mrs. Bert Holmes of Arlington (née Songer of Corona) was severely burned by the falling of a lamp while undergoing a surgical operation.

Two severe thunder showers occurred early Sunday morning.

E. Herkelrath sold today to Blinkiron, Barbur & Co. a two-thirds interest in the Wandering Jew gold mine near Barstow for $2500.

Mrs. S. C. Wheeler of Concordia, Kan., is visiting her son, W. A. Wheeler, and wife.

Miss Mabel McVicar is visiting in Santa Ana.

Mrs. Roy Smith has gone to Los Angeles and the beaches; Miss Grace Shepherd to Redondo; E. Slaten and family, Miss Fannie Songer, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wells and children, Mrs. Leonard Baker and children, J. T. Speer and family, Misses Maude and Jessie Lough, to Long Beach.

Dr. and Mrs. I. A. McCarty and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bruckman went to Los Angeles, where Mr. Bruckman's little daughter is to be operated on today.

G. M. Hughes will go to Riverside Thursday to remain.

SANTA ANA.

HOLDING THE APRICOTS.

SANTA ANA, Aug. 11.—The Santa Ana Dried Fruit Association yesterday evening closed its membership roll for the season, with its members controlling 175 tons of the dried apricot crop of the Santa Ana Valley. The prices thus far offered for dried apricots are not in excess of 7 cents a pound, and the association, which holds the major portion of the local crop, shows no inclination to sell at that figure, when every indication points to a further advance of about 2 cents a pound. The total crop of the valley amounts to from thirty to forty carloads, according to different estimates, and practically all of it is yet unsold, the smaller growers following very generally the lead of the association. The dried fruits this season are of exceptionally good quality as to size, appearance and flavor, ranking far above the average. The decision of the association to retain its fruit for higher prices practically means that no dried apricots will be sold in the Santa Ana Valley at the present figures, and that trips of small buyers to this section will be to no purpose.

Judge J. W. Towner was thrown from his bicycle to the pavement yesterday afternoon in a collision with a horse and rig, and sustained a severe cut on the forehead.

The auctioneer's voice reaches to the sidewalk, but if you want to sell anything, the Los Angeles Times' voice reaches through the whole Southwest. Telephone your wants to Main 28, and our Santa Ana Agency will take your ad. and send it to the main office.

YORBA.

NEWS BRIEFS.

YORBA, Aug. 11.—Mr. and Mrs. P. Palomares of Pomona are visiting Yorba relatives, as are Mr. and Mrs. Teodocio Yorba of Whittier.

A party of Yorba people, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Velasco, Misses Mattie, Mary and Ubenia Yorba, Jacob Berlin, Jr., of Fullerton, and Harry Davis of Santa Ana took a day's outing at Long Beach.

A "barbecued head" party or "Cabeza Tatemada," was given by David Yorba at the J. F. Velasco place. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Velasco, Mrs. William Berkenstock of Placentia, Miss Pauline Nemetz of Anaheim and P. Nicolas, Jr., of Fullerton, Ernest Yorba and F. Carrika.

A daughter has been born to the wife of J. Ruiz.

ANAHEIM.

POKER CHASE.

ANAHEIM, Aug. 11.—J. Twomey, well known here and at Santa Ana, spent a few unlucky days in this end of the county. He resides in Santa Ana, and came to the Mother Colony first, but evidently found sporting circles too slow here. Then he thought of Fullerton and wended his way up there. There he got mixed up in a little game of poker in the Exchange Clubroom and lost his last cent. Then another idea struck him; he gave a bill of sale for his horse and buggy to a friend for $100, with which he expected to win back the greenbacks he had dropped in the jackpot and a lot more, but the longer he stayed with the game the more he lost, and a little after midnight the last of the borrowed money had slipped from his fingers into the clutches of an expert card sharp. Then the Santa Ana man had a third idea—he went out and jumped into the rig he had soaked early in the evening and lined out for the county seat. He was closely pursued by the money lender until Anaheim was reached, and here the chap who held the bill of sale, which had been drawn up hurriedly, decided to abandon the race, as the Santa Ana would-be poker player was far in the lead. The next day an officer went to Santa Ana and located Twomey and returned with him and the rig. Twomey squared himself with the money borrower on this trip back.

Heavy egg shipments are again being made from Anaheim.

It is reported there will be two-thirds of a walnut crop in Yorba, while Anaheim and Fullerton will not market 30 per cent. of an average crop.

NO LICENSE TAXES IN FIFTH-CLASS CITIES.

LAW DECLARED UNCONSTITUTIONAL AT SAN BERNARDINO.

City Eight Thousand Dollars Short Annually, and Levy Will be Raised. Mexican's Awful Ride to Death—Will of Engineer Allen.

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 11.—Judges Oster and Bledsoe this evening rendered a decision declaring unconstitutional subdivision 10, section 764, Municipal Corporation Act, which is a portion of the State law under which cities of the fifth class have been levying license taxes. The effect of the decision, therefore, is to knock out every license-tax ordinance in cities of the fifth class in the State, and therefore it is of far-reaching importance.

The question came before the court on a habeas-corpus petition, instituted by the Grocers' Association, to test the local ordinance. M. A. Pace, president of the association, declined to pay the license tax July 1 and was arrested. A habeas-corpus petition was immediately filed and the case argued and submitted. The decision of the court is clean-cut, and squarely passes upon the constitutionality of the section in dispute.

"The power of a municipality to impose taxes is only that which the Legislature grants to it. The Legislature can undoubtedly authorize municipal corporations to collect taxes in the form of licenses for revenue only, but it has not done so in this instance. Sec. 764 of the Municipal Corporation Act is general in that it applies to all municipalities of the fifth class, but we are of the opinion that it is special when considered in its relations to persons and their rights as individuals."

Further along in the decision the inequality of the tax being paid by one merchant in one city and not being required of another merchants in neighboring city of a different class is pointed out. The court holds that the section upon which the license-tax ordinance is based is therefore unconstitutional.

AWFUL RIDE TO DEATH.

The remains of a Mexican who was killed at Fredalba yesterday afternoon were brought here today to await an inquest by the Coroner. The unfortunate was recently from Mexico, and had gone to work for the Brookings Lumber Company. Yesterday a hand car, upon which he was riding, broke away, and for over a mile dashed down the steep grade. He remained on the car until it jumped the track on a curve, and threw him far out and on his head. Though horribly mangled, he lived several hours.

HIS LAST WILL.

The body of J. E. Allen a Santa Fé engineer, who died last Tuesday at the County Hospital of injuries received in a fall from a freight at Los Angeles some months ago, was shipped to his late home at Salt Lake City this morning. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen of Temple, Tex., in which order he was insured for $3000. The remains had been held here awaiting orders from his relatives. Just before dying he scrawled on the back of a string of stamp photographs of his little boy: "This is my son, all I have I give to my wife."

ON THE SIDE.

The preliminary hearing of the three young thugs, John Paine, Angus Tremble and Silas, for murderous assault upon G. B. Boyce and his son, was held today before Justice Thomas. All were positively identified as the assailants. They were bound over under $1000 bail.

J. O'Brien, a Santa Fé brakeman, with a run on the Los Angeles local, reports that Saturday afternoon he found secreted in the toilet of the smoker a shirt and pair of overalls. It is surmised that they were discarded for better clothing by one of the Folsom escapes. The same night the store of James Bohanan at Rialto was broken into and two pairs of shoes, two suits of underwear and two knives were taken. This is also supposed to be by the same man, and a companion who were on the local. The officers are at work on these clews.

Put your money in The Times "Liners," and your reward will be quick and sure. Telephone your wants to Red 414, and our San Bernardino Agency will take your ad. and send it to the main office.

MINES AND MINING.

OWENS MINE SALE AT JULIAN OFF.

EASTERN INVESTORS DECIDE NOT TO BUY FAMOUS PROPERTY.

San Diego's Promising Camp Scene of Important Operations by Los Angeles Company—Big Smelter Trust Formed at Spokane, Wash.

Though negotiations have been pending for weeks it is learned from a reliable source that the sale of the well-known Owens mine in the Julian mining district of San Diego county has fallen through.

This property, together with the Washington mine, was bonded to Douglas, Lacey & Co. of New York, who have mining interests in various parts of the country, and it was thought that a sale would surely result, as the Owens was one of the important producers of that district before the mine was closed several years ago.

To the property holders in the Julian and Banner camp the failure of the sale is a keen disappointment, as it had been hoped by them that new capital would be interested in the section, which has shown flattering possibilities. Julian, though one of the oldest camps in this end of the State, is among the least active, lack of capital being the principal reason for this. Few properties are worked. The most important operations are carried on by a Los Angeles corporation backed by local capital. This corporation is known as the Julian Consolidated Mining Company, and it is at work in two promising properties. On what is known as the Helvetia mine, a ten-stamp mill is being operated by the company, which is also taking out of the same property ore carrying high values in telluride.

This company is really the only operator that is making anything like an effort to thoroughly develop its holdings, and managers of the concern express themselves as thoroughly satisfied with the results. Fifteen men are employed, and in all nearly 2000 feet of development is shown, the lowest working being 450 feet below surface croppings. Where exposed the ore is rich, and the superintendent reports an average width of five feet that carries $25 to the ton.

Recently a new shaft, a two-compartment affair, was started on the Helvetia by the company, which is also opening the High Peak. In the latter property an excellent grade of free-milling ore has been uncovered, and is being hauled to the company's mill.

There are few gold camps in the State that show greater possibilities than Julian, in spite of high shipping rates and the present inactivity. Since the discovery of gold-bearing rock in the Washington claim at Julian in 1870 the entire country has been taken up and between Julian and Banner, which lies four miles to the east, there are hundreds of prospect holes. In many, lerges of rock carrying high values were exposed, but owing to the lack of capital to carry on development, nearly all of these prospects have been closed, and will porbably remain so until the attention of outside capital has been enlisted. Though unable to stand the expense of development claim holders are so well satisfied with their properties that they will not, in most cases, entertain a fair offer, much less let go. There are, however, opportunities for investment and those who claim they can read signs aright predict a great revival during the coming winter.

M. Jacoby is among the first to start the ball, and now has men at work on three prospects.

Capt. Phillips of this city, who made an attempt to close a deal on the Owens property, is believed to be negotiating for other property in the camp, and if closed and operations begin other sales will probably follow.

Julian people are watching the construction of the smelter at San Diego with great interest, as it will make available the great bodies of "base" ore known to exist in the Julian camp. The importance of smelter facilities is shown in the fact that Julian has quantities of quartz which runs $600 to $1000 a ton, but from which only $60 to $100 a ton can be obtained by ordinary treatment.

San Diego is the natural supply center for the camp, and the cost of shipment by rail and stage a distance of sixty miles is about 50 cents per 100 pounds. Rates to Banner are even higher, as the grade between the two places is as steep as the lower end of a mansard roof. Though the distance is a little less than five miles the difference in altitude is 1725 feet.

Julian is the supply center for several new prospect fields, among them being the Grapevine and Boulder camps.

GIGANTIC COMBINE.

SMELTER TRUST FORMED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPOKANE (Wash.) Aug. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Rockefeller interests have joined hands with Charles Sweeney of Spokane in forming the Federal Mining and Smelting Company, with a capital of $30,000,000, to control the Coeur d'Alene lead mines and engage in a smelting business deal which is now being perfected in New York. This is the most important merger that has ever been attempted in the mining industry since the flotation of amalgamated Copper.

John A. Finch, representing the Standard and Mammoth mines of Coeur d'Alene, which will go into the combine, is now in New York perfecting details of the transfer.

A. B. Campbell, Finch's partner, said today: "It looks now as if consolidation will go through. I feel confident that Rockefeller interests are behind it. The deal will take in the Rockefeller mines and the Monte Cristo and the Everett smelter, which are owned by them. The deal is in the stock of the Standard Company, and is not for the property itself. I am not particularly anxious to see it go through, and I have not given any kind of an option on my personal holdings in the Standard. However, it looks as if it will be closed. I understand that there is $500,000 on deposit in New York now as the initial payment on the deal. The options which Sweeney holds will expire September 1. I do not care to state at what price the properties will be turned over. I understand the capital is $30,000,000."

Monday morning's sermon on "jarring loose" the points held in reserve in the scholarship contest seems to be generally heeded by the contestants. They "jarred loose" in great chunks yesterday. Miss Pedelty of Santa Ana, who had maintained the lead for a week, "jarred loose" on Tuesday to the extent of 3541 points, and apparently took a rest yesterday, which proved fatal to her leadership.

Miss Jeanette Bower, who was content to play second fiddle while Miss Pedelty was having her great run, "jarred loose," herself, yesterday to the extent of 6281 points, bringing her score up to the grand total of 65,578, a plurality of 2508 over Miss Pedelty. Thus is the name of the young Pasadena housekeeper once more brought to the top of the column. Whether she will be able to keep it there, remains to be seen. Miss Pedelty is just as solid in the esteem of the people down Orange county way as Miss Bower is in Pasadena and other places where she is known. The Santa Ana young lady's friends will hardly give up their determination to keep their favorite in the lead, and more "jarring loose" in that direction may be expected to take place, and that very soon.

Miss Bowers' many admirers will no doubt rejoice to see her in the lead again, and the many unknown friends who have been supporting her will be glad to see her portrait in the paper this morning. Should the picture fail to do her justice, they will not be disappointed in the original when they see her, for Miss Bower has a pleasing personality and is well qualified to keep up the reputation of Pasadena for the beautiful and good in everything, especially girls.

MISS BOWER'S POPULARITY.

But handsome is who handsome does. Miss Bower's claim to popularity is based on something higher than mere personal charms. It is her beautiful character and general helpfulness to others that makes her adored. Few girls of her age have had greater responsibilities thrust upon them than Jeanette has, ever since she was but a slip of a girl. Although yet under 17 she has practically been the housekeeper for a good-sized family for several years. Her mother, who died a few weeks ago, was a helpless invalid for many months before her death, and Jeanette had to assume the cares of the household and literally be a mother to three younger children. Her father is well advanced in years and in reduced circumstances, so that he cannot afford to hire servants or give his young daughter the education that she craves. Under such difficulties the brave girl has set out to earn one of the scholarships and cash prizes that The Times is offering to young people in need of them and capable of earning them.

Miss Bower was born in Decatur, Ill., December 3, 1886. Her family came to California some years ago and settled at Long Beach where Mr. Bower kept a seaside hotel for several years. Three years ago Miss Bower was awarded a prize for being the most popular girl in Long Beach, and her popularity there and elsewhere that she has lived has never waned. Since removing to Pasadena Miss Bower has finished the eighth grade of the public schools and is now desirous of attending some business college in order to fit herself for a commercial position. She has all the qualifications for making a good stenographer or bookkeeper, and if she succeeds as well in school and office work as she has with her housekeeping, she will have no difficulty in finding steady and lucrative employment. Jeanette does the family washing as well as the cooking and baking, and her hot biscuits are said to be unexcelled.

A large proportion of the support Miss Bower has received in the scholarship contest has come from Colton, Riverside, Long Beach, Hueneme, Los Angeles, Alhambra, San Gabriel and a dozen other places, as well as Pasadena. In fact, she has fared most generously at the hands of strangers, to whom she feels profoundly grateful.

MORE "JARRING LOOSE."

Florence Darch, the little Throoper from Throop Polytechnic Institute, who wants another year in that splendid institution, has registered a gain of 4990 in the last two days, and is holding down third place, although closely pursued by the future Senator from Gardena, Porter Blackburn, who has gained 4145 points so far this week, and is fourth in the running.

The "Pearl of Whittier," Miss Ellis, "jarred loose" 3547 points yesterday, and has moved up to fifth place again. The Whittier-Downey-Rivera people are giving Miss Ellis most loyal support, and she is deserving of every bit of it, as that highly-prosperous section of the San Gabriel Valley could not have a more worthy representative in the contest. The Rivera-Downey-Whittier girls are always among the most successful in the contests, and reflect credit on their constituents.

MISS BALL BEATS ALL.

But the biggest "jar" of all, and the record-breaker of the present contest, was made yesterday by Hazel Merle Ball, the junior "Pride of the Peatlands." If the size of the subscriptions to The Times that Miss Ball is getting from the peatlanders is any criterion of their prosperity and of their pride in the little candidate for a Conservatory of Music scholarship, then they must be very proud of her, indeed, and about the most prosperous people in California.

Miss Ball gained 9232 points yesterday, representing one subscription for the Daily Times for five years, two subscriptions for two years, five for one year each, and several smaller ones. This not only goes to prove that the peatlanders have a plethora of cash, and that they are extraordinarily fond of Miss Ball, but also goes to show that the peatlanders thoroughly appreciate The Times and have unfounded confidence in its permanency and the ability of its editors to keep on publishing all the news all the time, and to "Stand sure, stand fast, stand firm, stand true," as the champion of the right in all things. The man who gave his subscription to Miss Ball for five years is H. Winters of Westminster. Heretofore three years has been the longest term for which any one prepaid a subscription to The Times to help a candidate for a scholarship. A number have paid for two years during the present contest, but the mark set by Mr. Winters for Miss Ball is one that is not likely to be exceeded.

Miss Ball's big windfall took her up from ninth to sixth place, and the "High Five" will have to do some lively hustling to keep ahead of her when she gets ready to make her next jump.

OTHERS ON THE JUMP.

"Don" Manuel Saenz "jarred loose" 4017 points on Monday, but gained only 94 yesterday, so he fell back to seventh place.

Miss Hibbard of Pomona has made a gain of 4131 in the last two days, but Miss Ball's coup put her back from seventh to eighth place.

Miss Templeton has about cleaned up her territory, and is looking for new fields. She has averaged less than a thousand a day this week, but it is no fault of hers. She simply did not get to a place where the points are to be had. She has slipped back to ninth place, but expects to retrieve lost ground very soon.

Miss Beckingsale is keeping up her steady pace and moves along in tenth place, but Georgia Pitts of Redlands is crowding her uncomfortably close. Miss Pitts scored a gain of 6034 yesterday, which brought her very near the goal of again being one of the "Upper Ten."

Elizabeth Dehmlow still remains in great favor as a worthy candidate to support, and her score is growing at the rate of a couple of thousand a day. She gained 2400 yesterday, and is safe in twelfth place for some time to come, unless the unexpected happens.

Mabel Brown gained 1000 yesterday, and Ethel Bryan 1065, both retaining their places as Nos. 13 and 14.

The old soldiers came to the rescue of their little pet, Blanche Marble, yesterday, and boosted her up 3125 points, again making her No. 15, and giving Vada Watson a backset to sixteenth place. Miss Watson's gain was 1076.

Other gains without gain or loss of position were as follows: No. 17, Lucille Zander, 300; No. 18, Josephine Den, 925; No. 19, C. Hix Thornburg, 1141; No. 20, Soh Sang Nan, 1481; No. 21, Cecil Paull, 1378; No. 22; Ines Lynn, 875; No. 23, Stella Callender, 1696.

George H. Webb, the young Covina giant, gained 840 and overtook Aubrey St. Clair, who retires to thirtieth place.

Lewis Nolan gained 761 points and got ahead of Bertha Randall, who occupied thirty-fourth place for some time, but has not been heard of very much of late.

[NEWS REPORTS FROM TIMES CORRESPONDENTS.]

PASADENA'S HUMANE SOCIETY IS BUSY.

MANY CASES OF CRUELTY TO HORSES REPORTED.

Even Preachers do Not Escape—Merritt's New Auto Will be a Wonder. Car Barn Muddle Continues Muddling. Large Street Job.

PASADENA, Office of The Times, [illegible] South Raymond avenue, Aug. 12.—It's going to be pretty hard for the man who habitually works off his dyspepsia, animosity and motor perturbation upon his long-suffering horses. So says the Pasadena Humane Society, recently organized. The members are constantly holding meetings and listening to reports of cruelties practiced on beast and child. So far it has not been necessary to make any strenuous action, but as soon as it is necessary, the society will come forward with all sorts of punishment.

At the meeting yesterday several cases were reported. It was stated that the wagons of Simons Bros., with connections, are loaded out of all proportion to the hauling capacity of the horses attached thereto. Same party with L. E. Crane, the Los Angeles and Pasadena expressman, [illegible] those horse, it is said, ought to be [illegible] and receive in addition [illegible] considerable amount of back pay. Another express horse is a mere travesty on the word. The only thing about him that suggests speed is a [illegible] sore on his flank. Sylvester Holmes and brother, colored expressmen, were accused of trundling [illegible] and things, using as locomotive power a horse that would have gray whiskers if it were a goat. The expressmen were spoken to and put on [illegible] admonished in throwing him clear of the wheels, but in doing so was unable to save himself, receiving painful injuries to his hip and numerous severe bruises. The boy was unhurt. The cart was completely demolished and the horse severely cut and bruised.

A horse and surrey belonging to William H. Overholtzer, a Covina rancher, ran away from the Santa Fé depot at Azusa, colliding on Azusa avenue with a buggy driven by Miss Maggie Breakey and Miss Etta Crouse, Covina young women, throwing the former out. Both girls were shaken and bruised, but not seriously injured.

Building Inspector has issued permits to the amount of $65,000, which breaks a record for the number of handsome houses. The houses are all of the better class, costing from $3000 to $7000.

"Mark Twain" recently wrote to Real Estate Agent W. L. Wotkyns for photographs of houses in Pasadena that might be rented. Shortly afterward, however, one of his family was taken ill and he wrote that he could not come out here at present.

The trades unions have planned a programme of sports to be given at Tournament Park on Labor Day. An effort is being made to have the business houses closed on that occasion.

J. B. Pidgeon, accused of creating quite a flutter at the Baker House on Union street Monday night, was quite penitent yesterday morning and got off with a fine of $15.

COVINA.

NO TAX ON HONESTY.

COVINA, Aug. 11.—The City Trustees, sitting as a Board of Equalization, last night reduced several assessments as turned in by the tax-payers in instances where the board considered that the valuations were more liberal than those turned in by the majority of adjacent property owners. The board went on record as opposed to taxing a man for his honesty. The assessed valuation on all ranch property within the city limits was put in at figures far lower than Ward's county assessment.

TWO RUNAWAYS.

An automobile running at a high rate of speed caused a runaway on Citrus avenue last evening, resulting in serious injuries to horse and driver. John Gauldin was returning from Azusa, driving a pacing mare and cart belonging to Frank McCord, assistant Secretary of the Covina Fruit Exchange. Near the Southern Pacific railroad crossing the auto came up behind him without warning, causing the horse to plunge violently, upsetting the cart. Gauldin had his 8-year-old son with him on the seat, and succeeded in throwing him clear of the wheels, but in doing so was unable to save himself, receiving painful injuries to his hip and numerous severe bruises. The boy was unhurt. The cart was completely demolished and the horse severely cut and bruised.

A horse and surrey belonging to William H. Overholtzer, a Covina rancher, ran away from the Santa Fé depot at Azusa, colliding on Azusa avenue with a buggy driven by Miss Maggie Breakey and Miss Etta Crouse, Covina young women, throwing the former out. Both girls were shaken and bruised, but not seriously injured.

CLAREMONT.

COLLEGE NEWSLETS.

CLAREMONT, Aug. 11.—Miss Marielina Phelps and Miss Grace Thomas returned last night from Berkeley. Miss Phelps has been studying at the Berkeley Summer School, and will enter next month upon her second year as acting principal for young women at Pomona College; Miss Thomas, the college bookkeeper, has been visiting her brother, Carl Thomas, whose home is in Berkeley.

Miss Lucy Wolcott left last night for Berkeley. She will take a year's course in higher mathematics and pedagogy and then enter upon teaching.

Miss Lillian Bartlett has gone to the State University to take a special course in Latin.

Miss Laura Bacon, a niece of Prof. A. D. Bissell, left yesterday for the north to take a year's course in modern languages at Berkeley.

Dr. George S. Sumner has written from Paris. He has visited London, Edinburgh and Glasgow, and this week he will go into Germany. He will leave England on his return trip early in September, and assume his duties in the chair of history and economics the latter part of the month.

William L. Jencks and Ernest F. Bent, Pomona College, have returned to Lytle Creek Cañon after a brief visit with friends here.

J. N. Roof and family have gone to Laguna Beach for an outing of a week.

MONROVIA.

GAS PLANT PROMISED.

MONROVIA, Aug. 11.—A movement is on foot for the establishment of a gas plant in Monrovia. A number of capitalists are looking up the situation and they find an opening here for a business of this kind. They announce that they will invest considerable capital in putting in an up-to-date plant, furnishing not only gas for light, but also for heating and cooking purposes. Such a plant would immediately find a large business.

BY THE WAY.

Telephone service in the local system has been suspended this week, while the new system is being installed. The Monrovia Home Telephone Company is moving into its new office on Myrtle avenue, and a large force is connecting up the new wires. Party lines will be done away with.

R. A. Eno, who recently came from Long Beach, and has invested largely in Monrovia real estate, is thoroughly remodeling the McCabe lodging-house on Orange street.

The Hawkeye Land and Lot Company is preparing to open an office on Orange street. It will be in charge of E. W. Kidder of Long Beach.

Mrs. L. W. Hazen will build two cottages on Ivy street, north of White Oak avenue.

Pacific Electric engineers are surveying on Myrtle, White Oak, Lemon and other avenues, preparatory to the extension of the line in Monrovia before the franchise expires, in October.

P. L. Mitchell of Harrison, Miss., is visiting his friend and former fellow student, W. L. Walker.

L. S. Calvin and Mrs. Graves of Long Beach have each purchased lots on East Lime street with the expectation of improving them with buildings.

B. W. Gerhart has returned home from a month's visit to his old home in Clarksville, Tenn.

W. A. Walker will build a cottage on Lime street, west of Myrtle avenue.

Andrew H. Walker and Miss Glenn Price were married this morning at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton A. Sargeant, Lime and Magnolia streets. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. M. Fisher, and was witnessed by the families of the young people, who are recent graduates of the High school. After the ceremony they left for a short visit to Catalina Island.

A Sure Cure for Diarrhoea.

Any one who has given it a trial will tell you that the quickest, surest and most pleasant remedy in use for this disease is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. There is no loss of time when it is used as one or two doses of it will cure any ordinary attack.—[Adv.

VETERANS WILL CAMP AT LONG BEACH.

TENTED HABITATIONS WILL BE CLOSE TO THE WAVES.

Grounds to be Dressed for the Coming of the Warriors of the Sixties. Christians Discuss Their Frontier. Bath-house Thief Caught.

LONG BEACH, Aug. 11.—It was decided this afternoon that the coming encampment of the Southern California Veterans' Association is to be held in Long Beach.

The decision was reached at a meeting held at the home of Maj. Thomas McE. Brady, commander of the association, in this city. The Council of Administration (being practically the Executive Committee) of the association was represented by Commander Brady, Quartermaster J. B. Summons of El Monte, Senior Vice-Commander J. W. Van Horn of Los Angeles, Junior Vice-Commander A. B. Paul of Santa Ana, A. L. Petri of Pasadena, J. H. Lewis of Pomona, J. G. Parish of Long Beach, J. L. Hattery of Highland and E. W. Gilbert of Long Beach. Representing the Long Beach Board of Trade were P. E. Hatch, president, and J. A. Miller, secretary.

One of the chief reasons from which proceeded the recent uncertainty as to the location of the camp and the receiving of a bid from Santa Monica was the matter of the location of the proposed site in Long Beach. It was at first arranged that the site should be on the beach west of the bathhouse. Difficulties arose over the question of that site, and the Long Beach Board of Trade sought to procure some other site near the beach, but on the higher ground back of the bluff.

That arrangement was not entirely satisfactory to the representatives of the association, and the Board of Trade secured for the veterans the ground in front of the bluff east of the foot of Locust avenue. That site seems to be entirely satisfactory. It is near the tracks of the Pacific Electric Railroad Company, which has subscribed $300 toward the encampment expenses, and is also close to the Long Beach station of the Salt Lake Railroad Company, which has subscribed $150 toward the expenses. The line of the Southern Pacific, which company has not subscribed, does not run so near the camp site.

The ground, a large part of which is earthy rather than sandy, is to be prepared at the expense of the Long Beach subscribers. They agree to grade and clean the ground, to pipe water onto the grounds for the free use of the occupants, to lay a plank walk and to furnish electric lights. The Long Beach people are also to provide 100 tents, 12x14 feet, with four-foot walls, an assembly tent that will have seating accommodations for about three thousand people, and to board the Fife and Drum Corps. The Long Beach people also give $250 in cash. The officers of the veterans' association have decided to lower the rate for private tents to $2 each for the ten days of the encampment.

The steam roads have offered a rate of one and one-third fare from interior points to the encampment.

The veterans have voted thanks to the Santa Monica people for the offer made by them for the encampment.

CHRISTIANS REACHING OUT.

Enterprises for "getting more business" from a religious standpoint were presented today at the meetings of the Southern California Convention of Churches of Christ. Rev. Grant K. Lewis presided, and missionary subjects were discussed. William F. Cowden of Tacoma, Wash., superintendent of missions for the Northwest for the American Christian Missionary Society, delivered an address. The Christian Missionary Society of Southern California and Arizona held a session in which the following-named officers were chosen for the coming year: President, Rev. Grant K. Lewis of Long Beach, reflected; vice-president, Rev. J. W. Utter of Covina; secretary, Rev. J. P. Ralston of Orange, reflected; treasurer, A. K. Crawford of Los Angeles.

The Christian Woman's Board of Missions will hold its convention in the Tabernacle Wednesday morning and afternoon.

EPISCOPAL BAZAAR.

Ladies of the Guild of St. Luke's Episcopal Church gave a dinner and bazaar at the Long Beach bathhouse today in the interest of the fund for the building of a parish house. The arrangements were generally in charge of Miss Blanche Ayles, president of the Woman's Guild. Among the other ladies who assisted in the undertaking were Mrs. C. J. E. Taylor, Mrs. W. S. Stevens, Misses Lena Duden, Ruth Brayton, Harrett, Marjorie Tucker, Nora Taylor, A. Allman, Sophia Johnson, Kathleen Davis, Mrs. F. Coffin, Mrs. Phebe Davis, Mrs. A. D. G. Grieve, Miss Scales, Miss Childs, Mrs. E. V. Griffes, Mrs. J. W. Tucker, Miss Grace Losee, Miss Bessie Losee, Miss King, Mrs. Kenniston and the girls of the Junior Auxiliary.

BAPTISTS' ANTICIPATIONS.

A large part of the programme of the Long Beach Baptist Assembly of Southern California, which is to be at the Tabernacle from the 23d to the 30th inst., has been arranged under direction of Rev. Arthur Leonard Wadsworth of Monrovia, president of the assembly. Rev. Dr. W. H. Walker is engaged for the Bible-study department. James Edmunds of Portland, Or., will lecture in the teachers' training department Mrs. Charles A. Baskerville has charge of the children's training department.

One of the features will be a lecture on the 27th inst. on "Rainbow Chasers," by Rev. Robert J. Burdette.

Among the musicians who are to appear are Miss Harriett Marie Cropper of Chicago, soprano soloist; Miss Estelle Hart, Prof. J. P. Dupuy, Elliott Beemer, Miss M. Ella Wadsworth, Mrs. Frank L. Norton, Mrs. A. L. Wadsworth, Miss Blanche Williams and Miss Aileen Northrup.

BATH-HOUSE THIEF CAUGT.

George Carson and some friends went bathing at the bath-house Monday afternoon and neglected to leave their valuables at the office. When they returned from their bath Carson missed a $10 gold piece and one of his friends two $5 gold pieces. The matter was reported to City Marshal Williams and Officer Fred Phillips, and suspicion fell on Walter Hagman, late of the State of Washington, who had been employed at the bathhouse for a short time. Officer Phillips took Hagman into custody this morning and secured from him a confession of the theft of the missing money. Before Justice Brayton Hagman pleaded guilty to a charge of petty larceny and was sentenced to sixty days in the County Jail on account of the Carson money. The case of the other man's $10 is still pending.

BEACH SHORT ITEMS.

William Chapman, an expressman, was arrested today and brought before Justice Brayton on a charge of cruelty to animals, as preferred by W. C. Taylor, a resident of the interior. Taylor, who is in Long Beach on a vacation, accuses Chapman of overworking and underfeeding an animal. Chapman pleaded not guilty, and his trial was set for Thursday.

J. C. F. Hull, cashier of a national bank of Bucyrus, O., Orra E. Monnette, an attorney of that city, and M. J. Monnette, a stockman of Omaha, Neb., were guests today of their old acquaintance, Dr. L. A. Perce, of Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Masters of New York, Miss M. C. Meek of Colorado Suprings, J. C. Smith and family of Palo Alto, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Smith of Santa Ana, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Curran of Albuquerque, N. M., Miss E. West of Pasadena, Miss H. Morford of Los Angeles, Eben White and family of Longmont and John McFarland of Riverside, are staying at the Julian.

A. G. Hubbard and family of Redlands, E. M. Gould of Pasadena, Mrs. M. B. Main and Miss F. E. Main of Los Angeles, L. McGivers and family of Longmont, Colo., J. W. Burns, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lynch, and D. H. Smith of Los Angeles, Clarence Bates and Charles F. Beavers of Pomona, G. S. Scott of Newport, Ky., Don Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Bourn and Mr. and Mrs. Goff of Los Angeles, Samuel D. Yeo and Harry R. Stowe of Redlands, Walter Oleson of Tonopah, Nev., W. B. Culross of Redlands, Mrs. M. Louise Brown of Bakersfield, Charles C. Chapman and family of Fullerton, F. H. Post of Pasadena, Charles P. Mays and daughter of Washington, D. C., Rev. and Mrs. John Munro of Fernald, Cal., and Mrs. E. A. Stowe of Redlands, are quartered at the Del Mar.

Miss Bessie Belle Thew of Grand Rapids, Mich., H. Heues of Ballarat, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Tapson of Pasadena, E. B. Knox of Arizona, Mrs. W. J. Shields of Los Angeles, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Roberts of Pasadena, J. B. Anderson of Washington, D. C., L. E. Leavitt of Los Angeles, G. Moon of Buena Park, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Kuesthardt and C. A. Naftel of Pomona, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Jackson, of Los Angeles, W. Thornberry Webber of St. Louis, Mo., Arthur Deal of Phoenix, Eugene L. Harris of El Paso, Tex., George R. Smith of Santa Ana, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chapman of Fullerton, Mrs. M. E. Hatchitt of Fullerton, George E. Butler of Needles, Mrs. J. W. Day, Miss Cora Willard, and Miss Irene Willard of Riverside, Mr. and Mrs. A. Throop and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Colegrove of South Pasadena, and M. M. Carey and family of Pasadena are staying at the Riviera.

SAN PEDRO.

SCHOOL BONDS VOTED.

SAN PEDRO, Aug. 11.—At a special election held today for bonds in the sum of $6000, to be used in fitting out the new high school, the issue was carried almost unanimously. The vote was very light, as there was practically no opposition to the measure.

HARBOR TOWN PICKINGS.

If daily newspapers have anything to do with the growth of a town, San Pedro will be a great city in a short while. There are now two dailies here—The Times and The Journal—and it is announced that another will begin publication in a week or two, which is to be known as The News.

Atwood Ames was arrested yesterday, charged with having assaulted Capt. M. Duffy, the ferryman, with a deadly weapon. It is believed Ames is crazy, as he can give little or no excuse for his actions.

The Seaside Water Company has commenced to lay 12-inch pipes from the large new reservoir into the city. A long ditch has been dug to Wilmington, and it is here that the force mains will be laid. It is expected that the company's new system will be in use within a month or two now.

REDONDO.

BEACH NOTES.

REDONDO, Aug. 11.—The City Marshall reports collections of $2528 for July, and the Treasurer has a balance of $467.44.

An ordinance passed the first reading in the City Council last night, granting a franchise to the Los Angeles and Redondo Railway for a new wharf.

Elmer Hathaway, the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Hathaway, died Sunday after an illness of four weeks. The remains were interred yesterday at the Redondo cemetery.

Walter Rorick, about 14 years of age, living on Seventh street, Los Angeles, had a narrow escape from drowning yesterday in the plunge. The boy cannot swim a stroke, and dived into what he thought was shallow water, but which was six feet deep. He was going down for the last time when Mr. Lord, a bather, rescued him. Dr. King was summoned, but it was over an hour before the lad was out of danger.

The school trustees have purchased three lots adjoining the school grounds on Emerald street, so as to give the children larger playgrounds.

Henry and Vess Usrey, Miss Ollie Usrey and Mrs. Lottie Neath will leave Wednesday for Catalina Island, where they will remain a week.

Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Venable and children and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cavanah will leave Thursday for Elsinore Springs to spend about a month.

Mrs. W. H. Tonsey and Miss Tonsey of Bay City, Mich., will spend the remainder of the summer at Hotel Redondo.

The arrivals at the Tent City the past two days are James Monroe, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Blair and James S. Hardman and family, Los Angeles; S. B. Rutherford and H. A. Rutherford, San Francisco.

J. H. Howe of San Francisco has taken apartments at the Redondo Hotel.

Mrs. James Kenne and Miss Kenne of Great Falls, N. D., arrived at the Redondo Hotel yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Wren entertained Monday evening at dinner at "Wren's Nest," Hermosa Beach, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Trueworthy of Los Angeles and Mrs. John Hinton and Miss Bessie Hinton of Hermosa.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Boggs of San Francisco are guests of Mrs. Hinton of Hermosa Beach.

In the Country.

"How savagely that cow looks at me," said the typewriter boarder from the city.

"I reckon as heow it be on account uv that air red waist yew've got on, miss," answered the old farmer.

"Dear me!" exclaimed the key-toying maid. "Of course it isn't quite up to date, but I had no idea a country cow would notice it."—[Chicago News.

OCEAN PARK MAKES AN AUDIBLE "HOLLER."

South Side Demands Better Protection Against Flames—Chinese Picnic Gaily by Sea—Baldest of All Fakes Doing Business—Seaside Items.

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 11.—Ocean Park people are persuaded that the time has come—in fact, that it arrived some time ago—for the establishment of a real fire-fighting service to protect the sunny, sandy South Side of Santa Monica against possible disaster by flames. That if a fire once gained the proportions of a conflagration in that section it would mean the ruin of this pretty and tindery half of the city, no one disputes. So a joint committee, composed of three members of the South Side volunteer fire department and three members of the North Side brigade, has been appointed to devise ways and means and report to the Board of City Trustees Monday night.

Many of the Ocean Park residents and property owners want the Trustees to provide for Ocean Park two new hose wagons and a chemical engine with a capacity of 100 gallons. The present equipment consists solely of one old hose wagon, formerly used on the North Side. The Ocean Park brigade has reached in size the dignity of thirty members, while the North Side has only thirteen volunteers enrolled, but is proudly supplied with a chemical engine that cost $3700; two horses that cost $400, and never yet have gone to a fire, because they balk every time the fire-gong sounds; one hose wagon, that goes to a fire by being hitched onto any old team that happens to be passing the engine-house opportunely; and a real, live fire chief who draws a salary of $10 a month and supports a large family of children.

This fire chief was appointed for Santa Monica and Ocean Park by the City Trustees, and has his official residence on the North Side. Naturally the Ocean Parkers feel they "have a kick coming" at that. They think they should have had a voice in saying to whom the $10 a month should be paid, and that the Trustees had the right to ratify, but not to appoint. This phase of the present commotion is really quite serious.

Also, the South Siders snort because they have to pay their share of a salary of $75 a month which goes to a man whose duty it is to feed and groom the two horses that never yet have run to a fire, and care for the chemical engine which, though it has been in commission four years, has never yet extinguished a blaze.

But, in one respect at least, Ocean Park has the best of the situation—i.e., in the matter of pressure. For by virtue of the reservoir just completed, there's sixty pounds behind the nozzle—even if it is only an hypothetical nozzle—in Ocean Park, while North Siders consider themselves in fine luck if they scrape together enough pressure to coax the water as far as the business end of the hose. Therefore, Santa Monica (proper) lifts its eyebrows and wiggles its ears when Ocean Park says, "Two new hose carts and a 100-gallon chemical, please."

The joint committee is to meet at the engine-house Friday evening and decide what to say to the Trustees Monday night, and how to say it.

NEW TELEPHONE SYSTEM.

Miss Alice Baxter, local manager of the Sunset Telephone Company, states that the work of rebuilding the system throughout Santa Monica and consolidating with it the Ocean Park service, is about to be begun. A carload of poles has arrived, and quantities of heavy copper wire, to replace the galvanized-iron lines now in use, are being unloaded here. The poles will be placed in the alleys, and those now disfiguring the streets will be removed. The rebuilding of the system will include the abandonment of the Ocean Park branch, and the installing of one "central" through which Santa Monica, Ocean Park and Short Line beach calls will be operated, thus doing away with considerable annoyance and loss of time.

Next Sunday's crowds will be regaled with a programme of free beach entertainment, whose chief feature will be a balloon ascension by "Prof." Bert Addis. The ascension will be paid for by the Chamber of Commerce, and will be the first in Santa Monica in several years. The balloonist will soar from Linda Vista Park, Sunday afternoon.

MARVELOUS MONSTROSITY!

All doubts as to the full, final and official arrival of "the season" at Santa Monica-by-the-Sea have been ceremoniously set at rest by the appearance of "Ortega, the world's greatest living monstrosity. It costs but 5 cents to see him!" The faker travels with the season, and when the faker arrives at a resort the "full-blast" sign is hung out. So, now that "Ortega has came," the Santa Monica midsummer season is truly "on." The world's greatest living monstrosity is insconced in a sawdust-padded pit on the North Beach. Over this pit is built a bunting-bedecked, rough-board booth, wherein stands the monstrosity's owner and barks aloud for nickels. He wears an aged mustache, and flourishes a crook-headed cane, and spiels between every third breaker. Having paid your nickel, you are permitted to gaze into the pit and view the monstrosity. You expected to shudder and draw back. But you don't.

"Where's the monstrosity?" you ask, perplexedly.

"Where?" gasps the barker. He doesn't like your tone. "Where? Why, doggone it, don't you see?"

"Oh, that?" you drawl, mildly. "Why, is that what I paid a nickel to see? Huh!" Then, catching the humor of the fake, you burst into a loud guffaw. It makes the barker mad. "Of course, if you don't know anything about animals," he snarls, "you can't appreciate Ortega; but, all the same, you are beholding nature's greatest living monstrosity, one of the strangest examples of freak life to be found in all——"

"Santa Monica," you append. For "Ortega" is simply a dirty-brown long-eared, stiff-legged, wall-eyed, ragged-tailed son-of-a-gun of a California burro.

Verily, the season is "on."

CHINESE PICNICKERS.

Sixty gayly-garbed Chinese women and kiddies, wives and children of the Chinese merchants of Los Angeles, picnicked at North Beach today, returning home by electric car a couple of hours before dusk. It was the fifth annual outing given by the Congregational churches of Los Angeles and Pasadena. An elaborate luncheon was served on the "sands by the sounding sea." Some of the Celestial youngsters had never before looked upon the ocean. They had a most high time.

SALT AIR WHIFFS.

After spending a week as the guests of Mrs. W. H. Anderson and L. A. Calhoun at Ocean Park, Miss Viola Winters and Miss Elsie Leslie of New York have departed from Santa Monica for the East. Miss Winters is the daughter of William Winters, the poet and celebrated critic. Miss Leslie is none other than the original Lydia Languish in "The Rivals," the character whose clever creation lifted Miss Leslie with one swing into theatrical fame. During their brief stay at the Ocean Park sands Miss Winters and Miss Leslie remained incog to all but a few elect. They enjoyed themselves immensely, and hope to come back for a longer visit next year.

Orrin Hiele was sent to jail today to serve a sixteen days' sentence for drunkenness. A few weeks ago Hiele served eight days for the same offense.

Mrs. Ward, after six years spent with her people in England, has returned to Santa Monica, and will make her home with her sister, Mrs. John T. Gaffey.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Wandling of Los Angeles have taken a cottage at Ocean Park.

Mrs. I. M. Hollingsworth of Ocean Park is spending two weeks with friends in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. John Spencer of Waterbury, Ct., are the guests of Mrs. S. A. Thomas, Ocean Park.

Mrs. O. R. Buckman of Sacramento has taken the Doria as her residence for the remainder of the season.

Recent arrivals at the Arcadia are Miss Chrisope, H. I. Seward, Mrs. George W. Walker, Miss Ethelwyn Walker, Miss Hattie Molloy, George W. Walker, R. M. enny, wife and maid, Henry J. Stephens, Dan K. Damillard, Los Angeles; Mrs. M. E. Sumner, Miss Sara N. Taylor, H. B. Heffley, C. M. Carothers, Pittsburgh, Pa.; A. D. Harard and family, New Orleans; Miss M. E. Millard, Baltimore; Miss Stella Marshall, Bunker, La.; Miss L. Lunin, Chicago; C. Godfred Patterson and wife, Dwight Patterson, New York.

We are on the other end of your 'phone. Telephone your wants to Main 95, and our Santa Monica Agency will take your ad. and send it to the main office.

FISH CARRY TORCHES AT SANTA CATALINA.

Excited Boatman Sees Electric-lamp What-is-it Within a Few Feet, and Others Behold Flashes on the Moonlit Sea.

AVALON, Aug. 11.—Catalina hides her time, but she gets there in great shape. The fish stories from this port have been of rather a mild character so far this season, but last night brought out one from the isthmus that is a thunderer. Pete Lubetich, the steward at the clubhouse, was out for an evening siesta with a young lady in a rowboat, after the close of the open-air concert by the band. Rowing out about a mile or so he was resting on his oars as the full moon beamed down upon him and the twinkling lights at Avalon, like diamonds in their setting of moonlit hills and dark cañons, scintillated sparks of light and other things into the heart of the rower. Suddenly they were startled by the appearance of a bright light a hundred yards to seaward, which they supposed emanated from a boat. Soon another light became visible, nearer, and presently there were four of them, appearing and disappearing in their vicinity. The lights beamed out refulgent, and the waters were illuminated by the moon's rays, yet they saw no boats from which the lights could proceed. Pete was mystified, and taking up his oars he vigorously pulled toward them. They were separating, and going like the mill tails of hell, and that it "going some." The lights would show up as brilliantly as a half dozen 32-candle-power incandescent bulbs, strung together, then would disappear most mysteriously, to reappear a few seconds later, playing hide and seek with the waves. Pete was pulling with might and main, when one of the lights was observed approaching them. He stopped. The light disappeared in the water for an instant, and when it reappeared it was within ten feet of his boat. To his utter amasement the brilliant light showed that it emanated from a fish, apparently twelve or fifteen feet in length, having a long flat head, and the body appearing more like an alligator minus its legs, than a fish. It was so near that Pete raised his oar to strike it, but the young woman frantically besought him not to do so. She was thrown into a hysterical condition, bordering on collapse, seeing which Pete turned shoreward, urged on greater speed at every stroke by his frenzied companion. When they reached the shore the lights were still visible at intervals, and they called the attention of several persons to them as they shot across the waters at great speed. The apparition was witnessed by several persons, and Pete, after seeing his friend safely home, lost no time in hunting up The Times correspondent. It was 11:30 o'clock, but so earnest was he that the phenomenon should be explained that he insisted on the correspondent accompanying him to the scene. As the two embarked the strange light, going at a rate which seemed fabulous for anything in the nature of a boat, was seen passing to the eastward. The two hurried toward the light, but after several disappearances it finally failed to reappear. Pete kept up the patrol until 1 a.m., when The Times man, unused to such unseemly hours, compelled the enthusiastic and thoroughly excited clubman to return to shore, without having solved the enigma. He proposes to be on hand tonight with a gatling gun and if any sort of a fish carrying torches or electric lights comes within range it will be "lights out" for the fish.

HURT BY FALL.

Frank New, son of Gen. A. L. New, while bathing yesterday afternoon, mounted the rail at the outer end of the bath-house wharf preparatory to taking a dive. His foot slipped, and, losing his balance, he was precipitated to the float, alighting on his feet. The fall was so forcible that both ankles were sprained, and the ligaments of the right foot were torn from their places, and badly lacerated. He will be confined to his room for several weeks, in all probability.

SEA-ISLE RIPPLES.

Capt. C. L. Griffith, wife, child and nurse, with the Sunbeam yesterday, after catching all the fish they cared for at Ship's Rock, went ashore at Howlands and had a fish fry, which with other comestibles, made a fine luncheon and an enjoyable occasion. This morning the captain and his wife had as guests Mrs. Dr. Burgess and Mrs. Dr. Burk of San Francisco. They got two fish, Mrs. Burgess taking a 25-pound yellowtail and Mrs. Burk a rock bass.

J. O. Wells and wife and U. S. Smith and wife of Monrovia, with the Catalina, yesterday secured 15 yellowtail and 20 rock bass.

F. M. Boswell of Boswell & Noyes, druggists of Los Angeles, is here for a three weeks' stay.

George H. Campbell of the Knight-Campbell Music Company of Denver, with his wife, Misses Bertha and Marjorie and Clarence Campbell, and Miss Snow Longley of Los Angeles are here for a few days.

D. J. Carpenter, a prominent merchant of San Bernardino, was among today's arrivals on the Hermosa.

Mrs. C. M. McNeill of Colorado Springs, and Mrs. T. B McCauley have become expert sailors, and are the captain, mate and crew of the Gertrude, their little sailing yacht. They sail their own craft, and do it beautifully.

Mrs. Tupman, a prominent lady of Richmond, Va., a great sufferer with woman's troubles, tells how she was cured.

"For some years I suffered with backache, severe bearing-down pains, leucorrhœa, and falling of the womb. I tried many remedies, but nothing gave any positive relief.

"I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in June, 1901. When I had taken the first half bottle, I felt a vast improvement, and have now taken ten bottles with the result that I feel like a new woman. When I commenced taking the Vegetable Compound I felt all worn out and was fast approaching complete nervous collapse. I weighed only 98 pounds. Now I weigh 109½ pounds and am improving every day. I gladly testify to the benefits received."—Mrs. R. C. Tupman, 423 West 30th St., Richmond, Va.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

When a medicine has been successful in more than a million cases, is it justice to yourself to say, without trying it, "I do not believe it would help me?"

Surely you cannot wish to remain weak and sick.

Mrs. Pinkham, whose address is Lynn, Mass., will answer cheerfully and without cost all letters addressed to her by sick women. Perhaps she has just the knowledge that will help your case—try her to-day—it costs nothing.

WHITTIER.

MARSHAL HIT ON NOSE.

WHITTIER, Aug. 11.—Grocer Hadley, who was arrested a few days ago for selling goods without paying the special city occupation tax, was arrested again this morning and taken before the City Recorder. Mr. Hadley resisted Marshal Foster, and in the scuffle the officer was marked. He was hit on the nose and on the head with an iron weight from the scales held in Hadley's hand. The Marshal called for assistance, and took Hadley to the city court, where a hearing was held, and he gave bonds to appear tomorrow. Another warrant was then served on him for assault, and he was released on bail. Considerable excitement exists in town over this case, as it promises to be a test of the legality of the city ordinance under which Hadley was arrested. The Jackson case, which is also an occupation-tax affair, will come up soon, and doubtless will settle the matter.

HOLLYWOOD.

GOOD FAITH IMPOSED UPON.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 11.—Many residents have been imposed upon by the circulators of a protest against the proposed change of name of Prospect avenue to "de Longpré" avenue. One A. A. Bynon, who edits a little weekly paper here—a very little sheet—has been making the principal howl against this appropriate change, and was instrumental in circulating the protest. In presenting the paper for signatures it was stated simply that there was a question of changing, no mention being made of the name proposed, which would have made a vast difference. Not knowing the circumstances many voters signed blindly and in good faith, and now find that they were imposed upon. It is said that a number whose signatures were thus obtained favor the name "de Longpré," which was kept in the background.

Hobson's Candidacy for Congress.

It is announced that Capt. Richmond Pearson Hobson, U.S.N., resigned, is to be a candidate for nomination to Congress next year in the Sixth Alabama District. Two reasons are given by the hero of the Merrimac for his ambition. In the first place, he is after revenge. The Hon. John Hollis Bankhead of Fayette, a self-educated gentleman, a tiller of the soil, a thrice-wounded and four-year follower of the Stars and Bars, a State legislator of many terms of service and a one-time warden of the Alabama Penitentiary, now holds the Sixth Alabama seat in the National House of Representatives, and has held it continuously since his election to the Fiftieth Congress. Capt. Hobson, on account of injured eyesight, asked to be retired, but the Secretary of the Navy was loath to lose his valuable services. He then appealed to Congress, and blames his home Representative with defeating the bill to retire him. "He caused me, in that way," says Hobson, "to resign from the navy. He will doubtless oppose me in the race." The second season why Capt. Hobson wishes to go to Congress is to push his "ideas concerning a larger navy for this country." One may look for a warm time in the Sixth Alabama next year. The district lies in the western part of the State, and embraces nine counties, bearing the honored and historic names of Marion, Lamar, Fayette, Walker, Pickens, Sumter, Green, Hale and Tuscaloosa. Last year it gave Bankhead 7841 votes, and W. B. Ford, Republican, 2798. It is one of those truly southern districts wherein the Democratic nominee has a walk-over. So the fight will be in the primaries between the farmer and the hero. The kissing qualities of the hero will be pitted against the hand shake of the farmer. The Sixth Alabama will add to the gayety of nations.—[Baltimore News.

PUBLIC PROTEST AGAINST BOYCOTT LITERATURE.

As evidenced by the Times of yesterday hundreds of the most prominent women of Los Angeles voiced their sentiments as to the unjust boycott against the Hamburger Store and in no uncertain terms stated their disgust for the band of boycottors who are so insulting as to send their untruthful letters to respectable people asking them no longer to trade at Hamburger's. The article referred to in the Times was entirely unsolicited on our part and is therefore doubly gratifying to us to know that the better element of Los Angeles so pointedly resent the despicable tactics of a band of untruthful labor agitators to injure not only the Hamburger Store but all of the business interests of Los Angeles. It certainly seems that these defamers have at last overreached themselves and that the organizations they represent will appreciate that public sentiment is strongly against boycott methods especially one so unjust as that on this store.
